The records of the Western Bureau in Alaska show that the average winter temperature of the ports of Prince William Sound, 30 degrees above zero, is the same as that of New York and Boston, and that of Nome (zero) is similar to that of Manitoba and Montreal.

It is of interest to note in connection with possible pulp plants in southeast Alaska that labor in Alaska is accustomed to work on a piece basis rather than on a time basis, and this would probably be reflected in the employment of labor for logging operations of pulp timbers.
