Articles of incorporation were filed Wednesday with the secretary of state for the Call Publishing Company of Centralia with a capitalization of $10,000. The check for the incorporation fee was signed by the secretary of the Farmer-Labor Call. The new publishing company will print a daily paper, magazines and journals. Two thousand shares of stock will be sold at $5 a share. The papers were presented to secretary of state J.

Grant Hinkle by Elmer Smith, I. W. W. attorney of Centralia who is at the present time out on bail. Smith was arrested at the time of the Centralia massacre of ex-service men by members of the I. W. W. and was tried at the Montesano court together with the accused assassins. Trustees for the new publishing company are Elmer Smith, Ralph Swayne, L. F. Dixon, Walter Ruble, J. C. Kingsbury and W. F. O'day.

STATE HOUSE NEWS

Articles of incorporation were filed Wednesday with the secretary of state for the Brown Farm company with a capitalization of $5,000. The farm is located on the Nisqually flats and is considered one of the most modern farms in Western Washington. It was sold at auction last year and since that time agents have been improving it for sale in small farm sites.

Chairman W. G. Potts, T. E. Skaggs and James J. Cameron of the state board of control will leave Monday October 4, for a week's tour of the state institutions. On October 4 and 5, they will visit the State School for the deaf and the State School for the blind at Vancouver. On October 6, 7 and 8 they will attend the quarterly meeting of the state board of pardons and paroles of the state penitentiary at Walla Walla. They will leave Walla Walla on the evening of October 8 for Medical Lake where they Wednesday with the sec. of state will inspect the Eastern Washington Hospital for the Insane and the State Custodial School, also located at Medical Lake. They expect to return to Olympia Monday, October 11.

The state public service commission received notice Wednesday from the Interstate Commerce Commission that they would hold a hearing October 4, at 10 o'clock in the United States Court Rooms in Seattle, of the cases of class and commodity rates between Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. The hearing will be held before Examiner Woodrow of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The hearing is on the proposed increase of class and commodity rates west of the Cascades and as it will affect shippers in this state to a great extent the state public service commission today forwarded letters to shippers in the state announcing the hearing.

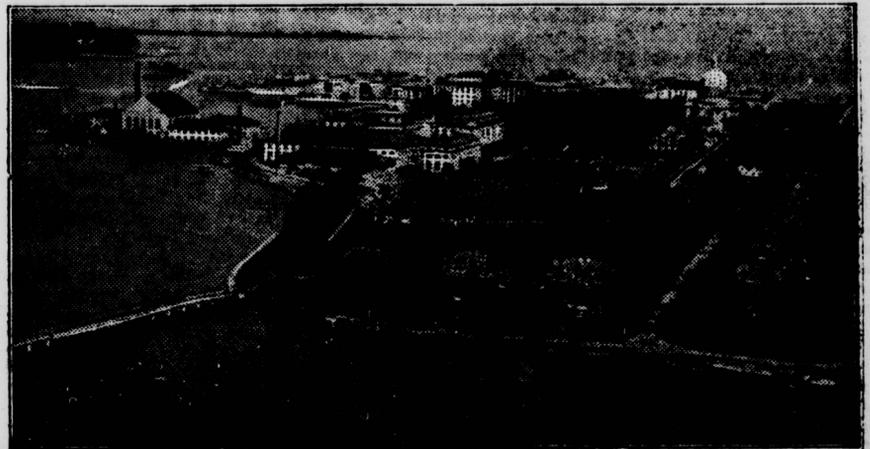

Mrs. Barbara Bartlett of the state nurses' examining board has sent her resignation to Governor Louis F. Hart. Mrs. Bartlett was appointed to this board by Governor Ernest Lister in February 1919. Her resignation becomes effective October 1, and her term of office had she remained on the board would not have expired until June 30, 1923. As Governor Hart is away from Olympia at the time no one has been named to succeed Mrs. Bartlett.

State Hydraulic Engineer Marvin Chase, chairman of the Columbia Basin Survey Commission, announced Wednesday that the report of the commission made on the Columbia basin project has just been received from the printers and is now ready for mailing. The report covers 184 pages and many elaborate illustrations.

Mrs. W. K. Kennedy of Tacoma, a member of the industrial welfare commission, sent her resignation Tuesday, to Governor Louis F. Hart to become effective at once. Mrs. Kennedy was appointed to the commission in January 1920 by Governor Hart for a term ending January 1, 1922. Dr. M. H. Marvin and Mrs. W. H. Udall, also members of the commission since its organization in 1914 resigned Monday after a meeting of the commission. Mrs. Kennedy was named to succeed Mrs. J. E. Burkey of Tacoma who also resigned. Her resignation reads as follows:

Achievement Versus Promises.
That James M. Cox is a man of action is obvious to the most casual observer who glances over the records of the two presidential candidates. As Governor of Ohio he has achieved those things which he now undertakes to accomplish for the nation.

Teachers' Pay.
Governor Cox understands the need for better schools and pledges himself to provide better pay for teachers.

TO THE END OF THE EARTH FROM ANNAPOLIS

The Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, From Which The Young Naval Officers Begins his Travels

Last week over two thousand young red-blooded, American boys commenced their studies at Annapolis. Practically every county in every State in the Union is represented at the Academy this year, and over one hundred men have been selected from the ranks to train for officers in this great institution.

The above picture of the grounds of the Naval Academy was taken from an aeroplane and shows the beautiful buildings, the athletic field the gymnasium (on the extreme left), the Chapel (on the extreme right), and the living quarters in the center of the picture. The quarters, Bancroft Hall, are large enough to accommodate over two thousand "middles" without crowding. The rooms, containing two men each, are commodious and light, and all have showers.

While the course at Annapolis is a strenuous one, it nevertheless fits our young Naval Officers to take their places among the best educated men of the world. And it may be said that his education is yet in its infancy when he finally graduates from this famous school. Travel is education, this cannot be denied, and although the young officer has made three summer cruises when he graduates, his travels have only commenced; for after getting out into the service he goes over the entire world.

Each year 100 enlisted men are Naval Academy. The highest honor ever attained by a midshipman graduating from the Academy was bestowed upon Wesley McL. Hague, an ex-enlisted man of the Navy. The men entering the institution from the ranks of the Navy bring to the other students an atmosphere of ship life; together with a certain amount of romance and a greater knowledge of what the service offers to the American youth to-day.

Has Kept Faith.

Governor Cox has kept faith with the people of Ohio as he would with the people of the United States.

Co-operation

The big idea in modern business is co-operation between groups of individuals as well as individuals of a group. The groceryman, the hardware dealer, the manufacturer, the farmer and the bank can all co-operate, with the result that their city will be more prosperous and its finances more stable.

Intelligent co-operation with all our customers has been responsible for the growth of this bank. Just the same as the merchants, we are in business for profit, but we aim to get this business through unselfish service to all our depositors, regardless of the size of their accounts, rather than through a selfish solicitation of large deposits.

It was the spirit of co-operation that helped win the war, and it is that same spirit that prevails at this bank. In order to fully appreciate our modern business methods you must be one of our 12,000 depositors.
