Crying For Bread

Photo International
New East Relief Workers Distributing Bread to Newly Arrived Armenian Refugees in Constantinople.

The Constantinople district of the Near East Relief is wonderfully organized. All the bakeries which formerly supplied the Turkish army, under German management, have been taken over by the Near East Relief, and 20,000 loaves of bread are baked and distributed daily. Placed side by side, these loaves would make a line 280 miles long, for the five months that the Near East Relief has operated its consolidated bakeries in Constantinople, alone. The Near East Relief, with offices in every state, is asking for funds to go on with this work.

WAITING FOR US TO SET THE TABLE

A table twenty-four miles long is plainly an extension table and that is just the length that would seat all of the orphans now being fed by the Near East Relief. This table is set in sections all over the hills of Asia Minor, Syria, Armenia and in Northern Persia. It is not in one piece. The Turks, who still keep the Armenians in a state of terror, do not allow it. But there the table is, seated on both sides with orphans—Syrian and

The Table is Now 24 Miles Long.

Assyrian, Greek and Armenian, Jew and Christian—all rescued from the fear of the Turk and under the care of American men and women. Most of the children are cared for in 229 American supported orphanages. The first ceremony in receiving these starved, almost naked children, is to clean them up. They are not only emaciated, but dirty with sores and vermin—60 hospitals and over 6,000 beds are kept full of the little sufferers. But the children keep changing. Last year they were all thin and pitiful; now it is the newcomers who are thin. The orphans who have been from six months to a year in American care are well fed and well clothed.

Best of all for a new Near East which surely must come out of all this distress, every child old enough is being taught a trade which will make him self supporting. They are a thrifty lot, these little parentless exiles. From their scant store of bread they always carry a portion in a small bag about their necks—they fear the day of another killing, another drive into the desert. They hothe the shoes sent from America until snow flies—they remember their barefoot pain in the snow last spring.

They cling to their new found friends. Every day other little waifs find a place in the orphanages and are told of the generous people of the United States. Soon the entrances will be crowded with children frozen out from their temporary summer quarters. Then the table of the Near East Relief must be extended—many, many new leaves will be needed, and America is asked to set the table.

C. B. MANN

There used to be a wooden building on the corner of 4th and Main street where Howey's Cash Grocery now is, in which Mr. C. B. Mann operated a drug store.

In the Fall of 1873 Mr. Talcott moved his bench and small stock of jewelry to the show window of Mr. Mann's store, where he was established for about one year.

In 1874 he moved across Main Street into a wooden lean-to building, now Crene's Restaurant, where he remained until 1876. Mr. Talcott had been in business then for four years. He was in a new country, a kousing man learning Western ways, and, together with that, establishing the real principles and foundations that would later aid this institution to grow into a serviceable, dependable institution.
