

FAIRVIEW

The special business meeting of the Fairview Improvement Club held last Wednesday evening was one of most interesting and successful the club has held in some time. With two exceptions the entire membership was present and a considerable bulk of business was taken up and disposed of after which a social evening was enjoyed.

The club purchased a baby grand Steinway piano last Thursday and have it installed in their new club house.

Quite a number from our midst attended the dance at Black Lake last Saturday night and report a splendid time.

Mr. R. N. Green and family have returned from their holiday trip to Portland and Mr. Green says he expects to resume operations at his mill within a week or so.

Mr. W. H. Clem of Olympia and Mr. and Mrs. Luedeker called at the Sheehan home at Plumb Station Sunday morning to inquire of Rodney Kendall who is very ill of pneumonia at that place. Though very ill at this time Mr. Kendall's friends hope he may have a speedy recovery.

The Improvement Club dance Saturday evening was both a social and financial success. Though not so largely attended still it was a most enjoyable affair and a bounteous supper was served at midnight by the supper committee. Another dance will be given next Saturday evening, January 15th, to which a very cordial invitation is extended.

PENINSULA

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Thompson have purchased a beautiful residence on East Sixth street and moved into the same.

George Chic had the misfortune to fall and hurt his side but is improving.

H. E. Davis, one of the very earliest settlers of the Peninsula, has sold his ranch. He will be greatly missed by his friends and neighbors here, as also his daughter, Mrs. Florence

Hartshorn will be, but our best wishes go with them to their new home.

Frank Clawson and Loren Whitney attended the funeral of Neighbor Miller Sunday. The services were conducted by the M. W. of A. and the Foresters.

Although we are having a little cold weather, we are glad not to have any snow with it.

Miss Viola Whitney returned from Bellingham, where she had been visiting friends for several days and is now back in her school at Summit.

COUNTRY CLUB BRIDGE LUNCHEON CHARMING AFFAIR

One of the most charming affairs of the week will be the bridge luncheon to be given Tuesday afternoon at the Olympia Golf and Country Club by Mrs. W. F. Lea. Luncheon will be served at six individual tables which will be centered with baskets of dainty blooms. Twenty-four guests have been invited to participate in the affair. Mrs. Lea will be assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. E. Odell, of Des Moines, Iowa who is visiting here for several months. Mrs. J. C. Hubbell of Ellensburg, wife of Representative Hubbell and Mrs. W. Y. Henry of Tacoma will be the only out-of-town guests present.

There is no sounder policy for a poor man than that contained in the homely phrase, "Grade up." By working to a standard of excellence year after year a man of small means following this method will be encouraged with his own improvement. Certainly it is an economical way. A bull is one-half the herd—sometimes easily the biggest half. It is a thrifty way to start.

The woman who sings at her work is the woman whose sink, table and ironing board are of the right height, who has all the conveniences the family pocketbook can reach, and a few of those little extras that only the man of the house can make.

Boys' and girls' clubs are training the leaders of the farm and home for tomorrow.

L. F. HART BECOMES GOVERNOR TOMORROW

CHIEF JUSTICE PARKER WILL ADMINISTER OATH OF OFFICE IN STATE HOUSE

CEREMONIES TO BE SIMPLE

Board of Control Prepares Platform And Seating Arrangements in Dome Areaway.

Preparations for the inaugural ceremonies for Governor Louis F. Hart have been completed by the state board of control so far as speaking arrangements and audience space are concerned. The program itself remains to be selected by the governor and his advisors. The ceremonies will be simple, consisting almost entirely of the governor's inaugural address, which will be delivered in the main corridor of the state house under the dome areaway.

One Governor Missing.
There is no incoming governor this year and governor Hart's message will be the only formal address, following a preliminary, probably by Howard D. Taylor, who as president pro-tem of the senate is expected to preside over the joint assembly of the legislators gathered to hear the governor and witness the ceremonies. The latter include administration of the governor's oath of office by Chief Justice Emmett N. Parker of the Supreme court. The board has arranged for music by the Affin Temple Shrine band of Tacoma. The inaugural ceremonies will begin at 3 P. M. Wednesday afternoon.

Both houses of the legislature will have met Monday morning for organization and official canvass of the returns of the November election necessary business in order to qualify the governor and lieutenant governor and other state officials for beginning their new term Wednesday. E. H. Guie of Seattle was elected speaker of the house, and Howard D. Taylor president of the senate, in the organization session Monday.

FOOD PROJECT LEADERS PLAN WORK

At a meeting of the foods and nutrition county project leaders January 5 with Miss Mary E. Sutherland, extension specialist in foods and nutrition of the Washington State College, it was decided to set as a goal for 1921 a set of scales in every school in this county.

To start the work of the organization, of trying to have every school child normal weight, the weight and measurements of children in the country schools will be taken during the first week of February. Record cards will be filled out at that time and kept from week to week. In the nutrition classes a mid-morning hot lunch will be given the underfed children in the schools that adopt this plan, formed by Dr. William R. D. Emerson of Boston. They will also be given a short rest immediately after the lunch. It was decided to carry out the hot lunch work in the communities that put it on their program as club work. Grand Mound school already is working under this method. The children manage the work entirely themselves and the teacher merely supervises. This also teaches them cooperation, one of the essentials of modern day life.

Two nutrition classes will be conducted at Yelm and Grand Mound through the year. These are to be held once a week, and attended by the children and their parents. Home Demonstration Agent Miss Kennedy will speak to them. The record charts will be gone over and in case the underweight child has made no gain in the week the matter will be studied to discover the reason.
