Sears of Olympia, president; J. A. Hull of Everett, vice president; A. W. Deming of Olympia, treasurer; George Phillips of Raymond, secretary; and Garlie Mullins of Raymond, Ira White of Port Angeles, and Henry Sebring of Raymond, trustees.

The new concern is organized on the cooperative basis and will take over the business and plant of the Panama Lumber and Shingle company on the West Side.

When the full complement of the working force is signed up it will consist of 27 worker-stockholders, according to President Sears. LEGION DRIVE SPEAKERS APPEAR AT SHOW HOUSES

Chairman Convery Urges More Committee Workers to Help Out on Home Stretch

Fred Convery, who is in charge of the committees which are raising the fund for the American Legion Auditorium, has arranged for the show houses to give a little time to speakers on the question of raising this fund. A. W. Tyler has direction of these speakers, and he will see that a speaker is present at each of the three show houses each evening during this week, to discuss the matter.

The funds should be paid in at the corner of Fourth and Main streets, to the young ladies who have charge of the big clock, or to the headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce building, where Miss Coulter is in charge, or to Jesse Shelley, or S. R. Holcomb, who are the treasurers for the drive. Payments may also be made at the Olympia National bank.

Monday Total Eleven Thousand

The total to date subscribed is $11,071 reported at noon Monday, but several subscriptions are in which have not been reported at headquarters when the above total was given out.

It is urged that more committee workers volunteer to help out in the final home stretch. Especially the Auxiliary wants more women to help on committee work. As Chairman Convery says, it was the women who won the war, by unselfishly giving the boys and then backing them up to the limit. So, now, it will be the cooperation and unselfish work of the women that will put over this drive successfully. Women workers should report to Mrs. Maynard.

The donation to this monument to our soldier boys should be made as a donation to any other monument, freely, and without any thought but the benefits we have already received from the winning of the war. Olympia and Thurston County owe it to the boys who went into the service. We should now make good on our part of it.

A picnic lunch is the intended order of the day.

"What Will a Good Suit Cost Me?"

Men everywhere are asking this question. Here's the answer—just about a third less than last years. But everybody knows wool is way down. Not so many people know that the number of woolen looms stopped from July to December, 1920, was in round numbers twenty-seven thousand.

This cessation of labor put the United States behind thirty-three million suits. You might think clothes would be higher! That's why we are lucky to put out a good all-wool suit for $25.00 to $45.00.

The favored Spring models in all-wool worsted, single and double breasted styles, made up in all the desired Spring colors. Careful details of tailoring only revealed by close inspection. Considering quality of fabric, workmanship and style, these suits have no superior.

Bous' Clothing is Cheaper

All-wool Serges.....$8.95 to $13.95
Wool Cashmere Suits, with two pairs pants.....$9.75 to $15.75
Wash Suits, ages 2 1/2 to 8 years, are selling one-third less than last season.

Your choice from a big line of "Oliver Twist," "Russian" and Middy Suits at...$1.00 to $3.75

LESSON XVIII

The Divided Kingdom

Read I King, 12, to II Kings, 12.
Introduction: Upon the death of Solomon the discontent of the people, which had smoldered during the latter part of his reign, burst out. The new king foolishly follows the rash advice of his young courtiers and fails to relieve the people of their burdens. A revolt ensues and Rehoboam sees his kingdom rent in twain. Only the tribes of Judah and Benjamin remain loyal.

Kingdom of Israel, 975 to 721 B. C.

1. Who led in the revolt against Judah? Where was his capital? What two altars did he build? I Kings, 12.
2. How many kings and how many dynasties had Israel? How long did the kingdom last? Note: Each dynasty ascends the throne over steps made slippery by blood. All her kings were bad.
3. This kingdom divides itself naturally into four periods. First, "Idolatry taking root," about 50 years. Name the five kings of the three dynasties of this period.
4. The second period is "Idolatry rampant"—in full bloom. It covers 50 years, with four kings and one dynasty. I Kings, 16:15. Which king built Samaria? I Kings, 16:23 and 24. Name a few of the many events in the 22 years' reign of Ahab? I Kings, 16:29 to 22:40.
5. Who was the prophet of this reign and name some of his miracles? Why did he work miracles? Who was his successor? I Kings, 19:19.
6. The third period, "Idolatry slightly checked," a summer time development, lasts 100 years. It is the fifth dynasty of five kings. Tell something of the bloody King Jehu, and the extinction of the house of Ahab? II Kings, 9. Which king takes Jerusalem. II Kings, 14:13. What political victories by Jeroboam? II Kings, 14:25. What can you say of the prophets Jonah, Hosea, Amos?
7. The fourth period, "Idolatry bearing fruit," lasts 50 years. It has five kings and four dynasties. Tell something of the frantic alliances and revolts of this period? II Kings, 15:8-31.
8. Who captured the two and a half tribes? II Kings, 15:29.
9. Who besieged Samaria? When? Result? II Kings (18). These were sad and bitter days.

ITALY SEEKING COAL-FREEDOM IN AMERICA

NEW YORK, May 24.—America's hydraulic-electric plants are to serve as a model for Italy's gigantic undertaking of the electrification of her state railways.

For the purpose of studying the principal American installations as a basis for the Italian project a commission of leading Italian technicians are now traveling in the United States.

Italy's decision to electrify her railways and all industrial plants possible, is the result of the first great economic lesson learned by Italy during the war.

As absolutely no coal exists in Italy she is at the present time the slave of whatever foreign country can provide her with coal. Similarly any country, such as France, England or Germany, that cared to cut off Italy's coal supply could reduce her to subjection in a few weeks without firing a single gun. The effect on Italy's finances of being obliged to buy coal abroad is equally disastrous especially on her exchange. Hence Italy's decision to establish at the earliest moment possible her economic independence by the transformation of her almost unlimited hydraulic possibilities into electrical energy.

The first project for the electrification of the state railways provides for six thousand kilometers. As a matter of fact the great bulk of the railways in northern Italy are already electrified and the carrying out of the above program practically the entire state system beyond the menace of any foreign coal power.

The mission which will study the American hydraulic installations and which will spend several months here is composed of Engineering Professor Guido Semenza of Milan as chief of the mission; Engineering Professor Gian Giacomo Ponti of Milan; Marchese Ferdinando Cusani Confalonieri of Milan; Engineer Comandatore Cesare Scarelli, colonel of engineers and director of transportation of the Italian General Staff; Engineer Comandatore Curzio de Regibus, representing the Italian state railways.
