CARPENTIER HAD A REAL WAR RECORD

By HENRY L. FARRELL.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Much has been said of Georges Carpentier's war record. France considers him one of the war idols. In America some say Dempsey's challenge was a slacker who wrapped the flag around him for defense. Others claim that he was virtually drafted and placed far behind the lines, out of danger.

His war record, secured from the Dossier French aviation headquarters, shows that he was a real fighter, spent eighteen months actually at the front and was decorated with the Croix de Guerre and Medaille Militaire.

His service record, which records his every move for five years, shows that he reported at the outbreak of the war in 1914 and was first attached to the Second Aeronautic Division as a chauffeur, in which capacity he served until he received a license as a pilot May 24, 1915.

He was sent to the front with a squadron and remained there three months in active service flying over the German lines in a Farman two-seater. He was sent back as a spare pilot to the general reserve headquarters on August 16, 1915, to await assignment to another escadrille.

Leg Is Injured.

Twelve days later he injured his leg in an accident, but recovered and was sent back to the front September 11, 1915, with the Farman escadrille No. 55. He was engaged there in reconnaissance work in preparation for the unsuccessful Champagne drive which began Sept. 25, 1915.

Carpentier won the Croix de Guerre for his work in this offensive with the following citation: "September 25, he did not hesitate to fly during misty weather and rain less than 200 yards above the enemy lines. He has given proof of many circumstances of sangfroid, never returning until his mission was accomplished, often with his machine riddled with bullets and shell splinters."

Carpentier was transferred to Farman escadrille No. 8 on April 19, 1916, during the attack of the Crown Prince on Verdun.

Receives Medal.

On November 5, 1916, he received the Medaille Militaire for heroic action during the French counter attack, by which Daumont Vaux was recaptured. The citation follows: "Sergeant Pilot Carpentier as a clever aviator impresses everyone with bravery executing really perilous missions. He distinguished himself during the attack October 26 flying over the enemy lines at a low altitude for four hours, despite unfavorable weather and even in contempt of danger."

Carpentier was forced by illness in December, 1916, to quit the front and he never returned. He went to the Virey Chatillon hospital and was then transferred to Clignan Court, just outside of Paris. He was granted two months leave January 15, 1917, and in February obtained permission to visit the United States giving exhibitions, but the trip later was called off.

On May 16, 1917, he was assigned to the escadrille stationed at Algeria but was declared unfit to continue as a pilot and was detached from aviation. He then became physical instructor at the Joinville school of the French army, five miles outside of Paris.

He served as a boxing instructor touring all of the French camps and many of the American camps. Six months after the armistice he was transferred back to aviation and then demobilized.

CLOUDSTER BIPLANE ALIGHTS IN TEXAS

FORT BLISS, Texas, June 28.—David R. Davis and Eric Springer, aviators, who were forced to land here late yesterday on a transcontinental flight from Riverside, Cal., to Mineola, L. L., resumed their journey at 5 o'clock this morning.

The big machine took off and headed toward Dallas, today, where it was said the aviators might stop if further engine trouble developed.

Springer said just before leaving that they would attempt to make New York without stopping and hoped to do it in 22 hours. Distributor trouble forced the landing yesterday.

OPTIMISM RULES FEDERAL RESERVE MONTHLY REVIEW

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Optimism seemed to be the undertone of the monthly business review of the 12th district federal reserve bank issued today.

The review covered business conditions in Western states for the month of May.

Improvement in retail trade, continuing activity in building operations and gradual liquidation of loans and investments by the principal member banks, were noted as the outstanding features of the month.

Discussing prices, the report said: "A majority of the 174 wholesale firms reporting say that retailers are now generally basing their prices to the consumer on the replacement costs at wholesale."

Notwithstanding a complete cessation of building activity in San Francisco during May on account of disagreements between employers and laborers, building operations in the district during May were but 9.4 per cent less in number than those of the record month of April, 1921, the report declared, discussing building activities.

Los Angeles, Salt Lake, Ogden, Utah, and Sacramento showed an increase of over 100 per cent in building over May, 1920.

CARPENTIER CONFIDENT OF WINNING BIG FIGHT

By FRANK W. GETTY
MANHASSET, N. Y., June 28.—Carpentier is confident.

Watching Georges work out in private today, talking with him on the front porch and observing his constant air of cheerful unconcern within four days of the fight of his life, one can come to no other decision.

Georges himself won't say—for publication—more than he will do his best. But when the last word of the interviewer is removed to behind the barbed wire and the challenger is in the midst of his friends, the real Carpentier shows up and that Carpentier believes he is going to win.

Visualizes Fight. Occasionally Georges will sit rocking on the front porch for ten or fifteen minutes at a time, his eyes fixed on something just over our heads, but far away. Watching him one knows he is visualizing the coming fight. And he ends his little day dream with a smile; there are far away thoughts, but no trouble in his clear eyes. Perhaps he is counting up to 200,000.

"And they are going to take $67,000 right away from me in taxes," said Georges today, mournfully.

George, speaking of Dempsey, said: "He has never been really hurt. How do we know that he can take punishment when he has never been put to the test?"

Carpentier says he considers much of his prowess lies in the suppleness of his shoulders which enables him to hit hard and quickly without exertion.

GREAT BRITAIN WANTS DELAY OF THREE MONTHS ON JAPANESE ALLIANCE

Reasons Advanced Is That Conference Is Just Beginning to Consider Question

LONDON, June 28.—Great Britain has asked Japan for a three months' delay in renewing their alliance, the United Press was reliably informed today.

The reason advanced in a note asking the postponement was that the conference of the British premiers is just beginning to consider the question. Britain, it said, desires the premiers shall reach a decision before a new treaty is signed.

No mention was made of the American attitude toward the alliance.

CORPORATION LICENSE FEE IS DUE ON JULY 1

Corporations must pay their license fees immediately in order to avoid penalty, according to Fred J. Dibble, director of licenses. The annual fee of $15 for incorporation is due on July 1, a penalty of $2.50 being levied for payment after that date. Only 5,000 of the 15,000 corporations in the state have made payment for this year up to date.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan L. Creed are absent from the city on a camping tour of the Olympic peninsula. At present they are at Lingerlonger Lodge at Quilcene.
