STATE FAIR OPENS GATES THIS MORNING

Array of Exhibits Largest and Most Complete Ever Seen on Grounds.

LIVESTOCK LEAD LIST

Poultry Show Has Thousand Fowls Entered—Nine Counties Place Horticultural Exhibits.

YAKIMA, WASH. Sept. 19.—The Washington State Fair held annually in Yakima opened its gates this a. m. with the largest and most complete array of exhibits ever seen on the grounds, representing livestock, agricultural, horticultural and also manufacturing interests of the state with contributions from Oregon and Idaho.

There are more than 500 entries in the cattle division, of which two-thirds are dairy cattle. In the Holstein class alone the entries exceed 200 in number, and all the famous herds of the state are represented with the pick of their stock.

In respect to live stock entries the 1921 fair breaks all previous records. Stables are filled to the overflowing with the finest specimens of purebred horses, dairy and beef cattle, swine and sheep to be found in the state of Washington.

Poultry Show Excellent. Second to the livestock show in point of interest is the poultry show, with more than 1,000 fowls entered. Harry Collier has spent two weeks collecting these exhibits, and he will be in immediate charge, as he has been for years past. This division has the largest number of fowls entered for any time in ten years. Larger number of entries were made previous to that time, on one or two occasions, when poultrymen of national reputation followed the circuits with carloads of fowls, to be shown at different state and county fairs.

More than one thousand standard bred fowls are being shown at the State fair this year by sixty-one breeders—the largest number of exhibitors and the largest number of birds shown in ten years.

Practically all standard breeds are represented. Every part of Washington has birds in the exhibition, and birds from Oregon, Idaho and Montana are being shown.

A Twenty-Pound Capon Exception. With one exception the showing now is of fowls bred in Washington and Oregon. The exception is a famous capon of the Jersey Giant breed, exhibited by Dexter P. Upham of Belmar, N. J. This capon stands 30 inches high and weighs 20 pounds. It was the grand champion at the recent poultry show at Madison Square Garden, New York, and is sent this long distance merely to show the possibilities in this new breed of fowls, raised primarily for market purposes, and not for egg production. A ludicrous comparison is presented between this giant and a Bantam which is shown with him.

Horticultural Exhibits Numerous. Nine counties have placed competitive exhibits in the Horticultural building, in addition to all the private and individual entries. These counties are Spokane, Lewis, Grays Harbor, Clallam, Pierce, Kitsap, Benton, Mason and Skagit. The showing these counties make will make the task of the judges an exceptionally difficult one. While Yakima county as a unit does not enter this competition, the different sections of the county have been allotted than favorably with the exhibits from entire counties.

Women's Clubs Exhibit. To the showing in the Women's building, women's clubs from all parts of the state have contributed and the result is far beyond any previous expectations. It is one of the most distinctly creditable features of the fair and will be long remembered by those who witness it.

The amusement features are also among the best ever assembled. A great carnival company, with an equipment filling twenty cars and comprising everything seen in that class of entertainment, is the largest concessionaire, but there are dozens of others.

Auto Races Furnish Thrills. Today and Saturday auto racing will furnish the thrills at the annual Washington State fair which opened in Yakima. Thoroughbred running races will attract racing fans, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Among the famous drivers entered for auto races are Streigh, Cooper, Gottof, Vartlet and others.

Running Events. Following is the running race program for Tuesday-Friday inclusive:

FRUSTRATE ATTEMPT KIDNAP EVELYN NESBIT

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—What may have been an attempt to kidnap Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, former wife of Harry K. Thaw, was frustrated early today by the police.

The former Mrs. Thaw who is now known as Miss Nesbit was in her apartments on the third floor of a building where she conducts a tea-room, about 3:30 a. m., when she heard men talking in the hall outside, according to the police.

She opened the door and three men attempted to seize her. Miss Nesbit screamed so loudly that the three men fled.

Patrolman Michael McMahon heard the cries and ran up to the building just as the three men jumped into a taxi that was standing at the curb with its motor running, and drove rapidly away. He remained on guard.

Some time later, three men, evidently thinking the coast clear, returned. McMahon accosted them and they attacked him.

McMahon blew his whistle and other patrolmen arrived. After a fight the three men were arrested. They gave the names of Joseph Daly, John Wardner and James Dunn.

Miss Nesbit appeared in police court ready to testify against the three men but the case was postponed until Wednesday.

George Meath of Seattle, spent the week-end in this city visiting friends. Mr. Meath, who is the son of Ed Meath of Tacoma, formerly lived in this city while his father was engaged in business here.

DE VALERA SENDS NEW NOTE LLOYD GEORGE

Asks Whether Premier Proposes Conference or Demands Surrender.

IRELAND HOPES PEACE

Dail Eireann's Insistence Upon the Recognition of Sovereign State Halts Progress.

DUBLIN, Sept. 19.—President de Valera today sent a new note to Lloyd George asking whether the British premier in proposing an Irish peace conference, is demanding an Irish surrender or calling for a free and unprejudiced conference. Pick up Dublin follow—

DUBLIN, Sept. 19.—Faced with the choice between withdrawing from their insistence upon recognition as a sovereign state or abandoning the conference upon which the hope of peace in Ireland rests, Sinn Fein's cabinet met with President de Valera today.

Ireland, hoping for peace and favoring a conference despite the technical difficulties, anxiously awaited the decision.

Lloyd George's latest note, received yesterday, in which he implicitly insisted de Valera must withdraw his claim to recognition of Ireland as a sovereign state or forfeit the right to conference, added little to the advancement of the Irish situation except to further clarify the issues.

It was recognized there that the dail cabinet must go to conference on Lloyd George's terms or risk civil war.

The press urges acceptance of the premier's invitation.

ENJOY HUNTING SEASON IN FORD TOURING CAR

Is Slogan Personified in Window of L. E. Titus Garage on East Fourth Street.

"Take a Ford and enjoy the hunting season" is a slogan which is personified in the two show windows of the L. E. Titus company on East Fourth street, Ford distributors for Olympia and Thurston county. If one has not seen the splendid display it will be well worth their while to walk past the garage and view the windows.

In one window there is a typical camping scene, perfect in every detail. In the center of the window stands a new Ford touring car, to which is attached a tent and two army cots with kodaks and hunting togs thrown on them are set up in array of fishing tackle and hunting paraphernalia strewn about which gives the appearance of actual habitation. A table completely set with tin dishes, cups, and other utensils seen near the machine. A small camp stove, upon which are kettles and frying pans occupies a place near the table. A number of Mailard ducks piled in a stack conveys the idea to one that the day's hunt has been successful. Evergreens and maple leaves form a pretty and appropriate background for the display.

Wild Animals Lifelike. The other window pictures wild animals in their abode. The entire window space is thickly decorated with small evergreen and maple trees. A bear, deer, pheasants and owls, looking almost real, can be seen peering from out of the trees and thicket.

The windows were decorated by various members of the garage none claiming all the praise for the idea which is so appropriate for this time of the year.

All the animals used in the forest scene were donated for the occasion by friends of the L. E. Titus garage. While on the subject of Ford cars it is interesting to know that the Ford plant had an output last month of 100,000 cars, according to the Ford monthly bulletin. There is a marked increase in sales throughout the U. S. since the recent drop in prices. The bulletin states that there will be undoubtedly be a shortage in Ford sedans and coupes during the coming month as the sales are increasing daily on these models.

Have you noticed C. E. Armantrout, manager for the Ford branch here, driving around lately as proud as a peacock in his new Ford coupe? Mr. Armantrout just received the car from the shop where it underwent a painting. To add to the dignity of the car Mr. Armantrout has disc wheels put on the machine until one would almost believe it to be an imported model upon first glance.

VIRGINIA RAPPE BURIED AT HOLLYWOOD IN SIMPLE WHITE GOWN

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 19.—Virginia Rappe, alleged to have been killed by Roscoe Arbuckle, was laid to rest here today.

"The best dressed girl in pictures" was buried in a simple gown of white, the gift of Mildred Harris Chaplin.

"It is the last gift I can make to one I loved," the firm star said, in offering the gown before the funeral services.

Thousands of motion picture celebrities crowded around the chapel of a Hollywood funeral parlor where the rites were conducted. It is estimated more than 8,000 persons viewed Miss Rappe's body as it lay in state over Sunday.

The chapel was banked with floral tributes to the dead girl, with the offerings of Henry Lehrman, her fiance, and Larry Semon, old-time friend, among the most prominent.

A loving cup, inscribed to Virginia's memory by Norman Taug and Larry Semon, was also among the tributes.

The beautiful young actress was buried in Hollywood cemetery in the Henry Lehrman plot.

COMPARISON OF HIGH SCHOOL PAPERS PROVE OLYMPIA IS GROWING

A proof that Olympia is growing is a comparison of the first High School paper with the present one. In October 1902 the first Olympia High School paper was published, then under the name of "The Olympia Hi Review". This paper had twenty pages including the advertising and was published monthly until one of the editorials contained this epithet, "It has been decided by the board of directors, owing to the low state of our treasury, to publish but one more issue of the Review after this one." Considering the business staff one is surprised that happened:

Business manager, Frank Mount; Subscription agent, Roscoe Fullerton; Advertising agent, Thad Pierce; Treasurer, John Pierce; The rest of the staff contains just such celebrities: Editor in chief, Marian Blankenship; Literary editor, Alice Yantis; Athletic editor, H. Swain; Personal editor, Hallie Pierce; Exchange editor, William Manier; Music editor, Geraldine De Crouley; News editor, Albert Emerson.

There were twenty-six advertisers in this paper and but one picture. The present High School paper is published semi-monthly, in newspaper form, and at the end of the year an annual containing a complete summary of the school activities for the year, is edited. The semi-monthly paper is a real newspaper printed on real newspaper paper; it is six columns wide and has from four to six pages. There are from fifty to ninety advertisers, and the annual of last year contained two hundred and twenty pictures, cartoons etc.

This paper, "The Olympian", gives a complete account of the school events as they occur, written by the Journalism class. This class was a new organization last year and is under the directorship of L. P. Brown, high school principal. The staff for this year's paper has not yet been chosen, but will be after the first issue is published, which is to be on or near October first.

For the Alumni of the High School and town people interested in "Seeing Olympia Grow", there is no better way to do so, than to go to the Bookstore on Wednesday, September 1st, and pay Mr. Shelley a dollar for the semi-monthly Olympian which will be mailed to the address given on the first and fifteenth of every month. Subscriptions may also be mailed to the High School office at anytime.

George Bartell, of Chehalis, reported to the police that his Chevrolet car was stolen Saturday night while he was attending a dance at Rochester. He gave the license number as 19309 and the engine number as E-9827.

A hearing was held this morning before Judge John M. Wilson of the superior court for a petition by the board of directors of the Little Rock school for a writ of review in the case of R. J. Baldwin, former principal of the Little Rock high school, who was discharged some time ago by the directors. Baldwin took his case to the county superintendent of schools and lost then appealed it to the state superintendent, who upheld him.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY BRADY THREATENS MORE ARRESTS

Receives Letter from Edna Grant Promising Give More Details.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—"There will be more arrests in this case," District Attorney Matthew Brady declared today, discussing the case of Virginia Rappe and Roscoe Arbuckle, the comedian, in jail charged with the murder of Virginia Rappe of Los Angeles.

Brady refused to go into details. It was believed, however, that he was preparing perjury charges against witnesses in the case whose testimony he has questioned.

Brady today received a letter signed "Edna Grant", promising to call upon him and give him new and important alleged details of the Labor day party in Arbuckle's hotel suite, which preceded the death of Miss Rappe. No one by the name of "Edna Grant" thus far has been known in connection with the case.

By M. D. TRACY

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—An appeal for fairness, for her husband was the first word given out by Minta Durfee, wife of Roscoe Arbuckle, film comedian, when she arrived in San Francisco early today. She came from New York to aid her husband, who is in jail here charged with causing the death of Virginia Rappe, actress.

"Only one side of this story has been told," she said, "and I know that the people of this good city will wait until the other side comes out in proper, orderly fashion in court. I have only one request to make of all the fairminded people. I simply ask them to be fair to Mr. Arbuckle. I know and his friends all know, that he is innocent."

"I know that when the truth is heard in this matter—when the entire story has been unfolded—that my husband will be completely exonerated and his good name will be thoroughly cleared and that he will again take his place in the hearts of the American people."

Mrs. Arbuckle arrived here shortly before 3 a. m. today. She had been met at Sacramento by attorneys for Arbuckle, who refused to permit her to add anything further to her plea for fairness.

Arbuckle and his wife have been estranged for some time. On hearing of his trouble, she immediately left for San Francisco, from New York.

Doctor Beardslee Located.

Dr. Arthur Beardslee, physician, who attended Virginia Rappe following Arbuckle's labor day party, was expected to furnish new evidence in the case against Arbuckle when he reached San Francisco today.

Beardslee was located in the Sierras with a hunting party. He had just heard of the fatal outcome of Miss Rappe's illness and the charges against Arbuckle, and sent word he would reach San Francisco today.

It was admitted that Beardslee is in a position either to aid his prosecution or the defense. The defense, it was understood, expected he might attribute Miss Rappe's death to causes other than the alleged assault by Arbuckle. The state thought he might reveal alleged statements of Miss Rappe made to him during the night following the party which would strengthen its case.

Brady Visits Hotel.

Yesterday the District Attorney visited the hotel where the "party" took place and with aides taking the roles of Arbuckle and his guests, re-enacted what the state will claim was the story of the fatal afternoon, particularly the assault by Arbuckle on Miss Rappe. Brady announced that he had asked Los Angeles authorities to watch two of the leading witnesses who are now in the southern city and he wired to Salt Lake City asking the authorities there to watch trains for Lowell Sherman, actor and guest at the Arbuckle party who was reported to have left Los Angeles for New York. Federal agents said they would continue pressing their investigation under the prohibition laws today.

TWO SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS ROBBERS LODGED IN JAIL

VANCOUVER, Wash. Sept. 19.—Two of the trio of robbers charged with holding up the Sells-Floto circus treasurer truck near here Friday night and escaping with $30,000 had been caught and lodged in the jail in Clarke county today.

One of the men, Bert Orcutt, was badly wounded when he attempted to escape possemen who had come upon him in the act of removing the cache of money from a woods near La Center.

Ray Moore, Orcutt's companion, was slightly wounded. Two women, Mrs. Beth Moore and Mrs. Christine Gross, and two little girls, daughters of Mrs. Moore, were arrested also. The third outlaw is believed to be hiding near here.

The cache was discovered late Sunday when a farmer stumbled over a log while hunting for cattle. The log concealed the bag containing a large quantity of paper money. The presence of the cache was reported to the authorities and a small posse gathered near the scene.

When Moore and Orcutt appeared they were told to surrender. They started to run and the posse opened fire. Both dropped.

JOHN J. THACKER DIES SUDDENLY FROM HEART DISEASE

John J. Thacker resident of Olympia for more than a quarter of a century, died suddenly Saturday just after he had assured Dr. J. W. Mowell, who was attending him, that he was feeling better than at any time in the past two months. Death occurred at the Thacker home, 1029 Jefferson avenue, from heart disease.

Mr. Thacker was born in Kentucky 53 years ago. He leaves a widow and one grandchild, the father and mother of which are both dead. One sister resides in Seattle and a brother lives near Yelm.

Years ago Mr. Thacker was prominent in political circles in Olympia and Thurston county, wielding a power that at times controlled both city and county administrations. Years ago he engaged in the wood business in this city and also dealt considerably in real estate.

Thomas Swale, formerly state commander of the American Legion, spent yesterday in the city on business.

"SORRY, BUT CANNOT ACCEPT" The telegram came to his home, at night: "Offer position advertising manager. Salary four thousand. Chance to grow. Must begin first of month. Wire decision." It was unexpected—a thousand-dollar increase, with vastly bigger prospects—aluring for a man of 32. But instantly the opportunity was overshadowed by the big obstacle—DEBTS. For four years they had been getting deeper into financial tangles. Their house was far beyond them; the mortgage monstrous. Installments on furnishings were long over-due. "Speculative investment" had been disastrous. His wife was not strong—the youngest baby a month old. To go out there alone, leaving the burden of the house and debts on her shoulders, was unthinkable. If only he had the cash to tear up and take them with him! He exhausted every means to borrow the money, but his reputation as a slow payer was against him. And so he wired: "SORRY, BUT CANNOT ACCEPT." The Magic Wand that opens the Door of Opportunity is Cash. Many a young man has gone on up because he had the money in the bank when the chance beckoned.
