Kelly, representing the employees of the Grand Island road, are in consultation today with General Manager Robinson regarding the adoption of the wage schedule in force upon the Union Pacific main line. The minimum wages for telegraphers will be $45, instead of $35, as at present. There is no doubt about the schedule being adopted, the decision of Judge Caldwell applying to this branch as well as to the main line.

Holds the Oceanic Responsible. SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—Judge Morrow in the United States court, gave Mrs. E. S. Smith judgment against the Occidental and Oriental Steamship company in $11,000 for the loss of her husband Henry Smith and child Myra in the Oceanic-Chester collision in San Francisco bay in 1888. By this decision the judge holds the Oceanic largely responsible for the disaster. In as much as many lives were lost other suits will doubtless follow.

THOMPSON'S PYROTECHNIC SPEECH

Kentucky's Ex-Congressman Entertained the Pollard-Breckinridge Jury. WASHINGTON, April 11.—Colonel Phil Thompson, formerly a member of congress from Kentucky and one of the best known men in Washington, entertained the jury in the Pollard-Breckinridge case with a pyrotechnic speech, such as rarely has been heard in this section. The Blue Grass orator once had a great reputation as a stump speaker and Washington had a chance to see on what the fame was founded. Colonel Thompson is a thick set, chubby, red faced man, with scant hair on the top of his head. He talks in a free and easy, but exceedingly vigorous manner. His speech was sprinkled with anecdotes, some of them too broad for reproduction, and his views regarding the stability of the Seventh commandment will doubtless provoke responses from the pulpit of New England. Madeline Pollard did not hear the terms in which her fellow Kentuckian referred to her as an adventuress and shameless woman, because she left the court as soon as Mr. Carlisle had finished his plea in her behalf.

TROUBLESOME TIMES AHEAD.

Commonwealth Officers Draw the Line at Museum Freaks. UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 10.—There are troublesome times ahead for the commonwealth, if the signs of the times point aright. An official court martial of Cyclone Kirkland, the astrologer; Jasper Johnson, the sable color bearer, and Weary Her, the commissary, was held Monday night, and they were absolutely refused redemption into the army, by reason of their having been exhibited in the Pittsburg dime museum. Johnson and Kirkland visited the camp and made speeches, in which they professed fealty to the cause. The "unknown," who had charge of the camp, announced that he favored the reinstatement of the men, but would have to refer the case to his superiors. The meeting between the officers was spirited, and the unknown was turned down. A special order was then issued by Carl Brown, denouncing the presence in the army of any museum freaks, and deciding against the men. Cyclone Kirkland states that he will organize a new commonwealth, in which women may join.

Can Stop in Colorado.

ODGEN, April 11.—Governor Waite of Colorado wired General Kelly Tuesday, at Ogden, that his industrial army could stop and pass through Colorado. But Governor West of Utah notified Kelly that his men would be forced to return west, if they refused to go of their own motion. Kelly submitted the matter to his men, who refused, with but one dissenting vote. Kelly's men said they knew what it would be to tramp through the mountains and suffer hardship, if they could not ride. They cheered Governor Waite and General Kelly, who appears naturally conservative, and is a good speaker. Encouraging words were received from General Kelly's wife. Two thousand loaves of bread, 1,000 pounds of beef, potatoes, etc., were contributed by the Ogden Charity society, and everybody waited to see what Governor West would do. The governor and Superintendent Knapp of the Southern Pacific held a series of interviews, ending in Knapp's refusing to haul the army back without payment of $35 for each person, the regular fare.

Backbone of the Strike Broken.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 6.—Yesterday's tragic events in the coal regions seem to have a sobering effect on the strikers and it is hardly probable that there will be a repetition of such bloody work. With the discovery of the bodies of eight Hungarian strikers in the woods near Dawson, the fatalities of yesterday are increased to 10, with many more seriously wounded than was first known. The eight dead strikers found were undoubtedly killed by the pursuing party after the Paddock murderers and at least 11 in all have, or will, pay the highest penalty for that brutal crime with trial by jury. No definite information as to the cause of the death of the eight men has been obtained up to this time. The arrest of President Davis has had a more deterring and dampening effect upon the strikers than the sacrifice of so many lives.

CHICAGO, April 10.—CATTLE—Prices for cattle were steady today. There seemed to be a general determination not to pay any advance on Monday's prices. None was paid, the market ruling quiet and steady at that day's prices. Within the last 10 days there has been an advance of from 20 to 50c, and under the circumstances it is about all that sellers can reasonably expect, for the present at least. The bulk of the steers here today sold at better than $3.75. There were a few trades at better than $4.40, and extra 15000-17000-lb. steers were quoted as high as $4.00-5.00. Extra cows, heifers and butts sold around $3.50, and the range of quotations for stockers and feeders was $2.00-3.75. HOGS—There was unabated activity in the demand for hogs. The top westerns were $3.25-3.50, and last Thursday $4.00-4.25 took the best. Trading was at $3.15-3.30 for very common to choice grades. Culls sold at $3.00-3.25, and a load or two of fancy quality brought $3.50. South Omaha Live Stock. VICTORY FOR LABOR.

JUDGE CALDWELL'S DECISION IN THE WAGE SCHEDULE CASE.

Should Not Have Been Cancelled Without a Hearing—Rights of Organized Labor Fully Defined—Entitled to the Protection of the Court.

OMAHA, April 6.—Judge Caldwell's decision in the Union Pacific wage schedule case was rendered Thursday morning and was a complete victory for the employees. The United States courtroom was thronged with railroad men, who listened intently to the reading of the opinion, which was very lengthy, comprising over 4,000 words. After stating the facts of the road coming into the hands of the receivers, Judge Caldwell said:

The relation of these men to the company and their rate of wages were determined in the main by certain written rules, regulations and schedules, some of which had been in force for more than a quarter of a century, and all of which had been in force, substantially as they stand today, for a period of eight years and more. These rules, regulations and schedules were the result of free and voluntary conferences, held from time to time, between the managers of the railroad and the officers and representatives of the several labor organizations representing the men in the different subdivisions or branches of the service, viz:

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, the Order of Railway Conductors, the Order of Railway Telegraphers, the Union Pacific Employees' association and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. These labor organizations, like the rules, regulations and schedules, had become established institutions on this system many years before the appointment of the receivers. Two of the ablest railroad managers ever in the service of this system, and probably as able as any this country has ever produced—Mr. S. H. H. Clark and Mr. Edward Dickinson, now general manager of the road, testify that these labor organizations on this system had improved the morals and efficiency of the men and had rendered valuable aid to the company in perfecting and putting into force the rules and regulations governing the operation of the Union Pacific railway, which, confessedly, have made it one of the best managed and conducted roads in the country.

Among the rules and regulations referred to and in operation when the receivers were appointed was one to the effect that no change should be made in the rules and regulations and rate of wages without first giving to the labor organizations, whose members would be affected by such change, 30 days notice, or other reasonable notice.

Judge Caldwell then recites how the receivers went into court last January to force a reduction on the schedule of wages, and states all the legal steps taken down to and including the hearing just ended.

JENKINS MODIFIES HIS DECISION. Milwaukee Judge Holds That He Was Right In Issuing Injunctions.

MILWAUKEE, April 8.—The long looked for decision of Judge Jenkins on the motion made by the chiefs of the great railway organizations for a modification of his famous Northern Pacific strike order, was rendered in the United States circuit court at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The petition asks for the modification of the injunction of Dec. 9, by expunging the word "and from combining and conspiring to quit, with or without notice, the service of the said receivers with the object and intent of crippling the property in their custody or embarrassing the operation of the said road, and from so quitting the said receivers, with or without notice, as to cripple the property or to prevent or hinder the operation of said road."

It also asked that the passage by supplementary injunctions (which is stronger) covering the same ground, be eliminated.

The object of the motion was to bring to a direct issue before the court the question whether courts can grant injunctions to restrain employees from striking.

Judge Jenkins modifies his injunctions by striking out the clause which reads "and from ordering, recommending, approving or advising others to quit the service of the receivers of the Northern Pacific railway on Jan. 1, 1894, or at any other time." In all other respects the judge denies the motion of the men.

Dictated by Spooner.

MILWAUKEE, April 11.—The Judge Jenkins' investigation by the house subcommittee of the judiciary committee came to a sudden end so far as Milwaukee is concerned at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. All of the witnesses subpoenaed were examined and as there was no documentary evidence to go over there was nothing else to do, and the affair will now continue in Washington.

The witnesses were: Chiefs Wilkinson of the trainmen, Arnold of the firemen, Clark of the conductors, Sargent of the brakemen, Ramsay of the telegraphers, Attorney George P. Miller, General Manager Kendrick, Receiver Oakes, ex-Senator Spooner, Attorney J. W. Curtis of the Northern Pacific railroad.

The chief interest was centered in Mr. Spooner's testimony. He testified that he, with Attorney Miller, had dictated the petition for the first injunction, which forbade the employees of the Northern Pacific from striking and also the order which was issued by Judge Jenkins. He said this was customary among attorneys in like cases. He said, however, that he had nothing to do with the supplementary injunction.

Mr. Spooner said he took for the basis of the order for the injunction a decision by Judge Pardee of the federal court, in the Higgins case, but Attorney Curtis admitted, in answer to a question by Attorney Harper, that there was no precedent for Judge Jenkins' order.
