East Burke. CATTLE DISEASE. On Saturday, 3 inst., the state veterinarians, of Burlington, examined that fine Jersey dairy on the Darling farm, and found 75 of 90 cows affected with the disease known as pulmo tuberculosis. Two or three of the cattle were killed at once to make sure that the information obtained from the examination was correct, and the others were condemned and ordered to be killed on Saturday of last week, at which time the veterinarians were present again, with other veterinarians from other parts. Elmer Darling of New York, owner of the stock farm, had been sent for and was also present at the time. The cows will all be subjects of post mortem examination, and should it be found that a healthy animal is slaughtered the owner will receive pay for the same. At the time of the examination 75 or 80 gallons of cream were in cans ready for delivery at the Lyndonville Creamery but the cream was also condemned and thrown away. Had this surprise and loss fallen upon one not a part owner the Fifth Avenue Hotel business, or some other paying enterprise, it would have staggered him and given him a disrelish of blooded stock and dairy business. But Mr. Darling meets the emergency with courage, telegraphing directions to make a clean job of it and clear the farm of every vestige of the disease. His dairy is high grade Jerseys, registered, and among the most valuable in the state. The alarm has spread among the farmers in the locality, and many prominent dairymen are fearing the presence of the disease in their herds. But thorough examinations will be made, and wherever a trace of the disease is discovered it will be got rid of promptly. Its presence thus far has been discovered in the blooded stock, and seems to be an importation of recent date. — Union.

COUNTY COURT.

In the divorce line quite a business was done. Eight cases were disposed of, leaving only twenty-three still on the docket. In case of Kenneth McLeod vs. Minnie M. McLeod the petition was dismissed.

W. C. Hildreth vs. Eva Hildreth was discontinued. The following were granted: Amy Jane Gardner vs. Geo. Milton Gardner.

Nora E. Dow vs. Geo. N. Dow. Lenora Lee vs. S. Henry Lee. Delia Gray vs. Bigbee D. Gray. Fred A. Field vs. Alice G. Field.

In each of these cases the cause was wilful desertion, and in each case the care of the minor child was given to the mother.

In case of Sarah J. Hill vs. Albert H. Hill petition was granted; cause, adultery, and petitioner allowed to resume her maiden name.

In the trial of the Porter case there were a large number of witnesses on both sides and testimony was conflicting. State's Attorney Miles was assisted by J. W. Redmond, while J. W. Erwin assisted by H. C. Bates defended Porter. There seemed to be little doubt that a disorderly house had been kept, but the proof as to whether Porter had knowledge of it was not sufficient to convince the jury fully. The jury disagreed, rumor having it that eleven were finally for acquittal and one for conviction. There is probably no doubt whatever of the fact, but the proof submitted did not seem, in judgment of jury, to warrant a conviction. This case was begun on Saturday, which necessitated keeping the jury together over Sunday, and was not particularly pleasing to the victims.

The next case was State vs. George Nelson, John Harrison, Wm. Smith, Charles Roderick. Last November a store at South Barton was broken into and some articles of clothing stolen. Suspicion rested upon some tramp who had been seen in that locality and they were traced to Newport and thence to Sherbrooke, where Sheriff Miles found them, they having been arrested the day before for drunkenness. The stolen property was found in their possession and they returned with Miles. A hearing was had at Barton and the prisoners were committed to jail at Newport, where they have remained ever since. They are young men hardly of age, from different localities—Boston, Texas and Germany—who had fallen in with each other and had taken up "tramping." When arraigned, Smith and Roderick pleaded guilty, and after the trial had proceeded a little, there seemed to be no evidence to convict Nelson with the theft and none of the goods were found in his possession, so the judge directed a verdict of not guilty as to Nelson and he was discharged. The trial proceeded as to Harrison. He was proved to be in company with the other two both before and after the burglary. The circumstantial evidence was pretty strong and the verdict of the jury was guilty. The three were sentenced to hard labor in the state prison for two and one-half years each.

The last case tried was State vs. William Rogers on indictment of grand jury for assault. The scene was in Newport; parties, Wm. Rogers and Geo. Buck, farmers, whose lands adjoin; cause of trouble, damage by cattle and a line fence. On this occasion Mr. Lane, a neighbor, had gone with Buck to see Rogers and make a tender of money for damage done by Buck's cattle. During the interview words ensued about the line fence, Buck claimed Rogers drew his knife, brandished it furiously and attempted to stab him, threatening to cut his heart out. Lane's testimony corroborated this statement. Rogers denied the whole matter, claiming he had his knife in his hand simply for whitening and had no desire to assault Buck and did nothing toward assaulting him. He produced several witnesses who testified to what Buck had told them; that on the occasion referred to he tried to get Rogers to assault him, or rather to fight, but could not; that Rogers had no sand in him, etc. In this case Miles appeared for the State and Cook for respondent. Verdict, not guilty.

In case of State vs. C. A. Ramsdell on indictment for keeping room for gambling, respondent pleaded guilty and was fined $20 and costs, $12.96.

Court adjourned on Thursday. The term has been unusually long, and of course a good deal of business has been run through the mill. Your scribe would not make any criticism, but simply ask the question, "What is the trouble?" Of course much time has been spent upon the criminal cases and much expense incurred for the state with very meagre returns. On three indictments, failure to convict. Does our grand jury take up insignificant complaints, or does it fail to properly and carefully consider the cases? Is there a lack of preparation, or are our methods of criminal practice so strongly in favor of the criminal as to make conviction difficult, if not impossible? Is crime really being hindered, or rather, popularized by our courts?

Joy Inexpressible
Another Boy's Life Saved
Health Blighted by Scrofula and Hip Disease
Perfect Cure, Happiness and Health Given by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Exeter, N. H.
"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "I cannot praise Hood's Sarsaparilla enough for what it has done for my boy. Some four years ago, when six years old, George was attacked by hip disease in his right leg. We had to get him a pair of crutches, with which he was able to move about, but became badly deformed. We had to have his right leg lanced just above the knee. In a few weeks a second sore broke out, both discharging freely. Agonizing pains afflicted him, he could not bear to be moved, his growth was stopped, and he was a mere skeleton.

He had no appetite, and it was hard work to make him eat enough to keep him alive. A few weeks later we had his hip lanced, and following this five other eruptions broke out, making eight running sores in all. We did all we could for him, but he grew weaker every day, although we had three of the best physicians. As a last resort we were prevailed upon by relatives who had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla with beneficial results to give the medicine a trial. We got one bottle about the first of March, 1892, and he had taken the medicine only a few days when his appetite began to improve. When he had taken one bottle he could move about a little with his crutches, which he had not been able to use for the preceding three months. We continued faithfully with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and in 6 months he was able to go about the house without the crutches. He has now taken Hood's Sarsaparilla regularly for eighteen months, and for the past six months has been without the crutches, which he has outgrown by several inches. The sores have all healed with the exception of one which is rapidly closing, only the scars and an occasional limp remaining as reminders of his suffering.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures
Hood's Sarsaparilla in his case has truly done wonders, and he is daily gaining in flesh and good color. He runs about and plays as lively as any child. We feel an inexpressible joy at having our boy restored to health, and we always speak in the highest terms of Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. HENRY W. MURPHY, Exeter, New Hampshire.

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me,
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.
Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there may be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark.
For tho' from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.
