The Vermont Fish and Game League will meet at Isle LaMotte Sept. 6th. Vice-President Roosevelt will address the meeting.

The city of Burlington is to receive through the generosity of Andrew Carnegie, a library building which is to cost $50,000. The provisions of the gift are that the city shall furnish a suitable site for the structure and expend at least $5,000 each year for the maintenance of the library.

Sir Thomas Lipton has arrived in America and is very confident that he will succeed this year in "lifting" the cup. Although it is the wish of every true American that the cup should be retained in this country, if it is to be given up, there is no one to whom they would as willingly lose it as to the present challenger.

Two men are under arrest in this county charged with attempt at criminal assault on two young girls. In some sections of the country these men would have been dealt with by a mob who would have given them no chance for a trial; but such a condition does not help to decrease crime, but rather tends to increase it. In Vermont justice is meted out in a different but far more effective manner than that where lawlessness prevails.

Many of the New York police officials are in a rather unenviable frame of mind just at this time. Evidence has been secured which tends to show that the police have been paid by the proprietors of pool rooms etc., to warn them whenever a raid is to be made upon their places. Chief Dererey and other high officials are implicated. From present indications it seems that the guilty ones will be obliged to face the music despite all that Tammany can do for them.

Another Boxer Uprising.
An outrage which may well be compared with the work of the Boxers in China occurred in Springfield, Mo., last week. In revenge for the killing of a young lady by a negro a mob composed of white men lynched two negroes, burned another to death in his home and then started out to drive out or exterminate the entire black population of the city. The conditions which admit of such outrages in China stamp that as a heathen nation. Would it not be well for Christian America to refrain from criticizing too harshly the barbarous practices of the heathen Chinese as long as similar outrages are being constantly perpetrated in this country with scarcely a protest from the American people?

REUNION OF CO. F, 11TH VERMONT REGIMENT.

We are indebted to E. H. Webster for the following report:

The eighth annual reunion of this company was held last Wednesday at Newport with Comrade S. H. Holbrook four miles from the village on the left shore of the lake, at which place it had been held the four years previous. Five times have the old boys visited Sam and his family, and five times has he given them a cordial and fraternal greeting. Seventeen members were present, seven bringing their wives with them. Fifteen visiting comrades were there, also, with eight wives, making a good looking company of forty-seven in all. Among the visitors were Charles Brigham, Co. D, 12th Mass., of Boston, and his brother, Wm. J., of Tunica, Miss., who came all this distance to attend this gathering and visit their old friends in the country. They are brothers of Mrs. Kendrick Richmond, and pleasant gentlemen to meet and all were glad to have them with us. As has become the custom at most of the old soldiers' reunions of late, most of the time was used as it would be used at an ordinary family reunion in bringing to mind and recounting incidents of the past and not worrying very much about the future. To say that every person present seemed to enjoy immensely every minute of the time, and regret that there was not more of it would be no "yarn" but the real truth. At the business meeting in the afternoon the same old dry-bones were re-elected officers, namely: A. D. Mathews, president and E. H. Webster, secretary and treasurer. The treasury was found to contain $3.79, and was deemed sufficient to defray the expenses for another year. The roll was called by S. H. Holbrook and every member present answered "here." One hundred and eighty-six made no answer. So far as is known only one member has died during the year; Leonard Field, of Denver, Col. Colonel Aldice F. Walker, of the regiment, a gallant officer and highly honored citizen of the state and nation since the war has also died. It was voted to hold the next reunion at Willoughby Lake. Col. Z. M. Mansur was present and gave an interesting account of the battle of Monoclie in July, 1864, between Gen. Lew Wallace with 5,000 soldiers and Gen. Jubal Early with 15,000, in which the Colonel's regiment, the 10th, took part, and lost every man in the color guard but one, out of ten men. As a result of this battle Early was detained two days allowing the 6th corps time to get to Washington and save the city.

The day of the reunion proved to be the 37th anniversary of the battle of Charlestown, Va., at which Colonel Chamberlain was killed, and some account of this battle was given by S. H. Holbrook.

The day was pleasant, the lake was calm, the air was clear, the scenery was as good as ever, the old boys forgot all about their gray hairs, bald heads, their wrinkles and their aches and pains and enjoyed themselves to the best of their ability. Below is a roster of the company, also a roster of the visitors.

Company F—Daniel Brooks and wife, Lyman P. Brooks, Charles Blodgett, M. V. B. Carter, Moses A. Foss and wife, Eliza Foster, George Gregware, S. H. Holbrook and family, James Joslyn, A. D. Mathews and wife, Nixon Morse, Flavius Murette and wife, William M. Pearson, Kendrick Richmond and wife, Sam Utting and wife, E. H. Webster and wife, John S. Woodward.

Visitors—J. Bailey, K 7th, and wife, W. Derby; Charles Brigham, D, 12th Mass.; Hiram E. Drown, 9th, and wife, Newport Centre; James Gorham, E, 9th, Coventry; Z. M. Mansur, K, 10th, and wife, Newport; C. S. Moulton, E, 9th, and wife, Newport; E. G. Marvin, L 1st Col. Cav., Richmond; Alonzo Priest, D 6th, Coventry; N. S. Rogers, M, 11th Newport Centre; Albert Webster, M, 11th and wife, Coventry; J. N. Webster, I, 15th and wife, Barton; Steven Page, D, 6th, and wife, N. Troy; S. O. Whipple, E, 9th, Newport Centre.

Found Dead on His Beat.
Private John Lynch of troop H, 11th cavalry, was found dead on his beat at Fort Ethan Allen early Tuesday morning. Later an autopsy showed that the man died from asphyxiation as the result of having fallen with his face in the soft earth while probably suffering from an attack of vertigo. He enlisted from Wellsburgh, N. Y., and until the night of his death never served on picket duty.

Two Steamboat Disasters.

The steamer Islander from the Klondike ran into an iceberg last week and sank immediately. About 40 were drowned. The river steamer Galconda was caught in a whirlwind near Paducah, Ky., and overturned and about 20 perished.

Unsafe To Be a Negro.

Pierce City, Mo., was the scene of a lynching affair last week. A negro outraged and murdered a girl. The whites organized and hanged one negro, shot another to death and cremated a third inside his house. All the negroes in town were rushed out and the whites say they will never allow another inside its limits. It is thought that the murderer is still at large. A negro murderer was roasted alive at Whitesboro, Tex.
