In this issue we start the story, "When Knighthood Was in Flower." This has been published in book form and had a remarkable sale. We trust that it will prove an interesting and popular story with the readers of the MONITOR.

We wish to express our thanks to all who so kindly assisted us during the sickness, death and burial of our beloved wife and mother, also for the many beautiful flowers contributed during her sickness and at the funeral, and for the floral tributes from the various orders.

MR. WM. BERWICK, MR. AND MRS. H. M. FERRILL

Mr. Geo. H. Bickford and Mr. W. L. Dow of Hardwick were in town last Saturday. Mr. Bickford is manager of the company which has secured the $400,000 order for granite. He expects that the company will employ about two hundred extra men to fill the order. This will be a grand thing for Hardwick which is already a very prosperous village.

Have you slicked up your yard yet? If not it is certainly time to be about it. A little time expended in this way by every property holder in the village will add greatly to the beauty of the place. Complaints are being made by some about the paper and other waste material which is being thrown on to the lawns by children and others who are passing.

Mr. E. A. Walcott has purchased H. H. Pratt's photograph studio in this village and will conduct it in the future. He will assist Mr. Pratt at Newport every Thursday for a time. Mr. Walcott is a first-class workman and is well known here. He will give the people satisfactory work and should have a good business.

The fishermen were out in large numbers last Friday but the weather was very unfavorable. Those who started the night before in order to be in readiness early suffered extremely from the cold as in several cases they had failed to provide themselves with suitable clothing to protect them from the cold wind.

The weather was rather changeable last week. The cool weather of the past few weeks continued until Tuesday when it commenced to thaw. Wednesday it was very warm and Thursday mercury registered 82 degrees. Thursday night was warm, but early Friday morning a change was noticed and in a few hours mercury dropped below the freezing point and Friday forenoon it snowed for a time.

Visitors at the new Catholic church, which is nearing completion, greatly admire the fine decorative work recently finished on the interior by Barton's talented artist, Mr. B. Gannon. The design of the interior is of Roman style architecture and the decorations correspond throughout. The pillars and arches are treated in yellow olive and delicate tints, set off by elaborate bronze stripings. However the eye is at once attracted to the ceiling and upper portions of the walls, which are beautified by emblems of the Roman church, some fourteen in all and forming a wide border; about the ceiling are panels centered by the design of a cross and rays. The decorations as a whole demonstrate the fine artistic skill of Mr. Gannon. It is expected the church will be finished in two or three weeks, and the dedication is planned for the first of June.

The legal voters of the village of Barton are hereby warned and notified to meet at Seaver's opera house in Barton on Tuesday, May 12, A. D. 1903, at 7:30 o'clock p. m. to transact the following business:

1st. To see if the village will vote to pay the Barton Fire Department for actual services rendered at a fire.

2d. To see if the village will vote to raise a sum of money, in addition to the sum voted at the annual meeting to pay for sustaining said Barton Fire Department, and if so how much.

3d. To see if the village will vote a tax upon the grand list of said village, (in case said village should vote money under the above named articles) to pay the same, and if so how much.

Dated at Barton, this 27th day of April, A. D. 1903.

L. M. HUBBARD, Village Clerk.

Mr. Ira Wyman, whose illness has been mentioned in this paper several times, died last evening. Mr. Wyman had been in feeble health all winter, but suffered a slight shock of paralysis four weeks ago from which he did not fully recover. Last Wednesday he had another shock from which he continued to fall until his death. He was conscious until yesterday morning but it was difficult for him to make himself understood. Mr. Wyman was born in Irasburgh Dec. 11, 1830. During his early life he spent several years in Fairlee and later resided for a time in Derby, from which town he moved to Barton in 1853, at the time of his marriage. He joined the M. E. church in March, 1855, and had been a steward of the church several years. He was an enthusiastic worker in everything pertaining to the church. His sterling worth and Christian character won him hosts of friends who miss his kindly word and pleasant smile. The funeral will be held at his late home on Wednesday at 2 p. m.
