ORLEANS COUNTY COURT.

of Taplin & Rowell vs. F. F. which has been on trial since closed March 21. The case was handled by the attorneys for the. About an extra day was taken and the case given to the 22. After about five hours' de- verdict was returned for the to recover the sum of $1857.19. ions involved in this suit were as follows:

3. Lang buy of Taplin & Rowell involved in this suit, for and in of F. F. Marcy?

uch is due on the log?

he questions in regard to the lum- stion.

ave authority from Marcy to in Marcy's name lumber as well ng authorized to purchase on edit?

lien notes given by Lang and y Taplin & Rowell in payment lumber so bought of Taplin &

Rowell, or were they given and received only as security?

In the purchase of said logs and lumber was it agreed that the plaintiffs were not to part with the title to the same until they should receive their pay therefor?

In the purchase of said logs and lumber was it agreed that plaintiffs should have either cash or lien notes therefor when the same was counted off the cars at Lang's mill yard?

Was there an agreement between Lang and Taplin & Rowell as to who should sign such notes?

This case will undoubtedly go to the higher court on exceptions. Young & Young for plaintiffs, Redmond and Aldrich for defense.

The case of W. H. Rann, by next friend vs. M. C. Twitchell and the Mary Fletcher Hospital, was taken up Friday morning. The plaintiff in this case is a boy 12 years old and he brings his action to recover damage for the alleged malpractice of the defendants. The plaintiff's claim is substantially as follows: Sometime in the fall of 1905 he exploded a railway torpedo by dropping a stone thereon and in consequence received a piece of tin in his right eye. His parents took him to local physicians, who, after examination, advised them to take him to the Mary Fletcher hospital in Burlington for treatment, which they did. There Dr. Twitchell made an examination and, as is claimed, directed them to return home with the boy as there was nothing in the eye. This they did, but after a period of intense suffering another examination was made by local physicians, who removed a piece of tin from the eye. Now the boy is blind in that eye; hence the suit. This case will probably last three or four days and is being tried by special jurors. Cook and Williams for plaintiff, A. G. Whittemore, Young & Young for two defendants. Several respondents have been brought before the court during the week and entered pleas of guilty or not guilty as their case happened to be. Account of these more in detail will be given as they come up for sentence.

Dainty refreshments were served in the dining room, and the party returned home having spent a delightful evening.

Mrs. C. Auclair, who has recently moved on to the Tripp farm, died last Saturday of acute Bright's disease after a few days' sickness. It will be remembered that Mr. Auclair bought the place last fall and moved his goods and family into the house during the past month, and the sudden death of Mrs. Auclair calls forth the sympathy of the whole community. Mrs. Auclair leaves a babe eight weeks old, and two other small children. The funeral will be held at the Catholic church at 9 o'clock tomorrow, Tuesday, morning.

The Woman's Literary Club met with Mrs. Blake Wednesday evening, March 21, a large number being present. The roll call, "School Day Reminiscences," called forth many amusing anecdotes. A paper, "The Geographical Outline of Austria," was given by Miss Mary Webster; paper, "Austrian Retrospect," by Mrs. Batchelder; paper, "Meiternich," by Mrs. Thompson. Mrs. Lang gave a sketch of the life of Madame de Stael, and Mrs. Reid read an article from the Bay View Magazine. Miss Elliott prepared a paper upon "Millet, Larolle, and Ross Bonheur," read by Mrs. Nichols. The hostess sang two selections.

The four-act comedy drama, "Wedding Bells," will be presented at Seaver's opera house, to-morrow, Tuesday, evening, by the Lyndonville Dramatic Club, for the benefit of the Barton Cornet Band. This is a royalty play and has never been produced here. It was recently produced at Lyndonville by this same company and to say it was a success would be putting it very mildly. It contains a beautiful love story, with plenty of good acting and a lot of good clean comedy. As this is for the benefit of the band here it is hoped that we may see a good house at this performance. Reserved seats are now on sale at Pierce's pharmacy, and if you have not got yours yet, get in line and procure them before the good ones are gone.

The Afternoon Study Club met with Mrs. Barron Thursday afternoon. There were nineteen members and two visitors present. The roll call was responded to by facts about birds. A good deal of pleasing and valuable information was given relative to New England birds. Mrs. Seaver read in a very artistic manner a poem "The Bobolink," Mrs. Ellen Webster read an article, "Niagara Falls,—How Commerce Would Destroy Beauty for Wealth." A short recess was taken to give Mrs. Cowles, who has recently returned from Albany, N. Y., where she has spent the winter, a reception. Mrs. Barrows read a selection, "The Natural Wonders of Colorado." Following this, the M. A. S. sang "Summer Days," by Franz Abt; "O' 'Tis Not Always Summer Time," a very appropriate selection which was complimented. Mrs. Underwood read "The Picturesque in the Scriptures." Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, following which an interesting letter was read by Mrs. Barrows, which was written by Mrs. Luvia Webster, a prominent member of the club, who is now in California. The closing exercise was both helpful and interesting, and participated in by several members of the club, subject, conversation, "Authors who Help Us Enjoy Nature." All the members were glad to congratulate Mrs. Barron on her recovery from her severe illness, and ability to entertain the club so pleasantly.

One article in the warning for the meeting of the voters of the incorporated school district, to be held in the school building tomorrow, Tuesday, evening at 7:30 o'clock, p. m., is creating considerable interest and is a much discussed question on the streets. That article reads: "To see if the district will vote to procure a suitable lot, if it is decided the one it now owns is not suitable, and construct a school building; if so to elect a suitable committee and determine in what way funds shall be procured to build the same." This meeting promise to be one of the most interesting for some time and every voter should consider it an important duty to attend, and if he has convictions for or against the building of a new building he or she (women paying taxes can vote and hold office in a school district) should feel it their duty to express them. The matter is an important one and must be thrashed out soon and no doubt the process will begin at any rate at this meeting. The question stands with the voters, shall we build? or shall we not build? If you believe we should you ought to be at the meeting and it is just as important for you to be there if you believe it is to the detriment of the district to build. Post yourself on the question. Look the old building over. See if it is in keeping with the rest of the village. Figure the thing out and then come to the meeting. Come, whatever your convictions are. "Don't set back in the breeching and kick."
