

ORLEANS COUNTY MONITOR

WALLACE H. GILPIN, Publisher, Barton, Vt.

Published every Wednesday afternoon. Entered at the Postoffice at Barton, Vt., as second-class matter.

TERMS

One year, $1.50. Six months, 75c. Two months, 25c. Invariably in advance. When your subscription expires the paper stops.

WHY?

In view of the fact that the Monitor first started this gubernatorial talk, by actually speaking right out in meeting a few weeks ago, that is, mentioning a specific person, Dr. Mead of Rutland, as a candidate for governor in 1910 and thereby launching the whole debate to this time--this paper naturally feels some responsibility, or better deep interest in the contention and its development.

A few of the papers have spoken what seemed to them to be a "manufactured sentiment" for Mead in Orleans county. This is not a good guess. As far as the Monitor is able to learn Orleans county is for Mead.

With the desire of bring out the qualities and the weaknesses of Dr. Mead, and the other candidates, the Monitor, Yankee fashion, desires to ask a few questions, and hopes in all earnestness they will be answered.

Without discounting the qualities of Fleetwood, or any of the other "talked of's" the Monitor would respectfully ask: Why Dr. Mead is not better qualified for governor? Has he not had more legislative experience? Has he not had more business experience? Is he too old? Is his career dishonorable? Is his army record against him? What are his disqualifications? Fleetwood is young. There are other campaigns coming. Mead fought in the war, suffered injuries that have lamed him for life but has never asked a pension. Is there any reason why Lieutenant-Governor Mead should not be governor? Why should he be turned down?

The Monitor is frank. Will anyone tell us frankly WHY?

The Montpelier Morning Journal is making good.

So far as known the candidacy of Dr. F. T. Kidder of Woodstock for Lieutenant-Governor is not taken very enthusiastically in this corner of the state.

In the death of Governor Johnson of Minnesota, the United States loses a progressive young democrat, the most promising man in the party, an honest, fearless, broad minded man who accomplished things. The nation cannot afford the loss of such men when just in the prime of life.

Montpelier Seminary has until Friday to raise the balance of the endowment fund. As a state we can hardly afford to have the school lose this opportunity and every individual should feel a personal interest. If you have been interviewed to give you are able to give and should deem it a privilege. Hurry!

Some men would not hold their tongues as long as Cook has, with a volley of those short and ugly words being continually fired at him by Peary. Someone asked Cook how he could say such nice things about Peary when he (Peary) said such mean things about Cook. Cook said they both might be mistaken.

The last number of the Vermonter was a souvenir number of the Tercentenary, and a fine number it is. No Vermonter should be without this number and then send a couple to out-of-the-state friends. The typographical excellence of this magazine is not to be outclassed by the biggest and most expensive magazine in the country.

Catarrh of the Throat.

Catarrh of the bronchial tubes is a common cause of throat trouble. The symptoms of catarrh of the throat are: pain in the middle of the chest, cough worse on lying down at night, rattling in the chest, severe cough on catching cold, coughing up thick yellowish mucus. Bydale's Catarrh Remedy used as a gargle, and taken internally will cure every case of Catarrh of the bronchial tubes.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY.

The hunters' license law, which was adopted by the most recent Vermont legislature and which went into effect with considerable eclat on the first day of the present month of September, is a curiously botched job of legislation. In the first place the attorney general disagreed with the state fish and game commissioner as to the interpretation of the words "resident" and "alien." Now comes the information that there is no uniformity in the charge for fees for the licenses, Attorney General Sargent stating that some town clerks are charging ten cents, some twenty-five cents, and others perhaps more. This is manifestly unjust and liable to bring about a great deal of confusion and misunderstanding.

This much is true. Of no candidacy whose impetus comes from a Vermont Fish and Game League banquet can it be fairly said that "it does not bear the hallmark of organized politics, nor, indeed the footprint of the politician."

Without discounting the qualities of Fleetwood, or any of the other "talked of's" the Monitor would respectfully ask: Why Dr. Mead is not better qualified for governor? Has he not had more legislative experience? Has he not had more business experience? Is he too old? Is his career dishonorable? Is his army record against him? What are his disqualifications? Fleetwood is young. There are other campaigns coming. Mead fought in the war, suffered injuries that have lamed him for life but has never asked a pension. Will Manufacture Cans.

The Enosburg Falls Condensed Milk Company is planning the erection of a large building in which will be manufactured the cans necessary for putting up milk in the local plant as well as for the other factories in Michigan and Pennsylvania. The building will be near the company's present factory and work will be begun in the spring. It is expected that forty hands will be employed in the new addition.

Shot from Ambush.

Charles L. Streeter, who lives near North Poultney, was shot in the back while passing by some woods near the old Jones place, Monday night about 8 o'clock, and severely wounded. Mr. Streeter had on a corduroy coat, lined with sheepskin, which probably saved his life as some of the shot were caught in it. Many of them lodged in his back and ribs. He went into the house of Charles Sherman and a Poultney physician was summoned and attended him. The attack on Mr. Streeter is a mystery.

Thinks Mrs. Eddy Dead.

Dr. F. J. Foster of Waterbury Center adopted son of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, says that he is certain his foster mother has been dead for some time, and that her death is being concealed from the public by a coterie of Christian Scientists. He alleges that Mrs. Eddy made a compact with him several years ago, whereby he is named as her successor. Dr. Foster also intimates that vast sums of money donated for church work are being hoarded in vaults of the society, or have been diverted to improper uses. He further declares that legal actions will soon be taken against the plotters.

Plans for a New Railroad.

Plans are being perfected for the building of a railroad from Stockbridge station on the White River valley railroad, through Pittsfield to Chittenden, a distance of about five and one-half miles. The parties back of the plan are also interested in the Bayonne Lumber company, of Bayonne, N. J. which company has recently purchased the lumber lands in Chittenden, formerly owned by Tweed River Iron company, and later by T. A. Peart. They own 3000 acres upon which it is estimated there is 25,000,000 feet of lumber. They have made surveys for a standard gauge road and are now buying up rights of the land owners through which the survey runs.

Costly Fire in Brookfield.

The village of Brookfield, was in danger of being destroyed Tuesday, September 27, by a lively conflagration, which raged for over three hours before it was brought under control. The damage done is estimated to be in the vicinity of $15,000. That it is not greater is owing to a shift in the wind and the help of fire companies from nearby towns. The fire started in the barn of the Congregational parsonage and was discovered about one o'clock. The brisk wind which was blowing caused it to quickly communicate to the parsonage. Hardly any of the contents of the parsonage could be saved. Several other nearby buildings were ignited and partially burned. As Brookfield has no regular hose company, the volunteers who assembled could do little to stop the progress of the blaze and it looked as if the entire village would go. The word soon spread to the neighboring villages however, and they responded generously. Their efforts combined with those of the Brookfield people checked the blaze so that it was brought under control by 4 o'clock, a shift in the wind greatly aiding them. The damage done is the destruction of the Congregational parsonage and barn and the partially destruction of Peck, Clark & Company's factory, James McDermott's residence, and the Haggerty residence. It is thought that the fire originated with some small boys, who were seen in the barn shortly before the fire was discovered.

State Fair.

The state fair at White River Junction last week was a success. The Morgan horse exhibit was one of the big features of the fair and the premium awards for this class were found herewith. The races were fast and the Free-for-All Friday was one of the events of the week. Wednesday was Governor's day and Governor Prouty and staff were present, also a host of other distinguished guests. This was the record day, 18,000 being present. Awards in Morgan horse classes were made as follows:

Murder and Suicide at Danville.

Mrs. Kate Frye, of Danville wife of Fred J. Frye, was murdered Friday forenoon by Abel Hartshorn, who after firing two shots into the woman's body, turned the weapon on himself, dying from a wound in the head. The murderer in the case was about to be the defendant in a $10,000 suit brought by the husband of the murdered woman for alienation of his wife's affections, and there has been trouble between the two families for some

When You Take Cold

One way is to pay no attention to it; at least not until it develops into pneumonia, or bronchitis, or pleurisy. Another way is to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. If he says, "The best thing for colds," then take it. Do as he says, anyway.

When the bowels are constipated, poisonous substances are absorbed into the blood instead of being daily removed from the body as nature intended. Knowing this danger, doctors always inquire about the condition of the bowels. Ayer's Pills.

A Musical Tyrant.

Gluck as a conductor is said to have been an unmerciful tyrant. Frequently the musicians would have to repeat a passage twenty times before he was satisfied. The members of the Vienna court orchestra complained of this hard usage to the emperor, Joseph II., who appeared them by agreeing to give them 2 ducats instead of 1 ducat for every performance at which Gluck should conduct.

"Did you attend the Gilderscads' afternoon reception?"

"Yes; frightful jam. Mrs. Bigler had her arm broken."

"Dear me! How?"

"She happened to get in the way when the refreshment room door was opened."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Foley's Kidney Pills cure backache, rheumatism, kidney, bladder and urinary troubles. Do not risk having Bright's disease or diabetes. Sold by all druggists.

A little boy of four was begging to go to see a little neighbor. His mother had repeatedly refused. Finally she said, "Drury, do not ask me if you can go to see Joe again." Then the child in his slow way asked, "Well, mamma, if I could go, how long could I stay?"—Delineator.

A Clean Mouth

For a sinful heart you need the touch Divine, But for a Dirty Mouth this touch of mine.

Ma. said a little child with senses quick, O, ma, your "b e" so bad it makes me sick; I don't think I can "t i s" you any more, "'t cause" your "m o u t h" smells like a nasty sore.

Your innocent child tells the truth.

Your friends hold their breath and think things unfit for publication.

Why do you keep in your mouth those decomposing teeth,—those sworn, relentless enemies of good digestion,—those health polluting, nauseating old snags, suggestive of pus, vomit and a pestilential blend of infernal stenches for which there is only one name—STINK!

You may call this coarse language; you may call it unrefined expression, but it is the everlasting truth.

Disgusted, eh?

Well, if a description of the facts produces disgust, the facts themselves should call forth your pronounced hostility against those miserable tenants who pay no rent and defile the temple they inhabit.
