C. V. STRIKE ENDED.

The strike of conductors, trainmen and yardmen which began on the Grand Trunk and Central Vermont systems on July 18, was officially called off last night. Under the terms of the agreement signed by President Hays for the railroads and all the union officials the men will receive 18 per cent raise in wages now, and beginning January 1, 1912, a rate of wages slightly below the eastern association schedule for which they struck, but an advance in many instances of over 30 per cent. Much credit for the successful outcome of the peace negotiations is given to W. L. MacKenzie King, Minister of Labor, who has persisted in his efforts to bring the men together despite discouraging setbacks. The settlement is a victory for the railroads, although some concessions were granted the men.

Barrows were appointed a committee to confer with the village trustees regarding park matters. In reorganizing, the society hopes to have the support of all the ladies in town and a large membership.

Beautifying the Park.

Following the band stand agitation for the park at the "lower end," enterprising citizens have circulated a paper and funds have been raised for a fountain, the park will be laid out by an expert, who has been here, a granite curbing placed about it and everything put in first class shape. A fund of some $800 has been raised in all and when the band stand, fountain and all are in place the improvement here will be marked. It is hoped to have the work complete before fair time.

DR. HOLTON REPORTS

What the State Board of Health and Other Authorities Say about the Sickness in and about Barton.

Although the epidemic of sickness in Barton and surrounding towns has subsided, no real cause of the disease has been found and the report of Dr. Holton of the State Board of Health throws little light on the subject. While the exact nature of the disease is not revealed the following statements all tend to show that little if any typhoid has appeared among the 200 sick ones in Barton and adjoining towns. It is understood the death rate in typhoid epidemics is from 7 per cent to 10 per cent and even greater. At the lowest calculation 14 deaths would have resulted from a run of typhoid in which 200 people were affected.

The local health officer, Dr. Prime, makes the following statement:

"Why this typhoid scare in Barton? Briefly I will say a word in explanation. July 7 last, when all was peaceful and quiet and there seemed nothing to mar the beauty of a summer day I was suddenly aroused from my solitude and quiet meditation to scenes so vastly different that the cold chills indicated malaria rather than typhoid. However, it was typhoid that my intruder accused me of concealing. I was responsible for rafts of disease dangerous to the public health. Dr. Holton of Brattleboro of the state board of health was called and my removal from office was requested. Why? Just because I would not hoist the flag of death and destruction when it was not in evidence. I believe the findings of the State Laboratory, and Dr. Holton's report, bear me out in the attitude I take concerning this controversy.

"M. F. Prime, "Barton Health Officer."

Following is the official report of the State Board of Health:

"To the Local Board of Health of Barton,

"M. F. Prime, M. D., Secretary, "Ge-tlemen:

"We herewith submit to you the following report and considerations relative to the epidemic sickness which has recently prevailed in Barton and adjoining towns, covering an area of 165 square miles, having a population of 6000 persons. In this area 200 cases of illness have occurred, all presenting practically the same symptoms. Stiff neck, headache (without delirium.) In the majority of the cases there was more or less irritation of bowels, as indicated by vomiting, diarrhoea, or when given a laxative a continued and profuse action, temperature from 100 to 105 degrees which dropped to normal in 12 to 14 days when convalescence began. There was great prostration, considerable loss of flesh—all terminated in recovery. The source of water and milk supply were varied hence could not have been a cause. There were one or two cases in which the temperature and blood tests indicated typhoid but these were not the typical cases of the epidemic nor did it appear to be any other specific disease.

"Investigation developed that all of the cases had eaten of hulled corn purchased from the same peddler who made weekly trips through the various towns. This man resided near Roaring Brook. His only water supply was from this brook which received considerable sewage from West Glover. The water of this brook shows sewage pollution. The can was washed with this water; the corn was put into it warm serving as a most excellent culture bed for the growth and development of bacteria. We have

THE PILLSBURY-BALDWIN CO.

It has practically been decided by the directors and stockholders of the above named Company to wind up their business in Barton and they expect to be located in their new quarters before Jan 1st.

The shops are now working on half capacity, and as stock on hand is matched up, the force will still further be decreased. The company have at this time about 5000 complete tanks and seats, but an effort will be made to greatly reduce this stock. The railroad facilities, as well as having a modern plant will be greatly to the advantage of the company at St. Johnsbury. And the additional capital has seemed to be a necessity.

The most popular feature will be the public dinner that any of the visitors can enjoy. There will be a very attractive after dinner program that will be open to all. The guest of honor will be Col. George Harvey of New York and editor of Harper's Weekly. Invitations will also be sent to Congressman Foster and Plumley, Senator C. S. Page and ex-Gov. Proctor. W. J. Bigelow will serve as toastmaster.

been unable to secure samples of this hulled corn and so cannot report definitely on its condition. It is especially to be noted that when the sale and use of this corn ceased no more cases developed.

"Respectfully submitted in behalf of the State Board of Health,

"Henry D. Holton, "Secretary and Executive Officer."

The following statement is from Prof. Kingsford of Dartmouth Medical college, a specialist of wide experience to whom specimens were submitted:

"M. F. Prime, M. D., "Barton, Vermont.

"Dear Doctor:

"Microscopical examination of blood sent shows negative Widal reaction. Cultures show no colon or typhoid. Differential count shows a leukocytosis, so you can rule out typhoid. Some inflammatory condition not typhoid but there is a sure leukocytosis. "Yours truly,

"H. N. Kingsford."

The following is from a personal letter from Prof. Stone of the Vermont Laboratory of Hygiene at Burlington to Health Officer Prime, Barton:

"M. F. Prime, M. D., "Barton Vt.

"Dear Doctor:

"We have examined a number of those specimens sent by different physicians at Dr. Holton's request during the last few days and find them universally negative. The symptoms would also seem to preclude typhoid fever, short duration of rather violent onset warrants the conclusion that they are not typhoid. In reference to the reaction it would not be surprising in a large number of cases of intestinal gastritis to find an occasional reaction. I am forwarding all these laboratory findings to Dr. Holton and I have no doubt you will receive his version of the matter within a short time.

"Very truly yours, "B. H. Stone."

THE COUNTY CONVENTION

More about the Republican County Convention at Newport. Hill Finally Wins.

As our readers will recall, our issue of a week ago went to press before the long drawn out contest for high sheriff was finished at the republican county convention at Newport, Wednesday, July 27. The rest of the results of the convention were given briefly as they were sent to this office by wire.

Hill won the sheriff fight on the sixteenth ballot, after Wakefield withdrew from the contest, most of his men going to the Hill forces. Erastus Buck, the close second to Hill in the sheriff contest was nominated for high bailiff and this completed the nomination as found at the head of the editorial column on page two.

The convention was supposed to have been called at 10 o'clock in the forenoon but owing to delays of various natures it was nearly 2 o'clock before business was begun and it was nearly 6 o'clock before adjournment was taken, so late in fact that Congressman Foster of Burlington who had come to address the convention returned without speaking, much to the regret of all present. It took more than two hours to elect a sheriff. The contest is considered one of the hottest the county has ever seen and there were many surprises. Owing to complications on the contest for side judge, sheriff, judge of probate and other offices some "swapping" of unpledged delegations was done.

Putting this report with that of last week, the history of the convention will be complete, with the exception of the county committee which is as follows:

FAIR ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Orleans County Fair association will hold its 21st annual fair at Roaring Brook Park, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 7, 8 and 9. Tuesday, September 6, will be entry day and the other three days will be fair every day.

The great interest manifested by our people has made the annual fair a pronounced success, and the increased interest taken by former exhibitors presages a magnificent exhibit for 1910. We therefore wish to announce that great improvements will be made to accommodate the exhibitors in every department.

A fine commodious stock shed, good quarters for poultry and pet stock, one of the best race tracks in the state, good water and many other accommodations, will contribute towards making this fair most successful. We are pleased to remember the services rendered by those who took an active part in the fair last year, and indulge the hope that they will take even a more active interest this year and do all in their power to induce a like zeal on the part of their neighbors and acquaintances, to the end that we may have the best fair in this section of the county.

Fairs are a public enterprise, a place where people may meet and exchange views, study the improved methods, meet old friends and make new acquaintances. Its purpose is to keep abreast with advanced agriculture and the trades, that our community may be able to take front rank and cope with the revolutionizing influences and changing customs that are annually taking place. And for this purpose a time and place is set apart to bring together the products of the field, shop and the home, that stimulus might be given to those departments of labor, upon which rests our great national wealth, prosperity and civilization.

Make your plans early to be an exhibitor in as many departments as you can, and thus do your part toward making the Fair this year larger and better than any exhibition of former years.

It is the aim of the society to make this fair one of the very best in this section and that this may be done we ask for the help of every resident of the county. Come with your family and join in the festivities of this annual reunion of the people of this county. There will be something to please everyone, from the youngest to the oldest, and by helping to increase the exhibits, and by swelling the numbers in attendance, you can materially assist in making this annual exhibition a splendid success.

An urgent request is made by the association to have all entries made for premium articles and premium stock on or before 5 o'clock p. m. Tuesday, Sept 6 and to have all exhibits for premiums in the respective places on the grounds at the above named time. But owing to the fact of Freeman's meeting occurring on that date entries will be received and articles and stock taken for premiums Wednesday, Sept. 7, until 10 a. m., at which time the judges will commence their work in each of the respective departments. Applicants are urged to the superintendent of the department or to the secretary. In case owners cannot arrive in time articles for Floral hall can be sent or left with A. S. Drew, Superintendent of that building. Owner's name and instructions for entry to be attached to articles. No admission will be charged on Tuesday, Sept. 6. Exhibitors' tickets will be issued to exhibitors whose entrance fee amounts to one dollar, and will be good for the entire fair.

The management hopes to crown the efforts of this year with the highest measure of success. To all, we say come; prepare yourself to improve in the labor you propose for the coming year by spending a few days mingling with your fellow men at the fair.
