SEEVER'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

Have you dyspepsia? If you have perhaps you want to get rid of it. You can by taking SEEVER'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS. We do not print any pictures of before and after taking. You get them by standing before the looking glass. If you don't believe this try the tablets and you will. We have proved that SEEVER'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS will cure dyspepsia over and over again. We are ready to demonstrate it in your case, and we will tell you how. Go to the store of the E. W. Barron Company, Orleans, or K. Neely's Pharmacy, Orleans, and get a package. Take it according to directions. If it cures you step in and tell the druggist so. If it doesn't step in just the same, and tell him that, and he will hand you right back the ducats you paid him. Do you suppose this offer would be made if we had any doubt about what the tablets will do for you? Do you see any way that you can lose any money out of it? But if you really enjoy dyspepsia, and want to retain it permanently, let SEEVER'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS alone, for the tablets won't let dyspepsia alone.

Vermont Bar Association Meets.

The annual meeting of the Vermont Bar association was held in the court room at the county court house, Montpelier, last week, with a large attendance. Only routine business was considered at that session, but in the evening, at the same place, James M. Tyler, president of the association, delivered an address on "The Temple" in London and showed that there the English law had its growth. The banquet at the Pavilion later in the evening was the event of the day and the speeches and good fellowship lasted until midnight. Judge Tyler presided and J. H. Mimmus was toastmaster. The first speaker was F. D. Thompson, who spoke on "The Supreme Court" and he was followed by Judge William H. Taylor in an address on "The Superior Judges;" Congressman D. J. Foster on "The Development of International Law;" E. Fabre Surveyor of Montreal on "The Bar of Montreal;" George B. Young on "The American Bar Association" and Levi C. Smith of Burlington spoke for the newly elected members of the bar.

Students Enforce Rules.

Principal Tuttle of the Bellows Falls high school is the first of the Vermont high school principals to try out self-government in the high school in a sweeping and systematic way, giving over the entire administration of discipline to the student body. Under his direction the high school has organized a model "village" government, electing its moderator, trustees, clerk, treasurer and constable. The trustees have their own "president," who presides over the session of the trustees, and this body within a body considers all questions of infractions of rules reported by the various constables in each room occupied by the high school. New and varied forms of punishment are devised by the trustees, and there is always a special effort made to fit the penalty to the offense and at the same time to be so fair in the penalizing as to carry with it the school body in its innate love of fairness. This scheme has been at work a week now, and has thus far proved an admirable success. It seems to entirely relieve Principal Tuttle and his associates from the work of discipline and to leave them free to devote themselves to the work of instruction, and then to enjoy watching the school govern itself.

New Railroad Incorporated.

Articles of incorporation have been issued by the secretary of state to the Swanton & Alburg Railroad company, with its principal offices at Barre. The capital stock of the new corporation is $100,000, divided into 1000 shares of $100 each. Twenty-three shares are taken by Barre city citizens, three by citizens of Canada, and 475 shares by Charles S. Mellen of New Haven, Conn. The directors of the new corporation are Fred S. Darling of Barre, Frank G. Howland of Barre, Thomas H. Cave, jr., of Barre, S. Keemle of Toronto, and A. C. Percival of Montreal. The purpose of the corporation is to construct, maintain and operate a railroad, starting in the town of Swanton and extending to Alburg, a distance of 10 miles. This road will be a connecting link between the St. Johnsbury & Lake Champlain road at Swanton and the Rutland railroad at Alburg. The articles of incorporation are issued on the findings of the Vermont public service commission, which issued a certificate to the incorporators, under date of Oct. 31, as follows: "We therefore hereby certify that the said proposed railroad, namely, the Swanton & Alburg Railroad company, will be promotive of the general good of the state and that said petitioners have complied with the provisions of the statute for the formation of a railroad corporation by voluntary association."

Mr. Phillips' Morgan Breeding Approved.

In the course of the address H. S. Warden, president of the Morgan Horse club, delivered at the annual meeting of the club at the Vermont state fair, Sept. 21, he said: "At our early meetings one call was: 'Select the type and breed to it.' I answer that the type is fixed already for the Morgan horses of the past. I know of no horse living today that is fit to be a model. I can point to horses that may partially suggest it; for instance, such horses as Welcome, Gifford Comet, Fleetfoot, Bobby B., Lyndon or Prince Charles if they possessed the head and front and happy animation of Donald. Perhaps old Bob Morgan, whom we had the pleasure of seeing here a year ago and to whom I was proud to present the Morgan trophy, may be a nearer approach to the true and ancient Morgan type than any of the horses I first named. But no one of them measures up to the ancient Morgan type as shown in Hale's Green Mountain Morgan or Billy Root. Still we must take such material as we have and in the selection of material we must take blood as well as type. My study of the situation (and I have given much time to the subject) has satisfied me that we must utilize all of the blood that is now available and to breed as many animals as we can in which Morgan blood largely predominates. Then we must select the best and breed them to each other. My present view is that Mr. Phillips of Barton, whom I have termed the most fastidious of the breeders of Morgans, has done as much as any other modern breeder towards the perpetuation of the Morgan breed. He meets with disappointments now and then, I do not doubt, but he has saved from destruction and has actually produced by his strict adherence to blood lines animals that are invaluable to a present day effort to keep the breed alive. As far as my individual efforts are concerned, I shall stand for blood-lines, line breeding, pedigree-breeding, if you choose to call it such, provided that the type is respectably close to the old-fashioned Morgan. A horse of Morgan type, even though a handsome individual which is known to be the product of a cross will not appeal to me as a breeding proposition." In another part of his address he said: "While I look for a change of fashion in respect to action in horses and a moderation of the extreme action in horses that is now applauded, I do not think it is to be expected that Morgan horses will be appreciated at their true value in metropolitan horse shows until that change arrives. The usual action of the modern show ring performer is that which seems to engage the entire frame. Morgan action may be detected by comparing Mr. Ewart's Thunder Cloud with Mr. Phillips' Eudora. I would preserve that distinction."
