BANKER ARRESTED.

Friday night Elliot Heath and Earl Foss of Derby Line were surprised and taken prisoners just as they were making their exit from the residence of Dr. Halsey at Derby Center, which they had burglarized. It appears that the several houses, known as the Bates property in Derby had been broken into during the past two years, and on this account during the summer occupancy of the owners, the houses had been equipped with a complete burglar alarm system connecting with the farm house of the overseer, Ed. Davis. Mr. Davis was awakened Friday night about midnight by the ringing of the alarm, and hastily arising, secured the ser-

GEN. S. P. JOCELYN.

The following regarding Gen. Jocelyn, a native and former resident of Barton, now of Burlington, is taken from a series of daily articles appearing in the Burlington News under the head, Stirring Days of '61.

Gen. Stephen P. Jocelyn of this city has the distinction of being "the only officer, born in and appointed from the State of Vermont, who has reached the rank of Brigadier General of the line, on the active list, in the regular army of the United States, and exercised the command pertaining thereto."

General Jocelyn is also commander of the Vermont Commandery of the Military Order of Loyal Legion of the United States and will have charge of the next meeting of the Commandery which will be held on Friday evening at the Van Ness.

Probably no Vermont officer has had a more varied career in the army than General Jocelyn, who not only fought in the war for the union against the Indians, but held important commands in the Philippines and was on duty in San Francisco, serving as Chief of Staff of the Pacific Division at the time of the earthquake and fire disaster in that city. Later he commanded the Department of Columbia, (Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Alaska,) and having attained the age of 64 years, retired from active service by operation of law March 1, 1907.

Since his retirement from active service General Jocelyn, with his family, has honored the city of Burlington by making it his home, and his legion of friends wish him a long and happy life.

General Jocelyn, who was formerly of Barton, enlisted when a boy of 20 years of age in Company A, 6th Regiment of Vermont Vols., on the 22nd of August 1863. Upon reporting at the headquarters of the recruiting rendezvous at Brattleboro he was detailed for duty in the office of Major

"Did you ever see anything like it?" is the proper question with which to salute one on the street, referring to the weather. For a full week the weather has seemed like the last of April, practically all the snow having gone off. The ground is thawed out and for nearly a week the thermometer has not reached the freezing point even at night. Yesterday there came a heavy rainfall and it is beginning to snow this afternoon. Plenty of snow for good sleighing will be very welcome.

How many of our readers realize the amount of money that is raised for the campaign against tuberculosis, waged by the American Red Cross Society, from the sale of the tiny Red Cross Christmas seals. Over $300,000 was raised last year. Ver-

ONLY NINE ACTUAL SHOPPING DAYS UNTIL CHRISTMAS.

Do you realize that there are but nine actual shopping days until Christmas day? It is the truth nevertheless. It is high time to get busy. First we advise a thorough perusal of the pages of this paper. The advertising of the merchants of Barton and Orleans will surely help you in deciding what to give and in preparing a shopping list. That is half the fun of giving and will simplify the actual shopping work and strain. Let us help you prepare your list. Put down the name of the persons to whom you expect to make gifts. Following each name set down the article or articles you propose to give or inquire about, and following this note the name of the store advertising it. You will simply be surprised how such a shopping reminder will help you when you have reached town and everything is hurry and rush—just the time you are apt to forget. For example:

Mary, brooch or bracelet, Lang's
John, overcoat or fur cap, Syndicate
Baby, toys etc., Perley
Brother, skates, Whipple, French & Co.
Father, slippers, Stevens
Mother, silverware, Allchurch
Sister, chinaware, Jenness
Grandma, reading glass, Allchurch

Well, for example this ought to be enough. We will guarantee there is not a page of the 12 in this issue that is not worth your time to look over, both for the reading and the advertising.

Never before in the history of the villages did the merchants have such splendid window displays and they are worth going many miles to see. We have it from our advertising friends to say to you, "Come in and make yourself comfortable."

Smallpox Scare Dead.

The smallpox scare is dead as will be seen by the statement made by the health officer below.

"There are no more cases of smallpox in Barton and all quarantines have been raised. There is but one case in one family at Orleans and this family is and has been strictly quarantined. There is absolutely no cause for fear in either village."

M. F. Prime,
Health officer.

Stock and Buildings Burn.

The farm buildings of Victor Gilbert of Craftsbury were entirely destroyed by fire Monday night together with 24 head of cattle, one horse and seven hogs. It is thought the fire originated in a pile of sawdust from spontaneous combustion. It was under way when found. Most of the household goods were saved.
