Vermont Notes.

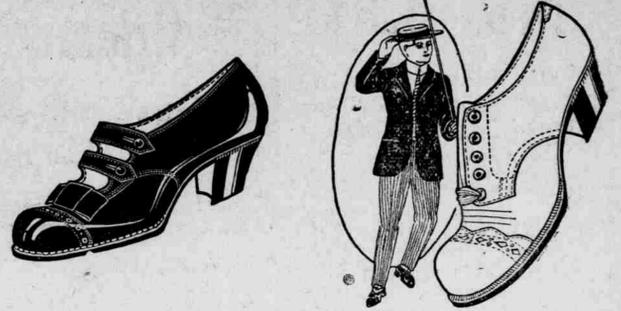

A large black bear was killed June 23 by Billy and Pete Costonguay, while hunting a little way beyond the farm of Tuffie Bulley near Island Pond. The bear was a male and weighed better than 200 pounds.

It was announced a few weeks ago that the Van Ness house would hereafter be open summers only, but it has been leased by W. P. Gardener and Meader Martin, formerly clerk and porter for the winter, and will therefore be kept open.

ORLEANS, VERMONT PUBLIC MARKET

Miss Amy B. Fisk.
The above named passed beyond the veil at Orleans on June 24th, aged 71 years. Her full baptismal name was Betsy Amanda Fisk, and her residence for a long term of years was at Montpelier, as a kindergartner and (by diploma) recommended as a trainer of kindergartners also. While still resident in her native place, Waitsfield, she became a successful teacher in common schools in the vicinity of her home, being employed in the same school for term after term. In 1867 she entered the old Spaulding academy at Barre, and after regular graduation from that venerable school, was employed as an assistant there. Then going to Worthington, Ohio, she took the full course as a kindergartner and having followed that phase of teaching for more than twenty years with much more success than applause, other claims, (of invalid sisters, to whom she was very faithful) turned her aside. When, at length, the home at Montpelier had to be given up she went to live with her only remaining sister at Orleans and was there again persuaded to attempt kindergartnering, no doubt to the shortening of her well-spent life. Her age and her ardent desire to be useful and serviceable were against her. Flesh and blood could not keep pace with such consecrated ambition, though she seemed to be able to throw off a severe cold and double congestion, till all at once a change came and in less than ten minutes all was over. Her marked Christian experience began very early in life, grew strongly and ripened and mellowed into a very interesting and influential character. Many will "rise up to call her blessed." According to her own arrangement her mortal remains were on Friday, June 27, tenderly deposited in the family lot on Waitsfield Common by her brother, the Rev. Perrin B. Fisk, now of Fairlee and her sister, Mrs. Carl E. Gay of this place, surrounded by a goodly company of other relatives and friends.
P. B. F.

"I watched a sail until it dropped from sight Over the rounding sea. A gleam of white, A last far-flashed farewell, and like a thought Slipt out of mind, it vanished and was not.
"Yet to the helmsman standing at the wheel Broad seas still stretched beneath the gliding keel, Disaster? Change? He felt no slightest sign, Nor dreamed he of my far horizon line.
"So may it be, perchance, when down the tide Our dear ones vanish. Peacefully they glide On level seas, nor mark the unknown bound. We call it death—to them 'tis life profound."

Postoffice Changes.

Alton G. Baird took charge of the postoffice, Tuesday, July 1, being appointed by President Wilson for a term of four years succeeding H. S. Webster, who has held the position continuously for twenty years and in all twenty-four years, Mr. Buchanan holding it during Harrison's administration. Mr. Webster has ably conducted the affairs of the office all these years, seeing it rise from a fourth-class to a second-class office ranking with Newport and St. Johnsbury. This great growth has been made possible by the immense mail order business conducted by R. W. Eldridge, the post card business of Whipple, French & Company and the Orleans Parcel Post company. Of course the prosperous condition of the village, due largely to the success of the E. L. Chandler Company, and the three R.D. routes supplying the town of Brownington, parts of Irasburg, Coventry and Westmore have in general contributed to its growth. While it is to be regretted that we are to lose from office a man who has given such universal satisfaction, it is gratifying to have the appointment come to a young man so well known and who has the qualifications and ability possessed by Mr. Baird. Mr. Baird has been a life long resident of the town, graduating from the Grammar school here and in the class of 1904 from Barton academy. He has had experience as a teacher, clerk and two years as a railway mail clerk, whose duties are similar to those of a postoffice. Mr. Baird's appointment meets with general satisfaction and we bespeak for him a successful administration of the affairs of the office.
