Hall Caine's Moonshine.

Authors and artists who have become well known by means of making the moon dance in the wrong houses of heaven are numerous, but we never expected Hall Caine to join the group. Yet in "The Scapegoat," chapter 23, on Israel's return from prison after eventual, we find that "with a wave of his hand he was gone into the darkness. It was a wonderful night. The moon, which was in its first quarter, was still low in the east." It was indeed a wonderful night. On no other night since the creation has the moon in its first quarter ever been seen daily in the east.—London Telegraph.

Time Saving. "I never waste time contradicting my wife," said Mr. Meekton. "Are you always sure she is right?" "I won't say that. But I am always sure she can convince me that she is."—Washington Star.

TYRANNY.

He who strikes terror into others is himself in continuous fear.—Claudianus.

The tyrant's plea excused his devilish deeds.—Milton.

O mighty father of the gods, when once dire lust, dyed with raging poison, has fired their minds, you unsafe to punish cruel tyrants in no other way than this—that they see virtue and pine away at having forsaken her.—Perseus.

The most imperious masters over their own servants are at the same time the most abject slaves to the servants of other masters.—Seneca.

The following from the Garden Grove (Cal.) News will be of interest to our readers: The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Sawyer of Garden Grove, Cal., was the scene of a very pleasant gathering Wednesday, the occasion being the birthday of Mrs. Sawyer's sister, Mrs. N. H. Kinney, of Craftsbury, Vt. The house was beautifully decorated with smilax, roses, red and white carnations, palms and daisies. The guests consisted of relatives and friends from Los Angeles, Santa Anna and Garden Grove. Mrs. C. H. Harriman of Albany, N. Y., assisted Mrs. Sawyer in receiving. A bountiful dinner was served under the direction of Mrs. S. R. Fitz, wife of Professor Fitz of Garden Grove, who with his family were present. After the last course was served the dining room was darkened and a beautiful white pyramid birthday cake, lighted with pink candles was brought in and presented to Mrs. Kinney, which she cut and served to each guest. The afternoon was spent in social intercourse and pleasant reminiscences of old Vermont.

The birthday of nearly the whole party. The company presented Mrs. Kinney with a Longfellow birthday book, where each guest placed his or her name. After heartily singing, "Hurrah for Old New England," the company left, happier for the very pleasant coming together.
