GLOVER COMMUNITY CHURCH
On Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. G. W. Douglas, spoke on the subject of Reverence. Text, Ps. 111:9, Holy and reverend is his name. Much depends on our conception of the character of God. The name of God gets its meaning from the character of God. Names designating the Deity found in the English Bible fail to convey the rich significance found in the Hebrew language. As described in the Bible, the character of God in his omnipotence, omniscience, eternity, immutability, holiness, justice, and love confirm the assertion of the text, "Holy and reverend is his name." The teaching of God respecting His holy name, His day, and ordinances bears like testimony. Reverence needs very much to be cultivated in this generation. Reverence toward God affects favorably man's attitude toward his fellows, disposes him to flee all sins of the body and enables him rightly to estimate life's values.

In the evening the sermon was on "The First Tragedy of History."

The class in personal work met early Tuesday evening with Mrs. Amy Bartlett.

The weekly social meeting will be held at the church Thursday evening at eight o'clock. Subject, "Witnessing for Christ."

The bulletin board which was broken by the recent high wind, has been put in condition and speaks its daily message so that whosever runs may read.

Preceding the preaching service there will be held a brief service of prayer for the minister and for the services of the day.

Sunday evening at 7.30 the pastor will begin a series of expository studies, "Men of Long Ago with a Message to Men of Today."

Tuesday afternoon and early evening the Sunshine class under the leadership of Mrs. Roy E. Davis, teacher, held a very pleasant social at the church.

The meeting of the Excelsior class will be postponed until Nov. 19th.

WEST GLOVER
Mr. Tyler, the new blacksmith, is working in his shop.
Mary Shedd spent a few days with her friend, Ruth Baker.
Isabel Young spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Jennie Siles.
Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Baker spent a day at C. F. Cutler's in Barton recently.
Mrs. R. C. Stevens has gone to Coaticook, P. Q., to attend her uncle's funeral.
Vernon Ticehurst of St. Johnsbury has been at the farm for a few days and had a new chimney laid.
Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Vance for the new grandson at C. R. Vance's at South Albany.
The play given by the Glover Dramatic club was well attended. All parts were well taken, judging by the applause and laughter.
Many will be sorry to hear of the death of Thomas Barzes in Coaticook, P. Q. He often visited friends here and we shall miss his genial smile and hearty handshake.

NORTH TROY
For some time the erection of a Catholic church in North Troy in the near future has been in contemplation, and some substantial action has been taken relative to a site and raising of funds. The idea is now being revived somewhat, and the prospect is excellent that before long it will be accomplished.

Be thankful for plenty of work, a heart to work, strength for work and fellowship in work. Those who will find it most difficult to be thankful are those who do not know the luxury of work.

THE GREENSBOROS

GREENSBORO

Mrs. Mary Stimson of Montpelier was in town Thursday.

E. C. Kinney of Montpelier visited friends here Thursday.

Mrs. Gertrude Campbell has sold her farm, stock and tools to Fred Goodrich.

Mrs. Ida Willey of Roxbury, Mass., visited her cousin, Mrs. J. D. Willey, last week.

Mrs. Frank Eastman visited a few days last week with her mother in Jeffersonville.

The ladies' Missionary society will hold their meeting, postponed from last week, on Friday at the home of Mrs. L. A. Perrin.

The town water is being put into the home of Mrs. Rose Tolman on North Main street and connection is being made with the sewer.

Many are attended the moving picture play, "The Birth of a Nation," given in Hardwick Nov. 8, 9 and 10. All report it well worth seeing.

The oyster supper and entertainment given by the ladies' Missionary society Thursday evening was well attended. The supper was excellent and should have called out many more people.

A number of men, including A. B. DeBrune, W. H. Rollins and Reuben Curtis are building a hunting camp on Wheelock mountain near the lake for their convenience during the fall hunting season.

The number on the Greensboro lecture course by Edward H. Frye, the monologist, will be given Saturday evening, Nov. 13. Please note the change of date of this entertainment and plan to come for it will be a good one.

The dramatic members of the Caspian Lake Grange have begun rehearsals on a play entitled "The Deacon," which they are to give in the near future to help pay the debt on their new hall. Look out for something good.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cuthbertson and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Perrin went by automobile on Tuesday last week to Stanstead, P. Q., and had a look at the ruins of that beautiful town so nearly destroyed by fire a short time ago.

Sunday, Nov. 14 will be observed as Go-to-Church Sunday by the Congregational church. The Vigilance class of the Sunday school will have the matter in charge and will expect to give everybody an invitation to come to church Sunday and start a good habit.

We have wondered whether the school board and teachers know of the profanity that is being used by the older boys (all under 15 years of age, however) on the playgrounds in our schools in the village. Such a condition is deplorable for the future of the manhood of our town.

A good number of local Grangers attended the special meeting of the Caspian Lake Grange in their hall Tuesday evening. The Caledonian Grange of East Hardwick, the Lamaille Grange of Greensboro Bend and the Grange at Hardwick, present as visitors, were well represented and a good program was given.

In the Congregational church Sunday evening the Junior C. E. meeting at 6.15 will be led by Arthur Drows and the subject will be, "How Jesus Measures Giving." The Senior C. E. meeting will be led by the pastor at 7 o'clock and the subject will be, "How the Denominations May Be United in Service."

The Happy Family Box Minstrels of Hardwick gave an entertainment in the town hall Friday evening, followed by a dance. There were only 18 people present at the entertainment and only eight couples at the dance. This small attendance meant some financial loss to those who backed the show with a guarantee.

The 20th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Kaiser was celebrated with a surprise party by their friends and neighbors on Friday evening, Nov. 5. About 75 gathered at their home about eight o'clock and none left until a late hour. Doughnuts, cake and coffee were served, and the following program was given and added to the interest of the evening: Readings, Will Miller, Miss Alice Kibby, Miss Stella Goodrich, Charles Miller, Mrs. Will Bates; college songs for all who wished to join. A sum of money was given Mr. and Mrs. Kaiser as a token of esteem.

Friday at 4 o'clock this village was thrown into considerable excitement when it was discovered that the Caspian Lake House owned by F. H. Dufur, was on fire. The fire appeared on the south end of the main building, in the peak of the roof and although there was much smoke, very little blaze was seen. The fire started in one of the upstairs bed rooms and was probably started in one of the upstairs bed rooms and was probably started by a partly burned cigarette or cigar being left in the room. The fire company responded promptly to the call with a large amount of good hose, pails, axes, etc. There was a large number of men present who aided in putting out the fire and many women who aided in removing most of the furniture from the large hotel. The fire was difficult to get at because there seemed to be no way to get into the garret except through the roof, in which several holes were cut. The department did good service and had plenty of water with high pressure. Most of the damage to furniture and building was done from water. Mr. Dufur and his family have the sympathy of the people of this vicinity and it is hoped that the Caspian Lake House may soon be in good repair again. The loss was all covered by insurance.

GREENSBORO BEND
