

One Half Bottle Earned Him $50

READ Mr. McLean's letter. See how quickly the cure earned him $50. The other half of the bottle cured him even more. Many men make a business of buying lame horses and curing them up with Kendall's Spavin Cure. They sell at a big profit.

EASY WAY TO MAKE HAIR ATTRACTIVE

Ladies May Add to Their Appearance With Little Trouble. Ladies who find trouble in properly or attractively arranging and dressing their hair should try using a little Parisian Sage twice a day for a while. It notes the remarkable improvement Parisian Sage, which can be obtained from F. D. Pierce or from any drug counter, makes the hair soft, lustrous, flax and wavy, takes out the dull, lifeless appearance, dissolves the dandruff and stimulates the hair roots into healthy normal action.

Estate of Nelson L. Dow, Glover

STATE OF VERMONT. District of Orleans, ss. The Probate Court for the District Aforesaid.

WHEREAS, Wallace L. Dow, administrator of the estate of Nelson L. Dow, deceased, has filed in said Court his written petition, therein representing that the said deceased, his lifetime, to wit, on the 26th day of December, 1908, entered into a contract in writing with W. S. Mason and Maud Owen Mason, of the County of Caledonia, conveyed by L. H. Pendleton to the said Nelson L. Dow by deed dated the 17th day of November, 1908, and recorded in Book 25, page 215 of the Land Records of said town of Hardwick; that said contract was conditioned that on payment of the purchase money and interest, and the performance by the said W. S. Mason and Maud Owen Mason of the agreements and stipulations contained in said contract, the said Nelson L. Dow would convey or cause to be conveyed, to the said W. S. Mason and Maud Owen Mason, by good and sufficient warranty deed, the above described premises; that the said W. S. Mason and Maud Owen Mason have paid a part of the purchase price of said premises; that the said W. S. Mason has since the execution of said contract, deceased; and that Maud Owen Mason, his widow, has continued to occupy said premises, and to pay the interest upon the balance of the purchase price thereof; that the said Maud Owen Mason is now ready and desires to pay the balance due upon said contract, and to receive a deed of said premises, as provided by said contract.

TEACHER-TRAINING NOTES. We are sure that the "girl chauffeur" of the training class is still a mystery. We think that occasionally we see proofs of our descent from ancient ancestors. Window boxes have been added to Room 18 and the narcissus bulbs have a fine start. The training class enjoyed a visit from Miss Hazel Harris of Orleans on Friday of last week. Several of our members attended the picture play, "The Birth of a Nation," at Newport, the past week. The training class has suddenly become interested in needles, thread and thimble. We wonder why. A member of the training class said that a certain hotel proprietor protested when she allowed her umbrella to run across the floor of the lobby. Miss Willson reminded us of the poem, "Backward, turn backward, O Time in your flight," as she followed the street parade Friday noon. Question: But why only Miss Willson, where was the rest of the class? During the past two days the training class has been making journeys around the world at the rate of 1000 miles per hour, trying to "get hold of" Standard Time. We wonder why this is necessary when one of the members is displaying a new watch.

URIC ACID POISON UNDERMINES HEALTH

When uric acid becomes seated in the kidneys, bowels, and blood, these organs begin to decay. Rheuma (not a "cure-all," but a specialist's prescription for all forms of rheumatism only), overcomes this condition. It limbers up the stiffened joints, reduces swellings, and quickly cleans the poison from the diseased organs. F. D. Pierce and all druggists sell Rheuma for 50 cents and will return your money if not satisfied. Be sure to get Rheuma trademarked package. Sold and guaranteed in Orleans by F. J. Kinney.

Mr Bates recently confessed at home that he had a sore throat. Consequently, he was sorry he spoke of it, for as a result, he was ordered by his wife to take some sulphur. Moral: Be careful about what you tell your wife or you may have to take your medicine.

At the junior reception, Miss W., appeared with a charming red rose in her hair. Miss C., when trying to pick the rose belonging to Miss W., received the command of, "Leave my rose alone." Miss C., replied, "I don't care for your old rose, I've got one of my own." "What do you suppose she meant?"

The following bits of advice were seen this past week on the blackboard in the study hall: "If you can't find the key to success, pick the lock." "Lose yourself in your work. Come early and stay late. Use every spare moment in developing methods, first to work better, and then faster. If there is someone higher up in the same business devote an evening a week to studying how he got there." "Accept few favors and see that you have a good title to what you earn."

The Apollo club was reorganized recently for the school year 1915-16. The following officers were elected: Ida Wright '16, president; Vera Carpenter '17, vice president; Bessie Stone '18, secretary and treasurer. The following program committee was appointed: Vera Carpenter '17, Marion Corley '18 and Marjorie King '19. The membership of the club consists of all members of the high school who are studying Latin this year; meetings are held every third Wednesday evening. This club serves the purpose of maintaining a high interest in the Latin work of B. A.

Buttons for the first 25 drills have been awarded by the Palmer company to the following pupils of the grammar to middle school: Lella Tate, Floyd Smith, Mary Shedd, Stanley Stevens, James Langevin, Eleanor Ryan, Bessie Lane, Eunice Stevens, Florence Copland; sixth grade, Rolla Wakeman, Frieda Lewis, Harris Marsh, Mildred McFarland, Ward Mudjett, Marjorie Webster, Sarah Cohen; seventh grade, Irene Dille, Ralph May; pins for the one hundred drills, grammar school, Roland Tripp, Henry Stone, Helen Buck, Shirley Hitchcock; improvement certificate, high school, Elva Mae Drown, Ruth Burnham, Mildred Merriam; final certificate, high school, Helen M. Carter.

E. Newton Smith, for the past three years principal of the Newport, N. H., high school, visited our school Wednesday afternoon in the interest of the Malden Commercial school of Malden, Mass. Mr. Smith very kindly gave an address to the pupils of the high school. Among other things, he said we should keep the word "self" in mind, not egotistically, but as representing the best in us. The word "self" consists of four letters; the first, "s," stands for service, typifying help at home, perfect lessons in school, and the doing for others as we should wish others to do unto us; the second letter, "e," represents effort and effort may be described as "motor driving" for the purpose of accomplishing something worth while; "l" stands for loyalty, without which we could not be true or faithful to perform even the smallest task; "f" stands for faith, of which we know nothing, yet have the blessed privilege of making it what we will. "Self," then, stands for service, effort, loyalty, future, which are, after all has been said and done, the highest things in life. In closing, Mr. Smith impressed on our minds the following little prayer: "I will perform each duty as a willing service to all mankind; using supreme effort to do all things well; giving loyalty to the best as I understand it; that my future may be led into the successful paths of each tomorrow."

One Little Boy's Thanksgiving

CERTAIN Little Boy who lives in a family where children and holidays and dogs are all important factors in everyday life was talking about the next holiday. The Little Boy has a trait common to childhood of living largely in anticipation and very little in memory. On the morning of Dec. 26 he awakes unafraid and alert, not to discuss yesterday's triumphs nor the wholesale unwise generosity of uncles and aunts. No, indeed! He begins his list for next Christmas.

This Little Boy had finished a glorious period of Halloween preparations. There was nothing he had not cut and painted and planned that the mind of a five-year-old child could conceive of. He had had a glorious month of anticipation, and it had been crowned by a satisfactory Halloween revel, but memory was to him only an incentive to further pursuit of joy, not a state wherein to rest awhile. "What's the next holiday, mamma?" asked Little Boy. "Thanksgiving, dear," answered mamma rather absently. Memory lingers with mamma, as there is debris enough to keep any feast in her mind for a day or so. "Oh, goodness! How soon is it?" "About three weeks." "Oh, that's a long time! What shall we do to get ready?" "Why, we'll make pies and cookies." "What else?" "Plum pudding and ice cream." "And—go on, mamma, please." "Nuts and raisins and cranberries." "But—mamma, do you mean that Thanksgiving is just nothing but eating?" came the horrified rejoinder. "Isn't it too bad that this holiday that meant so much to our forefathers almost 300 years ago is now almost 'just nothing but eating'?" "What would the mother do? She cast around in her mind—a mother's mind is really more resourceful than the mind of a mere being who is not a mother—for something with which to glorify Thanksgiving to her child. Of course she finally dug up the story of the sufferings and triumphs of the pilgrims. She didn't just read it out of a book to Little Boy. She word painted that forest and the little log houses, the pilgrim maids and men and the few queer, sober, hardworking little children, the great bronzed Indians and the sunlight that glistened through the forest and through the hearts of these pioneer folk when they realized that God had so prospered their hard, hard work that there was food enough to last them during the coming winter. When the mother pictured the log barns and the rude bins and cells, all full of grain, Little Boy said, "Oh, I'm so glad!" "So were they, son, and so they set aside a day for their children's children forever to thank God for all the good things that grow." "Is there enough for everybody?" asked Little Boy. "So then mother told him that, although there is enough for everybody, still everybody doesn't get enough. She told him of all the kind people who try to help the 'left out ones' on Thanksgiving day, and Little Boy, while they picked raisins and cleaned currants and made cookie men, planned one of everything for themselves and one for the 'left out ones.' Thus Little Boy found something in Thanksgiving besides just eating—Mrs. Blanche Cole Rosedale in New York Evening Sun.

CALEDONIA COUNTY. The Lyndonville Driving club which has held ice races for several winters past, has been organized for the coming season with A. E. Ruggles, president, and P. R. Griswold, secretary-treasurer. J. J. Neagle, who four years ago bought the Pleasant View House in Lyndonville, has leased for five years, with an option to buy, Hotel Lyndon. Mr. Neagle will make tenements of the lower floor of the Pleasant View and rent rooms above. A friend of education has given the museum at St. Johnsbury, 30 books of standard authors to be distributed to the children of the rural communities who desire to improve their time out of school hours by reading and who have no access to libraries. Harley F. Norris, aged 88 years, committed suicide Friday, Nov. 12, by shooting himself with a 22 calibre revolver. Despondency over poor health is thought to have been the cause for the deed. Men working on the highway at the Alder Brook road saw the man turn the revolver on himself. Mrs. Freeman H. Ranney found her husband's dead body partly submerged in water in the trough where he watered his stock, when she went to the barn Friday night to call him to supper. Death was due to a shock, probably sustained just as he drove the stock to water. He was about 60 years old and a well-to-do farmer of St. Johnsbury. Lyndonville has just added to its water system the Copeland system which should prevent repetitions of that town's droughts in former dry seasons. An electric pump of 50 horse power, furnished by the Lyndonville municipal electric system will pump enough water from the new reservoir into the regular reservoir in a night to supply the village 24 hours. At the annual meeting of the stock holders of the St. Johnsbury Hotel company it was decided that the company would, next spring, build a large addition to the house that has been under discussion for several months. Of the $25,000 preferred stock that was to be subscribed, all but $800 worth had been sold. The following directors were elected: E. A. Darling, H. E. Moore, F. H. Brooks, David E. Porter, Frank W. Ball, F. A. Pierce, and H. H. Carr. WEST BURKE. O. C. Spencer is improving slowly. Miss Inez Goodwin of Newark is working at M. E. Fairbrother's. Mrs. Alva Moulton spent the week-end with her husband in St. Johnsbury. Mrs. Alba Craig was called to Magog the first of the week by the death of an aunt. Mr. and Mrs. O. E. McFarland are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter Sunday. Mrs. J. Q. Angell is very ill, and is in Brightlook hospital at St. Johnsbury for treatment. Miss Ruth Leach is at home from Montpelier seminary for the Thanksgiving vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, who have been living in a part of Dr. Dickerman's house during the summer, moved to their new house this week. Mrs. S. I. Howland is at home from the sanitarium in Attleboro, Mass., where she has been for treatment, and is somewhat improved in health. Rev. Mr. Keeling of East Burke preached an interesting and helpful sermon here Sunday morning. There was no service in the evening, on account of Mrs. Angell's illness. Mrs. W. E. Gaskell and Mrs. W. B. Bowman entertained the Woman's club Saturday afternoon and gave the ladies a delightful time. Music was furnished by the Misses Dickerman and Rosebrooks and Mrs. Fairbrother and Mrs. Burke gave a very enjoyable reading, with musical accompaniment. Refreshments of salmon wiggle, cottage cheese, olives, cakes and coffee were served, to which all did full justice. SHEFFIELD. Alvin Brooks of Burke is visiting his grandfather, O. H. Jenness. Bert Jenness of Barton enjoyed a day's hunting with his father last week. Clarence Ash and mother visited his sister, Mrs. George McFarland, in Sutton last week. Rev. Mr. Gould of Lyndon Center, supplied Sunday in the absence of the pastor, Mr. Bishop. Eddie Sheldon, Gerold Tanner, Ray Jenness and Charlie Dopp have each got a deer this season. A. J. Giffin has purchased the Friselle & Walker goods in the Peck store, and has put in a stock of groceries. THE WRITER was misinformed last week in regard to the weight of Mr. and Mrs. Ross's baby, the weight being 19 1-8 pounds. Wiley Willard and family of Passumpsic, in company with Mr. Penny, spent two days in town recently, taking advantage of the hunting season. Mrs. Harry Davis was in Burke Saturday helping her brother pack their goods. Mr. Hall moves to Hardwick to the Herbert Doyle farm and will have charge of it.

UNION HOUSE DISTRICT.

George Chesley is not as well as usual. Mrs. Lena Kettle is visiting at Charlie Norris's for a few days. Mrs. Homer Bennett and son, Gardner, have gone to Derby Line to visit relatives. They will also visit in Morgan and Holland, planning to be away about a week. Arnold Percy, who works for C. B. Joy at Waterford, came home Thursday to hunt deer. He was fortunate enough to get a nice buck Friday. He says Friday is his lucky day, as he has shot a deer on Friday for the last three years.

Mrs. Eril Hodge is working for Mrs. F. A. Holmes. H. W. Switzer and family have moved back to their farm. Those lucky enough to get a deer thus far are Harry Bradbury, Herbert Root and Lewis Masure. Mrs. Frank Coley and daughter, Maude, and Mrs. Maude Gochee of Sheffield were Sunday visitors at Virtulou Chesley's. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coburn and daughter have been spending a week with his father, C. E. Coburn, and his brother, H. A. Coburn, in Sheffield.

WAR. O'er glories gone, the invaders march, Weeps triumph o'er each levelled arch; Freedom, such as God hath given Unto all beneath his heaven, With their breath and from their birth, Though Guilt would sweep it from the earth With a fierce and lavish hand, Scattering nations' wealth like sand, Pouring nations' blood like water In imperial seas of slaughter! But the heart and the mind, And the voice of mankind Shall arise in communion— And who shall resist that proud union? The time is past when swords subdued— Man may die, the soul's renewed: Even in this low world of care Freedom ne'er shall want an heir; Millions breathe, but to inherit Her forever bounding spirit— When once more her hosts assemble Tyrants shall believe and tremble. —Lord Byron.
