Wilder P. Twombly.

Wilder P. Twombly was born in Brownington April 1, 1848. When 16 years old he went to Ohio where he lived several years. In February, 1876, he was united in marriage to Miss Laura M. Kenny of Irasburg. Shortly after they moved to Pennsylvania where they resided three years. They returned to Vermont, living in Westmore three years, West Derby twelve years, then at Franklin, N. H., six years. For the past three years their home has been near Orleans. Mr. Twombly was a craneman on a steam shovel. A daughter, Mrs. Porter, is now with her mother. Two sons died in infancy. Besides the widow and daughter, Mr. Twombly leaves two brothers and four grandchildren. Mr. Twombly died at the hospital at Hanover, N. H., July 28, following a second operation, the immediate cause being a clot of blood in the heart. Funeral services were conducted from his late home by the Rev. W. A. Warner of Barton, assisted by the Rev. W. S. Smithers of Orleans. The burial was at West Derby. Mrs. Twombly and daughter, Mrs. Porter, are very grateful to their friends and neighbors for many kindnesses extended and for flowers sent.

The W. F. M. society held a very pleasant porch meeting with Mrs. Sylvester Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 7.

Devotions and business conducted by the president. It was voted that each member pay the ten cents asked for the war emergency fund. Topic for the afternoon, "Oriental Moving Pictures."

A duet on the Victrola, "Abide With Me," was much enjoyed. Mrs. Jenness, Mrs. Dickens and Mrs. Sylvester gave readings. Miss Lilla McMullen conducted the mystery box. Mrs. Smithers read two interesting letters from India, one from Miriam Singh, the Bible woman the society maintains in the work. The next meeting will be the mite box opening. It is hoped that the amount received in them will be equal to that of former years in spite of the many calls, for no work is more important than this.

The King's Herald's met Tuesday evening with Gertrude Wheeler. The committee appointed had charge of the program. A part of Chapter 4 of "Soldiers of the Prince" was studied, after devotional. All enjoyed the instrumental music by Gertrude Wheeler. Refreshments of maple ice cream and wafers were served by the hostess. Receipts from the candy sale Saturday afternoon in charge of Evelyn Kinney and Gertrude Wheeler, $2.50.

Women in Germany.

Frau Gertrude Baeumer, the leading writer on women's activities in Germany, states in her book that there are 9,500,000 women in Germany working for a living today.

Before the war and even after the beginning of the war, German women played no part in the life of the German nation. In Germany it was a 'man's world,' and women were considered only as the necessary means of having families. But during the war this has changed to such a great extent that people who never believed that woman suffrage would be an issue looked forward to the time when women would vote as they do in Norway, Denmark and in many states in the United States.

From the empress to the poorest woman in the country there is a feeling that the war cannot be successfully conducted unless the women as well as the men help the Fatherland. And because the women have been asked to do so much, the feeling has grown that when peace comes the women must have something to say in governmental affairs. During the last two years the activities of women have reached every branch of trade and many government departments.

Last fall a woman was made an assistant in the newly organized Kriegsmat, which was to have charge of the German civil service. On the kaiser's birthday this year, when the submarine war proposal was finally decided upon, two women, the empress and Frau von Hindenburg, were invited to great headquarters. It was the first time militarism ever consulted a woman.

At the beginning of the war women became active in the Red Cross. And at every railroad station in Germany along the main routes to the front, women organized relief stations where the soldiers obtained coffee and sandwiches, while making their long journeys from the East to the West, and where the wounded receive careful attention. In this work the women made their debut in public affairs.
