On Mothers' day Roy Atherton wrote to his mother, Mrs. L. E. Atherton, the following letter:

In France, May 12th, 1918.
My dear Mother:
I will drop you a few lines this afternoon. This has been a very fine day here. It seems like summer, but I guess it is not quite so hot. We have had enough rain so we ought to have a little good weather. I know it is fine at home now and I expect you are all working hard doing spring work. Have any of the men been down to the brook fishing yet? I know they are getting some big trout out of the lake this year. I would like to try my luck, but I guess I will not this year. But I haven't any kick coming, I like pretty well. With the job I have I do not have to go into the trenches. None of the Hd. Co., have to do any fighting and we do not have to go to the front very often. We bring the rations and other things up to a station in back of the front with trucks and the other company takes them up to the front in Pords. We are living in a little town and it is a pretty good place. I received the box you sent me March 26th and everything was fine. And that maple sugar was great. I guess you will know this paper. It came in pretty handy for we have to go about a mile to the Y. M. C. A. Yes, Wesley and I have been in the army about a year and in France nearly seven months. I have just been to supper and it was pretty good. We had flap-jacks and Karo--they go fine--some better than tomato soup. I guess I will close for I am going to the moving pictures a little way from here. Goodbye.
Your loving son,
Roy.
