Soldier Boy News.

A good illustration of the fact that the world is small after all was brought home to Orleans when Gerald D. French, now in the Convalescent hospital in Italy, took off the shelves of the War Camp Library, the book, "A Certain Rich Man," with the name of Eliza S. Eaton, Orleans, Vt., written on the fly leaf.

Ensign Ray Rufus Averill of the U. S. naval reserve, grandson of the late Capt. Rufus Averill of Westmore, died of pneumonia on board the U. S. S. Tenadares, Oct. 17, on his way to France. The body was brought back and he was buried on Nov. 11, at Wentworth, N. H. He was a nephew of Mrs. Charles Atkins of Orleans.

United War Work Campaign Speakers.

A business meeting was held at the Club Rooms Thursday evening for the purpose of laying out the work of the War Work campaign now on.

The following representatives of the different organizations were present: A. C. Hurd of White River Junction, state chairman of the Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Wright of Springfield, Mass., a Y. M. C. A. secretary just home from France.

Miss Rice of New York City, a Y. W. C. A. worker, just home from France.

Mrs. Shepard of New York, Salvation Army worker returned from France.

Mr. O'Brien of Boston, a K. of C. worker.

Miss Southwick of Burlington, representing the Victory Girls.

Town chairmen and solicitors from different parts of the county were present and received much valuable help and instruction.

Peace Demonstration.

On Thursday, Nov. 7, was held the first of a series of peace celebrations, when the false report came of Germany's surrender. The mill whistles blew and the church bells were rung, and in the evening a bonfire was held in Post Office square and the citizens of Orleans marched to the music of the drum corps around the square, and they thought they were celebrating until, when the official report came on Monday, the spirit of '76 quickened into life and old and young turned out with the first thing they could lay their hands on that would produce noise, and shouted themselves hoarse.

The Parker-Young Co. gave their 250 employes a half-holiday with full pay and bonus, passed them all a good smoke and told them to "go to it!"

The schools were excused and the pupils and teachers marched in line with the rest. Everyone who had an auto filled it up with neighbors and friends, a good number of which went up to Barton to make a friendly but noisy call.

The evening a bonfire made of empty tar and paint barrels, was made on the hill near the reservoir and the Kaiser was burned in effigy. Everyone went who possibly could. Thus ended a day, the equal of which never has been and never will be seen in all history.

The third demonstration in the series will be held when the boys come marching home.

Leave it to us who have backed them up here at home to make them welcome when they come.

Additional Orleans news and advertising on page six.

Mrs. Clyde Eldridge of Albany, Mrs. J. P. Urie and Mrs. Elizabeth Gilmour of Barton were in Orleans Tuesday at the home of Arthur Gilmour.

Fred McGoff has moved from Cottage street to Carroll Jenkins' house on Water street, vacated recently by Mr. Drown, who has moved on to a farm.

Miss Ella Blaisdell returned to her home in Southern Pines on Saturday morning after spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Blaisdell.

Mrs. C. A. Dodge has a crimson rambler rose that made a growth of ten and one-half feet the past season, after being set out about the first of June.

Mrs. Geo. B. Rowell will close her house on Prospect street for the winter, and leaves today for Boston, where she will spend the winter with her son, Hugh, who is in the Harvard medical school.

Dr. F. L. Lanphear has been confined to his house by illness the past week. He, with Mrs. Lanphear, went to St. Johnsbury Monday, where it is hoped he will speedily recover his health.

Burton Dean, who was to have reported for military service Thursday, received his call to go into the Merchant marine on the preceding Tuesday. He passed a perfect physical examination and left for Boston Saturday.

What was very near a fatal accident happened on Water street Monday night, during the celebration when Wellington Stevens was struck on the head and knocked down by an automobile which narrowly avoided running over his leg. He seems to be recovering.

During the street parade Monday when G. H. Moulton jumped to save the life of little Tony, he was badly cut about the face and nose. Nothing serious happened and now that the peace celebration is over, we are grateful that no serious accident happened to mar the joyous occasion.

HOW A SALESMAN SUFFERED

R. J. Porter, Sterling, Col., writes: "For six months I suffered with a painful, weak back. As a traveling salesman I had to stoop frequently to pick up my traps, which I grew to dread as the pain when I straightened up was awful. Numerous remedies failed to reach my case. I was induced to try Foley's Kidney Pills. Relief was immediate. Say, it's great! Anyone afflicted as I was should try a bottle or two of Foley's Kidney Pills. Good for pain in the back, rheumatic pains, aching joints, sore muscles.—Sold Everywhere."

Preserving Spiders' Webs.

In order to preserve spiders' webs, naturalists employ an ingenious method. The webs are first sprayed from an atomizer with a thin solution of artists' shellac, and then, should they be of the ordinary geometric form, they are pressed carefully against a glass plate, the supporting strands at the same time being severed. After the shellac solution has dried the plates carrying the webs can be stored away in a cabinet.

An Editor's Disappointments.

Western Paper—We intended to have a death and a marriage to publish this week, but a violent storm prevented the wedding, and the doctor being taken sick himself, the patient recovered, and we were accordingly cheated out of both.—Boston Transcript.

Man and Money.

A Fort Scott preacher, talking about riches last Sunday, told his people that it isn't a question of the amount of money a man has, but of the amount of man the money has.—Kansas City Star.

The W. F. M. society met with Mrs. F. E. Hunt Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 5. The devotions were in charge of Mrs. Bartlett, who was also program leader. Business was conducted by the president. Mrs. Bartlett reviewed the chapter of the study book of last month, "Work within the Home among the Women of the Orient." She then took up the topic for the day, "The Wage Earners," in the same helpful way. Mrs. Hunt gave a very interesting account of the home life of the women of the Orient. Mae Willey read a leaflet, "The Lace-Makers of Pakur." Mrs. Gilmour read, "The Case of Tomita San." Mrs. Hunt rendered two instrumental pieces which were much enjoyed.

The King's Herald met Tuesday evening at the parsonage. The president, Eleanor Lyon, in charge. The second chapter of "Jack and Janet" in the Philippines was studied. Gertrude Wheeler served as music committee. Evelyn Kinney played an instrumental piece and Doris Dickens sang, "A Perfect Day." The superintendent read an article relating to the worker sent to Grenoble, France, having charge of the war orphans. Following the program the hostesses served nuts and popcorn.

How He Foretold Weather.

At Whitby, when the moon is surrounded by a halo of watery clouds, the seamen say there will be a change of weather, for the moon dogs are about. An amusing story is told about a fisherman in Torquay. A gale having taken place during the night, he said he had foreseen it, as he had noticed a star ahead of the moon towing her and another astern chasing her. "I know'd 'twas coming then, safe enough," he told them all.—London Mail.

United in Control of Lakes.

The boundary line between the United States and Canada runs through the center of each of the four border lakes that lie along or between the two countries, and jurisdiction over the lakes is shared. There is a permanent international waterways commission, consisting of three Americans and three Canadians, that has control of the use of the waters of the lakes for power and other purposes.

 No Chance for Them.
 An Irishman who was driving a load of pigs to the fair was met by two swells. One of them accosted him with the words: "Say, Pat, could you let us have two inside seats?" To which Pat replied with a smile: "Well, then, I can't, for when I agreed with them that I'd take up no one that wasn't as good as themselves. I'm so sorry," said Pat.

Painting a Pine Floor.
 Deck paint is the technical name of the paint that was used on a white pine kitchen floor. Three coats were given, and as it contained considerable dryer, it dried overnight. When the last coat was thoroughly dry it was treated like a hardwood floor with a coat of floor wax. This protected the paint and made the floor easier to take care of.

Do you want "honest" clothes?

NO MERCHANT would knowingly employ a dishonest man; he must be just as careful that he doesn't sell "dishonest" clothes. Dishonest clothes are those that look better than they are; that cost more money than they're worth; that fool you on quality.

That's why we are anxious to know all about the clothes we sell; how they're made, how long they'll wear so that we can guarantee them to be as fine as they look and to give even longer service.

When we tell you the clothes we sell are made by

you know they are "honest" clothes; that they are made of all-wool materials; tailored as fine as is possible and that they'll give you your full money's worth of service. We're so sure of all this that we guarantee your complete satisfaction.

WRITES AT FIRST STROKE

The pen point, when not in use, being immersed in ink, writes at the moment it touches paper without urging or agitation. The feed bar, which extends the length of the barrel, forms a continuous and direct conductor of ink to the feed spoon. No time is lost in coaxing the ink to flow, because this action is positive, the result is instantaneous.
