FARM BUREAU NOTES

Date for Annual Meeting Changed to October 16

Due to inability to secure speakers on October 8th, the date for the Farm Bureau annual meeting has been set ahead to October 16th. It is definitely known that Prof. O. H. Benson of Washington, D. C. will be present and while no word has yet been received from Mr. Strivings, Lecturer of the New York State Grange, it is hoped that he can arrange to be present. Dinner will be served at the town hall by the ladies of Irasburg. Remember the date, October 16th.

During this past week, the Loan Committee of the Farm Loan Association appraised a number of farms for men who wished to secure loans thru the Federal Bank at Springfield. Loans aggregating over $25,000 at the farms visited were recommended to the bank by this committee. When these loans are finally closed, this Association will have passed the $100,000 mark in amount of business done since it was organized.

Anyone wishing to secure a loan this fall thru this bank should be looking the matter up immediately. The loan committee will make one more appraisal just before snow flies if the applications are in.

Mrs. L. M. Hubbard and daughter, Mrs. Richmond, and children, spent the week-end at N. M. Hubbard's in West Glover. They will go to their home in Lee, Mass.

Miss Vera Carpenter, who has been an efficient employe at the bank for the past year, has gone to Springfield, Mass., where she has a position with the Bay Path Institute.

Temporary trouble with the heating plant at the Peerless factory caused the plant to shut down this forenoon but the plant will run Saturday afternoon to make up the lost half day.

R. M. Harper has sold his place on Park street to George Urie of West Glover, who takes possession this week. Mr. Harper expects to go soon to Scotland, where he will spend the winter.

At the auction sale held at the Crystal Lake Hotel Monday much of the house furnishings were sold but there remains much more and Mr. Darling contemplates another sale. The real estate itself was not sold, it is understood.

Sunbeam Rebekah Lodge No. 17, will hold a special meeting, Wednesday, Oct. 8. All members are requested to be present at the vice president of the Rebekah assembly of Vermont, Mrs. Gertrude S. Jewell, will be present.

The weather for the past week has improved from that of the fore part of September and the sunshine has been welcomed by those trying to harvest the second crop of hay. There are many potatoes to dig yet and some grain to cut.

The seat drawing for the lecture course will be held at the high school room Tuesday evening, Oct. 7, at 7 o'clock. The ticket canvassers will start out at once. Let everyone be prepared to patronize the course. Price same as last year plus war tax.

About 50 attended the social given by the Christian Endeavor society in our Congregational church vestry on Tuesday evening. A literary and musical program was given by the Misses White, Shedd, Proctor, Baldwin and Lang, was much enjoyed. Refreshments of hot chocolate and cake were served.

Rollin McGorty, who has been in service as a marine for 14 months, has received his discharge and is spending two weeks with his mother, Mrs. Ollie McGorty, and brothers here, before resuming his position with the Hood milk company in Boston.

There will be a regular convocation of Keystone Chapter, No. 16, R. A. M., Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Come. There will be work and a banquet. Every member should be present at this the opening convocation for the year's work. All candidates that have been elected or have taken any of the degrees are expected to attend.

The sophomore class will have charge of chapel this week.

County Court.

George F. Wheeler vs H. J. Brooks. The case now on trial is that of George F. Wheeler vs. H. J. Brooks of Barton.

From the testimony it appears that H. J. Brooks bought the John Stanley farm at South Barton in June, 1910. This farm contained timber land which adjoined a wood lot belonging to G. F. Wheeler. In 1915 Brooks cut off considerable pulp wood and Wheeler claims Brooks overcut the line and brought suit to cover the damages. The case came to trial on Tuesday morning, Sept. 23. Both sides have presented many witnesses. Thompson and Cleary are counsel for Wheeler and Reirder and Cook for Brooks. The jury were taken by automobile Monday to Willoughby to inspect the territory in question.

The testimony is all in and the case will probably be given to the jury this afternoon.

Mrs. E. E. Burrows entertained her brother and niece, Mr. Gooley and Mrs. Connell of Everett, Mass., last week.

Harold Burrows and family of Boston have returned to their home after a two weeks' visit with his parents.

Nearly 200 attended the supper and social given by the ladies Friday evening, which was a success both socially and financially. The tables were prettily decorated, Miss Etta Litchfield having charge of the decorations. The following ladies served at the tables: Mrs. Geo. Trudeau, Mrs. Lita Drake, Mrs. Annie Hancock, Blanche Bickford, Marion Cleveland, Ethel Gladden, Eola Smith, Bessie Patrick, Eva Legacy. The following program was rendered: Piano solo, Miss Marion Cleveland; reading, Mrs. Lida Tinker. This received much applause. Recitation, Eva Legacy; ladies' quartet, "Little Cotton Dolly." Mesdames Cleveland, Thurber, Ware and Elliot. The ladies responded to an encore. Reading, Mrs. Nancy Wesley selection from the "Birds' Christmas Carol," which was finely given. She responded to an encore. Reading, Miss Etta Litchfield, who informed the gentlemen that the ladies, "ahem" had something to talk about beside the men.

"Bubbles" was nicely sung by Miss Marion Cleveland; Mrs. Pearl Kilder of the lad and lassie who went fishing "in the usual way." A surprise was sprung upon the ladies when Messrs. Benware, Cleveland, Southard and Wright came forward and sang, informing the audience, "We Are Here." Why are we here? Because they cannot do without us, etc. They promptly and gladly responded to an encore. Each one was presented a bouquet by Mrs. H. H. Hancock and Mrs. Carroll Brooks. The next was a piano duet by Mrs. G. W. Smith and Mrs. George Benware which was enjoyed by all. At the close, Mrs. Kate Hancock gave a reading, "The Women." In response

Charles H. Wilkie.

Charles Henry Wilkie, only son of Edwin Charles and Johanna (Garey) Wilkie, died Wednesday evening, Sept. 24, at 9 o'clock after an illness of about five months with tuberculosis. A year ago in October he had influenza and had not fully recovered his strength when in February he was stricken with pneumonia and seemed to be gaining when in May he took more cold and was threatened with pneumonia again and quickly developed tubercular trouble. Two weeks ago Saturday, he with his family, came here from Barre to the home of his parents, that they might help his wife in caring for him, as she had so tenderly cared for him all summer. All that loving hands and hearts could do was done for him.

He was born in Windsor Mills, Vt., July 15, 1882 and when he was a few months old his parents moved back here and he was educated at Barton academy. Then he took up the upholsterer's trade with the C. F. Percival company here and finished his trade in Portland, Me. On Oct. 5, 1903, he was married to Miss Isabelle Lemere of Derby. After their marriage they lived in Lyndonville for a year or more, where Mr. Wilkie worked in the car shops at his trade, then he went to Barre, where he worked for A. W. Badger for 14 years as undertaker and upholsterer.

Last February he went into business for himself and was doing well when his health failed in May. He fought the disease to the last, never seemed discouraged, but cheerful and patient, and never once complained.

Mr. Wilkie had many constant friends, wherever he went. He was a man of sterling worth and character, hardworking, and devoted to his home and family.

Besides his wife he leaves three children, Earl, aged 13, Ruth, aged five and Lewis aged three years; his father and mother, two sisters, Mrs. Eugene Morin and Mrs. Patrick Guertin, all residing in Barton, also a host of relatives and friends both here and in Barre.

He was a member of the Knights of Columbus order in Barre, and many attended the funeral, which was held in St. Paul's church Saturday. Rev. Fr. Hagan was celebrant of the Requiem High Mass.

H. Campbell, Mr. Burrows, Mr. Nelson, Mr. Owen and Mr. Ferrand, all of Barre, acted as pall bearers.

The flowers were many and beautiful. The interment was in St. Paul's cemetery.

Those present from out of town were: Messrs. Brown, Kelley, Nelson, Linegan, O'Leary, A. W. Badger, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barrows, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Campbell, and Mrs. Carrick, all of Barre; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lemere and Mr. Turner of Derby; Mr. and Mrs. Silas Cushing, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Wilkie of Newport; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lemere of West Charleston, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carney of Brownington, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Garey of Montpelier, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dunham of Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Alred Wilkie and sons, Ernie, Ira, M. and Mrs. Alfred Morrison, John E. Wilkie and Edward Wilkie, all of St. Johnsbury.

Card of Thanks—We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all our neighbors and friends who were so kind in rendering aid and comfort during the sickness and death of our loved one. The beautiful flowers, letters, etc., sent in love for the departed, also to the many Barre friends who helped in many ways during the sickness of our loved one in Barre. May God's blessings rest upon everyone of you.

Mrs. Charles H. Wilkie and family.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wilkie, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Morin, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Guertin.

to an encore she gave the following little original rhyme. This explained the mystery, "What Has Become of the Men's Backbone." You may search the wide world over To find a perfect man, But you'll meet with disappointment, For you surely never can, And when the good Lord, Adam made He looked on him in wonder, And said, "There's chance for great improvement, I surely made some blunder. And so they tell the story, And say it is no lie, That at once he made a woman From a part of Adam's rib. But this little story The ladies all disown. They say it was never a part of his rib, But it took his whole backbone. But the ladies all agree if the men are lacking in backbone they still have plenty of "cheek" but they are heartily forgiven they were so "anxious" to help. Mrs. H. H. Hancock, Mrs. Myra Wells, Mrs. George Benware, the committee who had the social in charge, wish to thank all who furnished flowers for the table or helped in any way to make the evening, $56.75. The following people from out of town attended the social Friday night: Mr. Robinson, Rev. and Mrs. Hamilton, Misses Covey, Lothrop, Armstrong, Dwinell and Gilles, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Shippe and son, Wendall, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Brooks of Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Will Winget, Mrs. Roy Phillips, Mrs. Dennis Brahana, Mrs. Matt Wells, Mrs. Carpenter of Irasburg, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Putney, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shaw, Mrs. Alice Dow, Mrs. Leah Herman, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilder and daughter of Newport, Charles Taylor of Beecher Falls and Mrs. Guy Smith of New Hampshire.

DISTRICT O. E. S. MEETING

District Meeting in Island Pond Well Attended.

The annual district meeting of District No. 7, O. E. S., was held Thursday with North Star Chapter at Island Pond, Mrs. Maude Carr, D. D. G. M., and Arthur Austin, D. D. G. P., presiding. There was a very good attendance, all the chapters in the district being well represented.

At 3 o'clock a school of instruction was held with Miss Abbie F. Clarke, Grand Lecturer in charge. This part of the meeting was very interesting and instructive to all present. At 6.30 p. m. North Star Chapter served a delicious banquet nearly 150 being served.

In the evening, Lakeside Chapter of Newport exemplified the degrees on two candidates, doing the work in a creditable manner. The work was reviewed by the Grand Lecturer, followed by remarks by other Grand Officers.

The guests of honor were Mrs. Phyllis Bur
