

Cole Studio Sold.
 Mrs. Alice Cole Wheeler has sold the Cole Studio to M. M. Derick of Rock Island, P. Q. Mrs. Wheeler will complete her holiday orders and give possession about January 1st.
 Geo. E. Cole purchased the studio business from M. L. Clement in 1897. Since the death of Mr. Cole in 1907, Mrs. Cole and the three sons have carried on the business. Mr. Derick is a photographer of experience and there is good reason to expect that the high class of work will be maintained.

The Kinds of Gifts Our Friends Want

What better gift for mother, for instance, than a nice warm coat or set of furs? What would please sister more than a lovely silk waist? Wouldn't anybody's sweetheart be delighted with a nice toilet set? What girl has too many gloves? What dad but would be pleased with a nice pair of slippers? What little brother could receive a better gift than a pair of mittens? And as for baby, could anything be better than a cap and warm leggings?

These are the things folks buy for themselves the Year Round and this is the store where they buy them.

Come to Us—We Will Use You Better

Looking incurs no obligation to buy, now or at other times. Shop as early as you can—early in the day, early in the month. We will count it a favor to be permitted to help you give wisely and shop pleasantly.
