Preparations are being made for Pro-memorial exercises which will be held on the afternoon of May 27, at Alumni Hall.

The material for the second issue of the "Orange and Black" has gone to the printer.

BASEBALL
Friday the 29th on the fair grounds the Academy team won its second game of the season against Craftsbury, 24 to 2. The B. A. boys, by some healthy swatting and aided by some weird throwing, were able to run up this large score in seven innings.

Mudgett twirled a fine game, allowing but five scattered hits and fanning 12. Smith was the star swatter of the day, getting a home run and two doubles. Valley got three hits and Buchanan, Hanson, Mudgett and Allen two each. Buchanan contributed the star fielding feature, grabbing a hot dive off his shoe strings. Kelly pitched a good game in spite of the score.

Score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7
B. A. 7 4 2 5 1 5 x 24
C. A. 1 1 0 0 0 0 2

Runs—Buchanan 2, Hanson 3, Carter 3, Smith 4, Cornish 3, Valley 4, Comstock 3, Mudgett 1, Allen 1, Moody 1, Lawrence 1, Umpire, Dubois.

Nedelka Simeonova, Wonderful Girl
Violinist

Miss Nedelka Simeonova, an 18 year old Bulgarian violinist, gave a concert in Seaver's hall Wednesday evening, April 27, under the auspices of the Woman's Literary club of Barton.

There was a good sized audience present and everyone was fascinated by the beauty of tone, perfection of technique, execution and interpretation of her work, and her girlish modesty showed that the high place she has already won in the musical circles of the world with her violin has driven out none of her personal charm.

Her work was all with the composition of famous composers, but even the most classical numbers brought enthusiastic applause from the audience who recognized in her work the delicacy of touch and the harmony and tone shading which goes only with the execution of a few famous violinists.

Mrs. Simeonova was in this country seven years ago as a girl of eleven years and thrilled audiences in Barton, Newport and other places with her work. Since that time she has spent six years in Europe, much of the time under Prof. Aveva, considered the pier of violin masters and under whom the world famous Heifetz studied. After her studies she thrilled great European audiences, receiving the highest compliments and prizes.

In this country she has won the applause of some of America's greatest musicians and only by rare chance was Barton privileged to hear her. Her father is a member of the King's orchestra in Bulgaria and visited this country with his daughter seven years ago. Her mother is with her this time.

The violin used in Barton was a genuine Stradivarius instrument, valued at $6000 and she had with her a second violin, a genuine Cremona, valued at $3000. Miss Simeonova's future as a violinist is predicted to be among the very foremost in the world.

Q. where they will remain for a few days.

Rev. A. B. Blake, a long time resident of Barton, died Thursday and was buried Saturday. Facts concerning Mr. Blake's long and useful life had been promised for this issue by his son, J. W. Blake, but have not been received.

Miss Elizabeth Gilmore entertained eight of her little school mates at a May day party, Saturday from three until five. Delicious refreshments of refreshments and ice cream were served and the little folks all spent a happy afternoon.

Mrs. C. J. Mudgett and Bernice, Atwell were in Johnson last week, called there by the death of Ralph Atwell who died very suddenly at Morrisville Red Cross rooms, April 28th at 1 o'clock. Burial at Johnson in Lamolive New Cemetery.

The Catholic Art Association will present "The Transgressor," a nine act drama under the auspices of the Catholic Order of Foresters, at the G. M. Theatre, Wed. May 11, at the usual hour. "The Transgressor" is soul-stirring, spell-binding, heart-rending, interesting, inspiring and ennobling. Admission, adults 40 cents, children 25 cents, tax paid. Don't forget the date.

The Afternoon Study club met with Mrs. H. R. Cutler on Thursday, April 28. 16 members and eight guests present. Subject, "Nature." Paper, "Gene Stratton Porter and Her Writings," written by Mrs. Lida Flint and read by Mrs. Mae Batchelder. Nature poems, "The Bloodless Sportsman" and "Song of the Brook." Sam Walter Foss, read by Mrs. Ellen Webster. Article, "What I Have Done With Birds," Porter, read by Mrs. Ida Miles. Mrs. Ruth Webster sang "Sunshine and Shadow" and "Life's Episode," by Ralph Raymond and "An Epitaph," by Vera Lyon.

Richard Cody of Newport was tried on charge of selling liquor. He brought his entire family who were he was guilty of selling booze which though alcohol is not truly a beverage, although it has been lately used for such purpose. He believed it not truly legal and had received no notice to the effect that it should not be sold. He was tried before a jury and a verdict of not guilty rendered.

Orleans County Boys' and Girls' Exposition.
The exposition will be set for the latter part of September this year if possible, so as to bring it before the state fair at White River Junction. It will be held at Barton as usual on a separate date following the county fair.

Arrangements are being made by the club agent for premiums to be useful, practical articles relative to the projects in which they are awarded. The Farm Bureau will appropriate money for premiums and expenses. In this country she has won the preparation and will soon be out for everyone to have a copy.

Demonstration and judging teams will be the feature of the exposition this year. Live-stock judging and garden, poultry and sewing demonstrations will be worked up during the summer. Every club should give a demonstration in our community or at the county exposition.

A model exhibit will be put up at the regular Orleans County fair. Just what this will be will be determined soon, and something contributed from each club, it is hoped to be arranged.

Boys and girls of Orleans county are coming into their own.

HILL RICH IN HIGH-GRADE ORE
Mound in Mexico That is Said by Experts to Be Worth in Neighborhood of $5,000,000,000.

Primitive peoples have an uncanny instinct for naming things accurately. Centuries after the natives had named a hill outside the city of Durango, Mexico, "The Devil's Finger Tip," scientists came along and solemnly announced that it was formed of hematite and had apparently been jabbed up through the earth's surface from molten masses far below.

This iron hill rises for 700 feet sheer above the surrounding plain, and is said to contain 600,000,000 tons of high-grade ore rated at 70 per cent in iron content. In a report made just before the World war a British expert said that the iron in the hill is worth $5,000,000,000, or would be if so located as to assure protection in the operation of the property.

Put in another way, Mercado mountain, for the hill is so named after the Spanish explorer who was the first white man to see it, contains iron which, if marketed today, would bring more money than the entire sum represented by all of the gold and silver taken out of Mexico between 1603 and 1803, when the exploitation of Mexican mines was at its peak.

Ben Jonson's Wisdom.
Whoever loves not picture is injurious to truth and all the wisdom of poetry. Picture is the invention of heaven, the most ancient and most fit to nature. It is itself a silent work, and always one and the same habit.—Ben Jonson.

Methodist Conference News
The annual meeting of the Vermont Methodist conference was held in Barre last week, Bishop Hughes presiding.

The one change made in assignments in this vicinity are as follows: Albany, Percy Newton; Coventry, to be supplied; Holland, E. G. Bigelow; Lowell, Francis Cady; Newport Center, W. C. Johnson; St. Johnsbury, G. W. Hyatt; West Burke, W. H. Gould.

In the St. Johnsbury district, Superintendent Sharp was pleased to report, there has been some gain in ministerial support. He said that 49 churches have advanced the salaries of their pastors to the amount of $10,802, which is the "greatest advance in ministerial support made in any one year in the history of the St. Johnsbury district."

In three years the salaries have increased $19,142. The superintendent then enumerated the churches and gave the amounts increased, ranging from $50 a year to $1,000, the latter amount in St. Johnsbury.

"This is not all it should be or perhaps will be," remarked Superintendent Sharp, "but it is an indication that the churches in the St. Johnsbury district are going on to the front."

Two new churches have been organized in the district, one at Sheldon Springs and the other at Fitzdale. Considerable building work is under way at various places in the district, and the year has been one of the important features of the past year's activities. A total of $14,302 was applied on old debts.

Forty three churches report having received members during the year, and 20 of these show a net gain over the losses of last year. The total number received was 707, of which 237 were probationers. Orleans and St. Johnsbury shared honors in receiving the greatest number, having 50 to their credit.

The members of the Junior Sunday school department are all requested to attend the school as they are to have their picture taken.

Patching Holes.
Sifted coal ashes, sand and wheat flour, mixed with water, make an excellent mortar for patching holes when the plaster is broken. Use two parts ashes and sand to one of flour.
