

Free Press.

BURLINGTON, VT.

IN THE DARK AND TROUBLED NIGHT THAT IS OURS, THERE IS NO STAR ABOVE THE HORIZON TO GUIDE US...

Whig Nominations.

For President, ZACHARY TAYLOR, OF OHIO. For Vice President, MILLARD FILLMORE, OF NEW YORK.

The Boston Daily Advertiser, one of the very ablest and soundest Whig papers in the Union, thus speaks of the nomination of Gen. Taylor...

While therefore we are prepared to declare our entire acquiescence in this nomination, and our determination to support it...

To all politicians of the one school, it would be useless to urge that the election would be given over to the hands of the Union...

The letter is addressed to the Protestants of the North of Ireland, and is as follows:— "I tell you frankly, that I for one am not 'loyal'...

The Whigs of Vermont submit to this nomination, they submit to what is plainly an imposition. They have no objection to this nomination...

Mr. Upham's Speech on the War. The Hon. Mr. Upham, alluding to the able and convincing speech of Senator Upham, on the Mexican War, using the following language...

This comes of getting a reputation for 'originality'—the very excess of silliness passes for wit! Willis is the very Prince Royal of literary empirics...

By the way, can the Sentinel give us the latest news of the aspect of matters in New York?

In her condition now! She is confined to her ancient limits. What has Russia gained by her conquest of the Caucasian empire?

Our 'Young Whig' writes us that our paragraph announcing that 'the Young Whigs of the University' would fire a salute...

Our 'Young Whig' says he is 'aware that the latest denunciations will be uttered by partisans against those who will not support the party nominee'...

Our Telegraphic report on Saturday furnished a brief abstract of the foreign news from the Acadia, one interesting item of which is that the jury empaneled to try the Irish Agitators...

Mr. Mitchell is a 'Protestant Irishman,' and one of a class of men from which Tyranny, in the history of this world, has often drawn victims...

It is not to be expected on an occasion like this, that the Whigs of the North of Ireland, will be so much as to send a deputation to the Queen of England...

It is not to be expected on an occasion like this, that the Whigs of the North of Ireland, will be so much as to send a deputation to the Queen of England...

It is not to be expected on an occasion like this, that the Whigs of the North of Ireland, will be so much as to send a deputation to the Queen of England...

It is not to be expected on an occasion like this, that the Whigs of the North of Ireland, will be so much as to send a deputation to the Queen of England...

It is not to be expected on an occasion like this, that the Whigs of the North of Ireland, will be so much as to send a deputation to the Queen of England...

TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 13, 1848. The position of Gen. Taylor before the Convention. JUDGE SANDERS, of the Louisiana delegation, on behalf of that delegation, and by the authority of Gen. Taylor, submitted the following statement to the Convention...

It is well wrought into the texture of a well-conceived poem, like the following, it is 'the thing of beauty' which is 'a joy forever.' (For the Daily Free Press.) 'The future! It is not of my search.'—MAYNARD.

There is hope for the mourner, That by the last sleep Of her soul's fond treasure, Her vigils do keep; Though her heart ache with weeping...

There is hope for the mourner, That by the last sleep Of her soul's fond treasure, Her vigils do keep; Though her heart ache with weeping...

There is hope for the mourner, That by the last sleep Of her soul's fond treasure, Her vigils do keep; Though her heart ache with weeping...

There is hope for the mourner, That by the last sleep Of her soul's fond treasure, Her vigils do keep; Though her heart ache with weeping...

There is hope for the mourner, That by the last sleep Of her soul's fond treasure, Her vigils do keep; Though her heart ache with weeping...

There is hope for the mourner, That by the last sleep Of her soul's fond treasure, Her vigils do keep; Though her heart ache with weeping...

There is hope for the mourner, That by the last sleep Of her soul's fond treasure, Her vigils do keep; Though her heart ache with weeping...

There is hope for the mourner, That by the last sleep Of her soul's fond treasure, Her vigils do keep; Though her heart ache with weeping...

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 14, 1848. THE GREAT RATIFICATION CONVENTION AT PHILADELPHIA. The Philadelphia United States Gazette gives a stirring account of the proceedings of the Ratification Convention, held in that City on Friday evening last...

Resolved, That the Whigs of the United States, here assembled by their Representatives, heartily approve the nomination of Gen. ZACHARY TAYLOR as President, and MILLARD FILLMORE, as Vice President of the United States...

Resolved, That the Whigs of the United States, here assembled by their Representatives, heartily approve the nomination of Gen. ZACHARY TAYLOR as President, and MILLARD FILLMORE, as Vice President of the United States...

Resolved, That the Whigs of the United States, here assembled by their Representatives, heartily approve the nomination of Gen. ZACHARY TAYLOR as President, and MILLARD FILLMORE, as Vice President of the United States...

Resolved, That the Whigs of the United States, here assembled by their Representatives, heartily approve the nomination of Gen. ZACHARY TAYLOR as President, and MILLARD FILLMORE, as Vice President of the United States...

Resolved, That the Whigs of the United States, here assembled by their Representatives, heartily approve the nomination of Gen. ZACHARY TAYLOR as President, and MILLARD FILLMORE, as Vice President of the United States...

Resolved, That the Whigs of the United States, here assembled by their Representatives, heartily approve the nomination of Gen. ZACHARY TAYLOR as President, and MILLARD FILLMORE, as Vice President of the United States...

Resolved, That the Whigs of the United States, here assembled by their Representatives, heartily approve the nomination of Gen. ZACHARY TAYLOR as President, and MILLARD FILLMORE, as Vice President of the United States...

Resolved, That the Whigs of the United States, here assembled by their Representatives, heartily approve the nomination of Gen. ZACHARY TAYLOR as President, and MILLARD FILLMORE, as Vice President of the United States...

Resolved, That the Whigs of the United States, here assembled by their Representatives, heartily approve the nomination of Gen. ZACHARY TAYLOR as President, and MILLARD FILLMORE, as Vice President of the United States...

Barbarnor demonstration in Albany. The democratic opponents of Lewis Cass held a meeting in Albany on Friday last. The meeting was large and enthusiastic. The N. Y. Evening Post says:—

At last! 2000 assembled in the Capitol, but that edifice being insufficient to contain the whole mass, the assembly adjourned to the Park. The meeting was organized by the selection of Mr. John A. Bunker as Chairman, and the appointment of the Rev. Mr. H. C. Wright as Secretary...

At last! 2000 assembled in the Capitol, but that edifice being insufficient to contain the whole mass, the assembly adjourned to the Park. The meeting was organized by the selection of Mr. John A. Bunker as Chairman, and the appointment of the Rev. Mr. H. C. Wright as Secretary...

At last! 2000 assembled in the Capitol, but that edifice being insufficient to contain the whole mass, the assembly adjourned to the Park. The meeting was organized by the selection of Mr. John A. Bunker as Chairman, and the appointment of the Rev. Mr. H. C. Wright as Secretary...

At last! 2000 assembled in the Capitol, but that edifice being insufficient to contain the whole mass, the assembly adjourned to the Park. The meeting was organized by the selection of Mr. John A. Bunker as Chairman, and the appointment of the Rev. Mr. H. C. Wright as Secretary...

At last! 2000 assembled in the Capitol, but that edifice being insufficient to contain the whole mass, the assembly adjourned to the Park. The meeting was organized by the selection of Mr. John A. Bunker as Chairman, and the appointment of the Rev. Mr. H. C. Wright as Secretary...

At last! 2000 assembled in the Capitol, but that edifice being insufficient to contain the whole mass, the assembly adjourned to the Park. The meeting was organized by the selection of Mr. John A. Bunker as Chairman, and the appointment of the Rev. Mr. H. C. Wright as Secretary...

At last! 2000 assembled in the Capitol, but that edifice being insufficient to contain the whole mass, the assembly adjourned to the Park. The meeting was organized by the selection of Mr. John A. Bunker as Chairman, and the appointment of the Rev. Mr. H. C. Wright as Secretary...

At last! 2000 assembled in the Capitol, but that edifice being insufficient to contain the whole mass, the assembly adjourned to the Park. The meeting was organized by the selection of Mr. John A. Bunker as Chairman, and the appointment of the Rev. Mr. H. C. Wright as Secretary...

At last! 2000 assembled in the Capitol, but that edifice being insufficient to contain the whole mass, the assembly adjourned to the Park. The meeting was organized by the selection of Mr. John A. Bunker as Chairman, and the appointment of the Rev. Mr. H. C. Wright as Secretary...

Latest News. BY ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH. ARRIVAL OF THE AMERICA AT BOSTON. Telegraphing the Atlantic! The quickest trip ever accomplished! Ten days and eight hours from Liverpool! EXCITING NEWS FROM IRELAND.

New York, June 14, 5 A. M. The Steamship America arrived at Boston last night, having made the passage in ten days and eight hours—the quickest trip ever made. Liverpool dates are of June 3. Western Canal 27s 6d a 28s. Southern 27s a 28s 6d. U. S. and Canadian Wheat, white and mixed, 7s 6d a 8s. Indian Corn per qr, 33s a 35s 6d. Corn Meal 11s 6d a 12s for 70 lbs. Flour and grain are scarcely changed. The statements of the cotton to be late. Exports are almost confined to the U. S.—money plenty—accommodations liberal—discourts moderate—Bank of France improving in business.

SENTENCE OF MITCHELL. John Mitchell sentenced to 14 years transportation, and the same day was sent to Cork and shipped as a convict to prison work at Bermuda. No outbreak has yet occurred, but an ominous silence prevails. John O'Connell is severe on the Government. He denounces it most fiercely. Mitchell's parting from his family was deeply affecting. His property is confiscated. The United Irishman is suppressed. Mitchell's family was adopted by the people. Trilling disturbances at London Bradford, Manchester, &c., principally by chartists and Irish sympathizers. Some ring-leaders were arrested by the Police. The working class are in great distress. It is supposed the Government will adopt extensive emigration as a relief.

Paris generally tranquil—small riots but generally put down. The National Assembly is still strongly guarded by troops. They are beginning to legislate in earnest. They have determined to break up the Louis Blanc system of organization of labor which made some disturbances among the State workmen. The Police have arrested Blanqui and Flotte. Louis Blanc is to be tried with others for the conspiracy of the 15th May. The Constitution Committee decided to have but one chamber, and to make the present one indelible for the next. New disturbances at Lyons. The Ministers to the United States are said to be appointed. Prince Louis Napoleon visited Paris in disguise, but was ordered to leave. Rothschild's cottage was burned by the conspirators. A violent riot occurred at Berlin on the night of the 26th. Many people were hurt by the National Guard. The Austrians defeated the Italians at Lake Ladrone. The Danes attacked the Germans at Lundshilt in Schleswig, and defeated them. The Germans lost a thousand men and six cannon. The combined Russian, Danish, and Swedish fleets was off Copenhagen. Prince Constantine was on board. No news from China or India.

The Sentinel of yesterday contains the name of its magnificent pro-extension-of-Slavery, anti-internal improvement Candidate for the Presidency, Lewis Cass, but in one single place, and that is in a call for a meeting at Worcester, Mass., of all people who are opposed to his nomination! 'Call you this backing your friends?' If the friends of Gen. Cass in Burlington want a half column or so, daily, for the purpose of presenting his 'claims,' (5) we don't know but they may make a bargain with us. We hope, however, the Sentinel won't give it up so—'Never say die' was the motto of Barnaby Rudge, and he wasn't any crazier than the Cass party.

Haswell's Bennington Gazette, we are sorry to be obliged to say, has succeeded in lumbagoing us! We hoped better things of it; but it swallows Cass and Butler without a protest!—It is but a few days since that paper used the following language, in connection with certain commendations of the progress of Freedom in the Old World:— 'In such a glorious moment as this—while such news of gladness to every friend of freedom salutes our ears—we to rivet slavery on every foot of soil which we have acquired!—We would not now with any more abstract question in the case, but we speak to the great practical issue in regard to existing times. While, as we said in our last editorial, a 'preliminary session of fear pervades the hearts of the old world for their own safety—when royalty feels itself surrounded by perils greater than any that ever menaced it—shall we imitate their system of emigration, of chaining them to the soil and keeping from them the proper rewards of their labors? Forbid it, that merciful God, who looks down upon men from the throne of his holiness!'

And now, the author of these honorable sentiments, sets himself at work to place the Government of this Republic in the hands of a man who has PLEDGED himself to VETO any Act of Congress excluding Slavery from the Free Territories of the Union! Ah! Mr. HASWELL! 'ARE we to rivet Slavery on every foot of soil which we have acquired?'—that is your question.

The political articles in these very able Periodicals, just at this juncture of affairs in our shaven world, are unusually interesting; replete with facts, and reasoning of some of the profoundest as well as most brilliant of English political writers on the existing struggle between Democracy and Aristocracy. Mr. EDWARDS is Agent for subscribers here.

Gen. TAYLOR refused to support the nomination of the National Whig Convention if he was not nominated himself, and thereby insulted the whole Whig Party of the Union. Daily Sentinel of Saturday morning. 'He (Gen. TAYLOR) considers it to be the duty of his friends in the Convention to abide by his decision, and to sustain his nomination, heart and soul. If any other was nominated, Gen. Taylor's friends will withdraw his name. This would be their act not his. Gen. T. would hold the nominee with satisfaction, believing that the welfare of the country was more important than the welfare of men.'—Daily Sentinel of Saturday morning. The above cheering antagonisms are found in the same Sentinel—the first, editorial, the second, telegraphic! And yet its nurse says the Sentinel speaks as well as usual after it, notwithstanding. The hardened little sinner!

The June term of the Caledonia County Court, His Honor Judge HALL, presiding, commenced its session in this village last Tuesday—North Star, June 12th.

Table with 2 columns: FIRST VOTE, SECOND VOTE. Lists candidates and their respective votes from various states.

Resides the above votes, New York on the first call, gave 4 for Mr. Evans, 4 for Mr. Sargent, and each one for Messrs. King, Lunt, Young, Fish and Foote. Maine gave one vote for Mr. Evans; Pennsylvania four for Mr. Sargent; North Carolina 2 for Mr. Sargent, and one for Mr. Fish; Kentucky one for Mr. Ewing; and Wisconsin one for Mr. Choate.

On the second ballot, Kentucky and Ohio gave one vote each for Mr. Evans; North Carolina one for Mr. Sargent; and Arkansas three for Mr. Clayton.

The Daily Sentinel is getting quite unnecessarily frantic over Massachusetts. The Whigs of the Old Bay State will support the nomination of TAYLOR and FILLMORE by one of their noblest majorities. The hand-writing is on the wall against the administration of James K. Polk, and the man through whom it is proposed to perpetuate its suicidal measures and policy, and Lewis Cass will retire to Michigan, next November, in a minority that will correspond, with remarkable felicity of little-known, with his Chicago letter on Internal Improvements!

We are soon to have a new edition of Cass's reply upon the 'King and Court of France.' The letter to the Chicago Convention will constitute the price, and his letter on Slavery the Appendix. The frontispiece is to be composed of a 'Dough Face,' surrounded by a border of snags, sand-bars, and displaced barbers.—Ath. Ec. Jour.