BRIEF LOCALS.

—Forepang's circus will show here Aug. 8, and in June as advertised.
—Mrs. Helen F. Carpenter has something in the advertising columns of especial interest to the ladies.
—The Methodist congregation expect to hear their pastor next Sunday, on his return from the general conference.
—Pensions have recently been granted to John Dana of St. Johnsbury; Hiram Aiken of Peacham; Charles Sydney of Lyndon.

—The summer prices of coal are fixed about as follows: Lehigh egg and stove, $7; chestnut, $7.25; Lacksawanna egg, $6.75, stove, $7, chestnut, $7.25.
—More maple sugar was made at the Fairbanks orchards this year than ever before. The yield exceeded 5,000 pounds, averaging over three pounds to a tree.

—The time tables on both the railroads will be changed June 25th. The New York express goes on then and the usual summer arrangements on the Lake road will be made.
—R. P. Shippie, a young man of 22 who died at Coventry, Friday, was for a year or more engaged in Dr. Warner's dental office, and was a member of the St. Johnsbury guard.

—A number of invitations have been received by people here to attend a public reception to be tendered Minister Phelps, at the Billings library, Burlington, to-morrow evening.
—Another delightful rain on Monday, with warm, sunny weather since then, makes all nature at her best, and Vermont the most delightful summer home in all the land.

—An article on "The Rose-breasted Grosbeak," another on "Surveying with the magnetic needle," and a letter from Hemlock Green are crowded out of this issue but will appear next week.
—Hooker & Son are overhauling the big village pump. Men have been at work on it for over a month and it will be some time yet before the job is completed. The inside works are being entirely renewed.

—The annual concert of the graduating class at the Academy will be given on Thursday evening, June 21. The Temple quartette and Miss Morgan, the harpist, have been engaged for the occasion.
—C. G. Stebbins is making preparations to rebuild his bone-mill that was recently burned in Summer-ville. The new mill will be larger than the old and have increased facilities for the business.

—An entertainment of unusual merit will be the concert next Thursday evening at Lyndonville. Mr. Whitney is the son of Myron W. Whitney, America's greatest basso, and all the artists engaged are fine musicians.
—A whip-poor-will was heard on Sullivan parson's farm near West Concord last Thursday evening. The bird is a rare visitor in this vicinity, but is frequently heard in the woods near Barret and farther south.

—The base ball accident season has opened. Frank French and Carl Hopkins came in collision last week on the school house common, the former receiving a severe wound over the eyes necessitating a number of stitches.
—Rev. C. H. Merrill of this place, speaking in Addison county the other day of what Vermont had done for Western churches, showed that 900 Congregational and Presbyterian ministers had gone West from Vermont. Thus Vermont furnishes the leaven that the whole country may be leavened.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. David Morrison has been visiting friends in Canada for a few days. John L. Keyes is here for a short time visiting old friends. He is now cashier of a loan company in Pierre, Dakota.

Hiram Goss, for some time head clerk at the Avenue house, goes to Barton this summer to work in the Crystal Lake house.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McWilliams of Kansas City have been visiting Mrs. Russell Hallett of this place, Mrs. McWilliams' grandmother.

Mrs. Mary Savage was called to Montreal last week by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. A. J. Savage, late a resident of this place.

Lewis S. Clark of Bucklin, Missouri, of the Acheson & Santa Fe road, has been visiting his mother and other family friends in town the past week.

Rev. C. M. Lamson will deliver the annual address before the Hitchcock society of religious inquiry at Amherst college, on Baccalaureate Sunday, June 24.

Carl C. Fletcher, eldest son of Col. T. C. Fletcher, who has been very sick through the week with diphtheria, is this morning reported somewhat more comfortable.

W. L. Pearl, one of the delegates from Vermont to the national prohibition convention, started on Monday for Indianapolis, Indiana, where the convention met yesterday.

Superintendent Melton of the Boston & Lowell road, who made many friends among the business men of this section of the state during the past few years, has resigned to accept a position on a Western road.

Hugh C. Moore was in town this week for a few days. He reports business good at Amesbury, Mass., and that the $50,000 fire of a few months ago in that town will eventually help rather than injure the place.

Rev. Frederick B. Phelps, formerly pastor of the Congregational church at East St. Johnsbury, will continue another year as pastor of the Congregational church at Sullivan, N. H., and will also supply the Congregational church at Gilsum.

Mrs. N. F. Putnam, the wife of a former rector of St. Andrew's church, has been in town the past week. She is accompanied by her son John, an undergraduate in Columbia college, Graham Putnam, the elder son, graduates at the same college this year.

Charles P. Bowman, son of Major N. P. Bowman and a graduate of St. Johnsbury Academy and Dartmouth, has taken editorial charge of a new local paper just established in the town of Oto, Illinois. The paper is independent in politics and "all for Oto," and promises well.

Prof. S. H. Brackett has received the appointment as one of the commissioners under Act 83 of the laws of 1886 to determine the true meridian lines. Notice of the work Prof. Brackett is doing here in this direction was given in last week's Caledonian. Some further notes concerning this work and its value will be published later.

A recent issue of the Florida Times-Union announces the marriage, at Jacksonville, of Carl Jewell, a former St. Johnsbury boy, to Miss Cora Boker, "a most estimable and amiable young southern lady, formerly of Georgia." The Times-Union speaks in high terms of the young couple. Mr. Jewell, who was formerly employed in the office of the above paper, is now engaged in a railroad office in Jacksonville.

Help for the Starving in Turkey. The following sums have been received to be forwarded to Rev. G. F. Montgomery, Adams, 23, for the starving in his district:
J. W. R. Littleton 2.00
Walden Silver Spoon Sold 1.12
Total 3.12

With the above statement the Caledonian will (for the present, at least), cease to take aid for the famine sufferers in Turkey. As to the present state of affairs in the famine-stricken district, we have no knowledge; but infer that with growing crops the worst suffering is over. It has been a privilege and blessing to receive and forward such a sum of money ($400.35) for such a cause, and the words and letters which have accompanied many of the gifts will long remain as a benediction.

Congregational Conference. The county conference of Congregational churches comes at East Hardwick next Tuesday and Wednesday, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. The usual reduction of fares will be granted on the railroads. Rev. J. C. Bodwell of Lyndonville will preach the opening sermon and special topics will be presented by Rev. C. M. Lamson of St. Johnsbury and Rev. H. M. Andrews of Peacham. The meeting of the Woman's Board of Missions will be held probably the first hour in the afternoon of Tuesday. Train leaves St. Johnsbury at 7.05 in the morning, returning at 9.20 in the evening.

State Conference. The general convention of Congregational ministers and churches of Vermont will be held at Barre June 12, 13 and 14. The Vermont branch of the Woman's board, Mrs. Henry Fairbanks, secretary, meets Tuesday afternoon; Mrs. C. H. Wheeler of Harpoot will address the ladies. The woman's meeting in the interest of the Melton's school will be held Thursday forenoon and the domestic mission society Wednesday forenoon. The railroads are advertised to carry for fare one way.

A Hen and Egg Problem. The following problem has given rise to much talk and no little cyphering. We give it to our readers and ask those who have never had it, or the proper answer, to give it a trial and the readers of the Caledonian the result of their cogitations: Question: "If a hen and a half will lay an egg and a half in a day and a half, how many eggs will six hens lay in seven days?"

A Bad Forest Fire.

A forest fire raged in the Victory woods in the vicinity of L. D. Hazen's mill on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, that threatened at one time to destroy the entire property. It seems that on Thursday Joseph Cloutier, who desired to clear up half an acre of land which he owns adjoining Mr. Hazen's, fired the underbrush on it. The flames soon spread beyond the limits of Mr. Cloutier's land, and on Friday had settled down into what is altogether too well known in this section of the country as a forest fire. The fire travelled a distance of three miles, burning over between 400 and 500 acres. On Friday the 20 or more families living at the mills became alarmed for their safety and Saturday loaded all their belongings including the women and children on to flat cars, that were shoved down grade to places of safety. The fire surrounded the houses, the dense smoke making it almost impossible to fight it effectually, and not until Sunday afternoon was it fully under control, the rain of Sunday evening effectually finishing up the job. Some 50 or 75 cords of bark were burned and the total damage will be about $2000. Over a million feet of sawed lumber was on the ground, as well as 17 or 18 houses, large barns, stoves, etc., and the loss would have been very large had all been destroyed. Fortunately there was little or no wind.

Episcopal Notes. E. D. Blodgett, Esq., W. H. Robb and W. S. Boynton have been elected lay delegates to represent St. Andrew's church at the annual state convention of Episcopal churches, which convenes at Montpelier next Wednesday and Thursday.—The "Bells of St. Andrew's" is the name of a monthly publication, the first number of which is just out, issued by St. Andrew's church. The June number contains a list of the officers of the church, Sunday school, etc., some matters in relation to the local church work, and a large amount of general reading.—Judge Dana's was the first funeral service ever held in the church, though his death was the 51st from the church membership.—Bishop Bissell is expected here June 27. The convention at Montpelier next week marks the 20th anniversary of his appointment as bishop.

More Jug Breaking. The "Bads of Promise," a society of little folks at the Baptist church on Railroad street, had their first jug breaking Thursday evening. There are 22 members of the society and their broken jugs produced $7.96, while a collection amounting to $9.70 brought the sum total up to $17.65. Besides the young people have made seven scrap books and a quilt and give evidence of being buds of considerable promise. The society was formed in January with these officers: President, Nellie Granger; vice president, Belle Henderson; secretary, Bessie Goodell; treasurer, Susie Whittehr.

The Granite Industry. Carrick Brothers have leased a small tract of land on Buffalo mountain, Hardwick, which they will develop for granite. A force of half a dozen men will begin prospecting at once and the chances for finding a good quality of dark granite seem to be good. The site is about two miles from Hardwick village and near the quarry of the St. Johnsbury Granite and Marble company.

Business is booming at the works of the St. Johnsbury Granite and Marble company and 15 more men will be put on next week. The company is now making a vault, the front dimensions of which are 14 by 15 feet. The front will be ornamented with carved pillars, surmounted by a head in bas-relief. It will be made of their own granite. Their new building will be completed in about two weeks. The lower floor will be occupied by David Harriman's brass foundry while above will be Mr. Bennett's marble shop. A side track to the yards has already been laid.

The County Court. The June term of the county court convenes Tuesday, Judge Rowell presiding judge. In the case of John Dasher vs Francis Wells for the burning of Dasher's barn by Wells, involving the same matter as in the case of the State vs Wells, which attracted so much attention when tried at the December term, Dasher has notified Wells' counsel that he should withdraw the suit. Hofsord counsel for plaintiff and Ide & Stafford and Cahoon for defendant.—Harvey Foster vs Thomas Ward, suit for trespass, brings up the old Ward case in another form and there are other cases of more or less interest in the docket.

Academy Notes. The middle class appeared upon the stage Tuesday morning.—Several of our boys walked from West Burke to Willoughby lake and back to St. Johnsbury last Saturday.—The Academy nine defeated the Passumpsic nine on the campus Saturday, score 10 to 15.—D. C. Richardson was in town over Sunday.

A Hen and Egg Problem. The following problem has given rise to much talk and no little cyphering. We give it to our readers and ask those who have never had it, or the proper answer, to give it a trial and the readers of the Caledonian the result of their cogitations: Question: "If a hen and a half will lay an egg and a half in a day and a half, how many eggs will six hens lay in seven days?"

MEMORIAL WEEK.

How the "Festival of the Dead" was Observed in St. Johnsbury.

The Memorial season was observed in St. Johnsbury with the same interest and measure of success that has for so many years characterized this most significant of the nation's anniversaries. On Saturday evening there was a memorial-remembrance meeting of Post Chamberlin in the Post hall on Sunday evening Rev. F. E. Davison delivered the Memorial sermon in Music hall; on Wednesday, memorial day proper, the usual services were held at the cemetery, the address of the day was delivered by Col. John R. Thompson of Washington, D. C., and the day closed with a grand camp fire in the evening.

Saturday Evening's Camp Fire. Memorial services were introduced this year with a public meeting at the Grand Army hall Saturday evening, presided over by E. L. Hovey and devoted to reminiscences of the soldier dead. Comrade Blodgett told the story of a dying rebel soldier at the battle of Spotsylvania, whose last words were words of regret that he was dying an enemy to his country. Comrade Roberts spoke of the significance of Memorial day. Comrade McDonald made a characteristic speech, giving an account of the death of the first man whom he saw killed in action. Comrade Ide told the story of the life and death of Col. Preston of the cavalry. Comrade Elisha May eulogized the life and character of Abraham Lincoln, and Comrade Montgomery the life and character of General Grant. Comrade Sprague related a story of Fredericksburg, how the identity of a comrade shot at his side was preserved by a bit of paper pinned to the dead man's blouse. Comrade Bullard spoke of the brave General Stannard and his faithfulness as a soldier. The exercises were interspersed with the reading of poems by Comrades Thompson and Heald, a solo by Mrs. H. K. Ide, and a paper on army nurses by Mrs. C. A. H. Thompson of the woman's relief corps. Taken altogether the exercises were very interesting and the meeting a success.

Sunday Evening's Service. Music hall was filled on Sunday evening when the customary memorial service was held, Post Chamberlin occupying reserved seats in front. The platform was decorated with the American colors and with flowers. After scripture reading by Rev. Mr. Bailey of St. Andrew's and prayer by Rev. E. T. Sandford of the Baptist church, the North church choir sang the Battle Hymn of the Republic, the audience joining in the chorus. Then followed the sermon by Rev. F. E. Davison, pastor of the Free Baptist church, a full abstract of which will be found on the second page. The exercises opened with the singing of "There is a green hill far away," closing with "America."

Nature always smiles on Memorial day, and she fairly outdid herself on Wednesday. The heavy rains early in the week had settled the ways to perfection and Wednesday morning's sun dawned on the poet's "perfect day in June," even though that month was unavoidably delayed a few hours in its appearance. Business was generally suspended and the people gathered at the appointed places to do honor to the memory of the dead. Early in the morning a detachment was sent to Lyndonville where the usual memorial service was held and the graves of soldiers decorated. During the forenoon detachments were also sent out to decorate the graves in the cemeteries outside the village.

Soon after noon the various organizations participating in the exercises formed on Main street in the following Order of Procession: Detachment of Police, J. A. Nozka, Chief. Maj. Geo. W. Bennett, Chief Marshal. The Danville Band. First Division—W. J. ESTABROOK, AID. St. Johnsbury Guard, A. W. Roberts, captain. Canton Crescent No. 2, Patriarcha Militant, Greg. Roy, captain.

SECOND DIVISION—W. H. SARGENT, AID. St. Johnsbury Drum Corps; Chamberlin Post No. 1, G. A. R., G. B. Bullard, commander; Frost Camp No. 18, S. V., C. M. Bennett, captain. "The Drum Corps" of Lyndonville, A. J. ALBERT, AID. Teachers and Students of St. Johnsbury Academy. Carriages of disabled soldiers, president and orator of the day, clergy, invited guests, officers of the town and village, and citizens.

The line of march was up Main street to Mount Pleasant, and thence to the cemetery, where the impressive ritual service of the grand army was held and the graves of the soldier dead were decorated, the procession returning by the way of Mount Pleasant, W. Sprague presided, enlivening the hour with some very good stories. Foster G. Stevens, the first speaker, gave an exceedingly interesting account of his capture and subsequent experiences in Andersonville and Libby prisons; Col. John R. Thompson followed with an account of the capture of General Stoughton; John McDonald came next with a spirited speech for the foreign element and its part in the war, and John C. Thompson recited a war poem. These exercises were interspersed with varied musical and other selections including a number of drum solos by H. D. Davison, who also pounded two drums at once and gave drum imitations of a thunder storm and a running train. A quartette of banjoists, Messrs. Frost, Goodrich, Stevens and Blodgett rendered a number of selections and were vociferously encored on every appearance. E. A. Sibley sang very effectively "The sword of Bunker Hill," and H. H. May sang the solo of "Marching through Georgia," the au## diences joining in the chorus. Mr. Sibley and Mr. May also sang a duet, "On to the field of glory," winning the hearty applause of the audience. There was a good flute duet by Messrs. Finel and Dolan, and Henry Harris a little chap hardly more than six years old played a cornet solo, the encore which followed fairly bringing down the house. It was a good natured audience that was determined to have a good time and enjoy the occasion.

Memorial Day Notes. The fund for building a monument on the Grand Army lot in the cemetery has reached $135. It is hoped that enough will be raised to warrant the erection of a granite figure piece, representing the ideal Union soldier.

Major Nelson, who died within the past year, was remembered by his old comrades here who sent a floral tribute to be placed on his grave in the Rock cemetery, consisting of a 6th corps badge, the work of Florist Gibbs.

Benjamin Rogers, a member of Post Chamberlin and a former member of Co. K, 15th Vermont, died on Saturday and was buried in the Grand Army lot by the post on Monday. This is the second burial in this lot.

Canton Crescent turned out over 40 uniformed members and presented a fine appearance. The Danville band did well. The women of the Relief corps placed a beautiful floral tribute on the G. A. R. lot at the cemetery. It was a large mound on which stood a broken column. It was inscribed "To the Unknown Dead."

H. C. Bates delivered the memorial address at Newport; W. P. Stafford at Lunenburg; P. D. Blodgett at Wolcott; W. P. Smith at Barret; Rev. E. T. Sandford at West Concord.

Major Bowman in introducing the speaker yesterday afternoon alluded to the death during the past year of Horace Fairbanks, who was always a warm friend of the soldier. He also stated that eight members of Post Chamberlin had died during the past year. This was four per cent. of the membership of the post. Had the same percentage of deaths prevailed throughout the Grand Army posts of the country, the deaths in the order during the year would have been 16,000.

L. D. Young, the oldest member of Post Chamberlin, and claimed as the oldest Grand Army man in the state, was introduced to the afternoon audience, and received with cheers.

The academy boys turned out in good numbers and made a fine appearance. The same may be said of the Sons of Veterans, St. Johnsbury Guard and the old war horses of Post Chamberlin.

General H. K. Ide read the roll of honor at the memorial meeting yesterday afternoon. This now includes the names of 85 deceased soldiers.

There are buried in the local cemeteries five soldiers of the Revolutionary war, two of the war of 1812 and one of the Mexican war. There is also one confederate soldier buried here.

W. C. T. U. Meeting. The meeting of the local union was well attended Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. J. C. Thompson conducted devotional exercises. Interesting and encouraging reports were rendered, especially in the department of scientific temperance instruction by Mrs. W. P. Fairbanks, and on jail and almshouse work by Mrs. J. A. Marshall. These delegates were elected to the North Danville county convention, June 13 and 14: Mrs. W. P. Smith, Mrs. G. H. Spencer, Mrs. J. H. Drew; alternates, Mrs. A. L. Bailey, Mrs. C. T. Walters, Mrs. W. P. Fairbanks. An interesting literary programme, arranged by Mrs. J. H. Drew, was given consisting of songs by Miss Emma Shufelt, and these readings: "The collier's wife" by Mrs. Addie Sargent, "Woman and the temperance question" by Mrs. James Ritchie, and "The tobacco habit and its effect upon school work," by Mrs. J. H. Drew.

Lectures on Woman's Emancipation. Mrs. Zerelda G. Wallace of Indiana, will speak on "Woman's Emancipation" at Music hall, St. Johnsbury, Tuesday Evening, June 5, at 7:30 o'clock. Tickets may be secured at the door. Mrs. Wallace's first week's appointments in this state are as follows: Brattleboro, May 31 and June 1, Wilmington June 2 and 3, Newbury 4th, St. Johnsbury 5th, Barton 6th, Glover 7th, Irasburg 8th.

ST. JOHNSBURY EAST. Judge J. G. Hovey was in Montpelier last week. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sanborn of Lacombe are spending a few days in this village.

Miss Mattie Bowen is very low with consumption, at her father's, A. T. Bowen's.

Mrs. A. L. Harbutt has been visiting friends in Marshfield and Cabot the past week.

George E. Goodall is able to be around once more after being confined to the house most of the winter.

Rev. M. C. Henderson of St. Johnsbury has been supplying the pulpit for several Sundays to the general acceptance of the congregation.

The sugar yield here, as every where else, was larger than for some years. G. Hovey made 2200 pounds from his grove of 800 trees and "angared off" nearly every day. Gen. Grant's orchard of 500 trees yielded an average of two and one-half pounds to the tree.

The Eatnorks of St. Johnsbury have opened a store at the old Goodall stand and Fred Eatnorks is manager. The store is newly fitted up and will make the village a little livelier.

G. Hovey has a capacity of grinding 1500 bushels grain a day and turned out nearly that amount through the winter.
