

THE TOWNS AROUND.

WEST CONCORD. Death of Miss Lindsey. Miss Alice Lindsey died Friday morning, aged about 80 years. She has been in feeble health for a number of years and has suffered a great deal. She fell about ten weeks ago and has since been confined to her bed. She has been very kindly cared for these years by her nephew, Horace Lindsey. She came to this country from Ireland when quite young. She always attended the Methodist church as long as she was able. The funeral was held Friday afternoon, attended by her pastor, Rev. J. E. Knapp. She dearly loved flowers and always used to supply the pulpit with them. Numerous plants and flowers surrounded the casket. She will be greatly missed. She leaves two nephews here, Will and Horace Lindsey, also one niece and nephew away from here.

DANVILLE.

Death of H. B. McDonald. Harvey B. McDonald, one of Danville's most esteemed citizens, died Wednesday, Nov. 22, after a short illness. Mr. McDonald had spent a lifetime on the farm on which he died and was well known as one of the best farmers in town. His kindness of heart together with strict integrity of character had made him a host of friends. The funeral on Friday was very largely attended. Washburn Lodge, F. & A. M., were represented by about 50 members who accompanied the body to the grave and buried it with the impressive rites of the masonic ritual. He leaves a widow, one son, Pliny, who remains on the home place, and a daughter, Mrs. Alice Currier, who lives in town.

A Pleasant Reception.

Dr. C. L. Libby returned from Nassau Thursday with his bride. On Saturday evening a large number of the townspeople gave them a surprise party and reception. Rev. Samuel Lewis introduced the guests and then in a few original and appropriate words presented the newly married couple a purse. All voted it a most pleasant occasion and left with many good wishes for the happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Libby.

LYNDON.

Death of Mrs. Roberts. We learn with sincere sorrow of the death of Mrs. Eva Jackson, wife of Rev. F. H. Roberts, formerly of the Vermont Conference and more recently of the Minnesota Conference. Mrs. Roberts is very pleasantly remembered by many friends in this place where her husband was pastor of the Methodist church from 1886 to 88. Her death occurred at her home at Princeton, Minn., Tuesday, Nov. 21, from heart disease and the interment took place at her native place, Barre, last Saturday, where she was brought by her husband and her adopted daughter, Mrs. J. J. LeTourneau.

A Pleasant Social.

The experience social at the Methodist church last Saturday evening was a very successful affair and netted the society over $25. The programme consisted of amusing select readings and very enjoyable music, a duet, violin and piano, by Fred Spence, and a vocal duet, by Mrs. Lamond and Miss Ida Blake; piano duets by Misses Stella and Ida Blake and a song by Misses Rose and Mary Brown. Mrs. Leach had a very good original poem telling what it was all about, after which the ladies advanced to the front one by one and each deposited a dollar on a small table and most of them told in rhyme how it was earned. Cake and coffee were served in the vestry, and it was generally conceded that there was fun in paying the church debt in that way.

The office of the Vermont Union is undergoing much needed repairs and will be ready for new floors and new ceiling when completed.
