TOWN NEWS.

WEST CONCORD. Herbert Hill, eldest son of Rev. Mr. Hill, passed away at his home in this village last Thursday morning after several months' illness with consumption. He was not confined to his bed at all, riding out only the day before he died. Much sympathy is felt for the father and younger brother in their loneliness. Mr. Hill was only twenty years old and lived looked bright and full of promise to him. Funeral services were held Friday at the Methodist church. The burial was at Orford.

The past week word was received here by the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Mahood of the death of their daughter, Jennie, on July 25. She was a promising child of nearly thirteen years. Her sudden death was caused by a fire. Her mother was Miss Alice E. Lee, formerly of this place but since her marriage had resided in Dakota and California. Mr. and Mrs. Mahood will have the deep sympathy of many friends in this place, in their hour of trial.

Mrs. Helen Stockwell entertained her children at her home last week Thursday, it being her birthday. Among those present were J. B. Stockwell and family of Chelsea, Mass., Charles Howard and family of this place, Frank Childs and family of Grinnell, Iowa, Milo Ladd and family of Waterford and Mr. Ellis and family of Lancaster. A very pleasant day was spent by all.

BRADFORD. Old Home Week. Old Home Week was a very pleasant, interesting and successful occasion, many old residents from out of town being present. The week began Sunday with dinner served in the Methodist church in the morning and in the Congregational church in the evening. Tuesday afternoon Capt. Charles E. Clark arrived and was escorted from the depot by the G. A. R. and Guards. In the evening the first reception and banquet of the Bradford academy alumni association was held at Hotel Low, about 88 people being present.

Wednesday morning exercises were held in village hall when a very interesting program was heard from both residents in town and from away. One of the pleasant features of the morning were remarks by Capt. Clark. Wednesday afternoon exercises were held in village hall, and the hall was crowded at both times. In the evening there was a large gathering at Odd Fellows hall where a very pleasant program was listened to, followed by a reception. Light refreshments were served.

Thursday morning and afternoon exercises were not as largely attended as the previous day but they were very appreciative ones, and each member thoroughly enjoyed.

The week closed with a banquet at Hotel Low Thursday evening, about 125 being present despite the pouring rain. Before and after the banquet a social time was enjoyed and some good byes said. Too much praise can not be said of the success of Bradford's first Old Home Week. Great credit is due the committee that had the same in charge.

DANVILLE. A Family Picnic. Among the Old Home Week celebrations in Caledonia county, the most enjoyable was the picnic party of the Dole family held on the farm of William F. Dole in Danville. Friday, the 16th, was the centennial anniversary of the settlement upon that farm of Silas Dole and Judith Rolfe, his wife, and in commemoration of that event about 150 of their descendants gathered on the old homestead and spent a most enjoyable day upon the ancestral acres. The party comprised representatives of the family from five different states and included four generations—from the few surviving silver-haired grandchildren of Silas and Judith to the young son of Harvey and Alice Durant Dole, who is of the sixth generation. The farm was handed down from Silas to his second son, Samuel, thence to the third son, General Stephen Dole, from whom it descended to Elenzr, his son, who in turn handed it down to his son William F., the present owner, and it is likely to be held in the family in lineal succession for another hundred years. Under the spreading maples which shade the lawn of the old home, tables were laid for the merry throng in attendance and a lunch was served of the sort for which Danville housewives are justly celebrated. The post-prandial exercises included appropriate addresses by the Rev. Walter Dole of Northfield and ex-Congressman J. B. Gillilan and Judge Batchelder of Minnesota. The event from start to finish was characterized by heartiness and jollity, such as invariably mark the reunions of congenial spirits, and its success has encouraged the promoters of the affair to make preliminary arrangements for an annual recurrence of the picnic. It is safe to say that no one who was present at Friday's reunion will want to miss any similar event in the future. Among those present from out of town were, Rev. Walter Dole of Enfield, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. George Batchelder and daughter of Fairbault, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dole of Camden, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. John Gillilan and daughter of Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Greenbank and Mrs. Greenbank of Buckland, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Aleyne Fisher, Mrs. A. W. Fisher and Miss Letta Fisher of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Nell McNaughton and children of Port Covington, N. Y.; E. C. Morse of Patterson, N. NORTH WALDEN. Mrs. Sarah Downer, accompanied by her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. and Miss Clusby, from Rhode Island, leaves this week for her future home in Providence. She has been a resident of this vicinity for nearly half a century. This town was well represented last week observing Old Home Week at the excursion Saturday at Woodbury quarries. Mrs. Charles Orton returned to her home in Lemington, Me., Monday. Among the recent visitors here were Mrs. Mary Daniels from Woodbury; Miss Ellen Jenne from Providence; Mr. and Mrs. Snelling from Lyndonville, N. H.; Hibbard Hoyt and granddaughter from Westfield; Gardiner Orton and family, North Calais, and James Northrop, West Danville.

Zinc and Grinding Make Devoe Lead and Zinc Paint wear twice as long as lead and oil mixed by hand.

BARNET. Old Home Week Visitors. Among the visitors in our village during Old Home Week were: Harvey Summers, from San Francisco; Miss Emily Johnson, Littleton, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Atwood, Lisbon, N. H.; Mrs. Clara Hooker and child, Bradford; Mrs. Burrows, Spokane, Wash.; Mrs. Bert Brown and three children, Concord, N. H.; Miss Alice Brown, Boston; Will Brown, St. Johnsbury; Mrs. Dr. Thompson and daughter Emma, Medford, Mass.; Miss Bella Summers, Boston; Miss Louise Miller, Chicago; Misses Mary and Mabel Miller, Marshalltown, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Claud Miller, Marshalltown, Iowa; Charles Coburn, wife and two children, Leominster, Mass.; Mr. May and wife Leominster, Mass.; Abbie Cook, Beebe Plain; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Potts and two daughters, St. Johnsbury; Misses Ethel and Ellen Abbott, St. Johnsbury; Mrs. F. O. French, St. Johnsbury; Frank Dow, Boston; Frank Davidson, Bennington; Luella Mulliken, Concord, N. H.; Richard Boardman, Morristown, N. J.; Mrs. Dr. Green, Baltimore; Cyrus Halam, Ryegate; John B. Gillilan and family, Mineapolis.

The picnic at Harvey's pond was well attended by our people and a good time was enjoyed greeting old friends. Several hundred people were present during the day. In the evening Uncle Tom's Cabin was played by a travelling company in a large tent, pitched in Ira Albee's field back of his store. Over 700 tickets were sold at the tent door. It was a fairly good show and as everybody seemed anxious to go somewhere, was well attended.

There were several family parties during the week, among these was a birthday dinner at Miss Laura Moore's in honor of Miss Caroline Scott's 80th birthday. Friday evening a number of the people attended the lyceum at Peacham Academy and several went to St. Johnsbury to attend the Field Day exercises Saturday, among these was Dr. Elliot in his "one horse chaise."

Thus the spirit of Old Home Week has shown itself in our little village. Let us hope that next year will show a greater manifestation on the part of our people here to welcome and entertain the strangers within our gates. We would encourage the idea of family reunions and friendly exchange of hospitality and a more cordial welcome on the part of our villagers for all who return during Old Home Week.

A Strange Occurrence. A strange instance occurred in the case of Joseph Goshé, a young woman who has been boarded by the town the past eight months, at David Adams'. Overseer of the poor Sherrburn Moore thought her able to take care of herself and she left here some time in the spring. Last week she boarded the train at West Rumney, N. H., with the intention of going to Barnet. When the train reached Wells River she was sound asleep and so did not make the change there. When the train went back to Woodsville she was still aboard and still asleep, and the train started north. The conductor who took charge of the train at Woodsville going through the train asking for tickets not receiving any reply from the girl, used vigorous means to wake her, all to no avail, and at Lisbon the girl was taken off and placed in a cot bed in the depot. A doctor was called who was also unable to wake her, and he pronounced it an unusual case. When night came she still remained in the same state and was carried to a house near at hand, where she was watched during the night by a trained nurse. Her breathing and her pulse were both natural, there being nothing about her case resembling cases of suspended animation. In the morning she awoke naturally and was able to talk to the station. The depot was crowded with the excitement of having people looking at her and the fatigue of waiting for the train sent her off to sleep again. Preparations were made to place her aboard the train in the cot bed when she again awoke.

Last Thursday night she arrived in Barnet sound asleep, was taken into the station and a doctor sent for. He was unable to bring her out of this state until 10 p.m. It seems that some time ago she had been known to have such spells when riding on the cars and some hold the opinion that the spells are produced by the motion of the train. At any rate it is said she is not in the habit of having them when she remains quietly in any one place.

Arthur Ewing was home over Sunday. Mr. Guthrie and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hunt attended the picnic at Ryegate "Old Home Week." Eben Willey is making a tent for Josiah Kennison to exhibit the King of Barnet in at Ryegate fair.

Dr. Elliot and his son Howard have gone to Rumney, N. H., to visit friends for a week. Have you money to invest? See preferred stock advertisement on page 1. The Sunday school will hold a picnic in Charles Bailey's woods in the vicinity of Sutton brook August 27th. The East Barnet Sunday school is cordially invited.
