A Strong Protest against the Referendum.

The action of the chronic rumblers, men who have for years prided themselves on their ability to defy the law and enrich themselves violating the prohibitory law, now brazenly and defiantly throwing open the bars before the new goes into effect, is evidence of their purpose to monopolize or control the business in the event of the law's acceptance by the people, and in my judgment will drive thousands of the friends of local option to oppose the measure as they are not the class of men that good citizens wish to see hold licenses.

Kerosene as Fuel.

It is a convenient, but costly substitute for solid fuels. Pound for pound, kerosene at fourteen cents the gallon or two cents the pound, is about four times the cost of anthracite coal at $10.00 per ton; and then its supply is limited and variable.

The Size of the Majority.

It is more too early to begin to figure on the size of the majority which St. Johnsbury is to give as against the license local option bill, on the third of February.

There is one rational way to treat nasal catarrh.

The nightly attendance at London theatres averages 54,000 persons.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[Special Correspondence.] The best offices the president will have at his disposal in years will be the isthmian canal commissions. He probably has before him already the names of thirty or forty men of prominence throughout the country, and the list continues to grow. It will grow right along until the commissioners are named, which will not be until the route for the canal has been selected.

A President's Son.

A gentleman of modest demeanor, well on toward middle life, was in the corridors of the capitol, where hundreds of visitors passed who did not know they were touching elbows with the son and namesake of a former president of the United States, Mr. Rutherford B. Hayes of Asheville.

Opening of the White House.

The completion of the work on and around the White House is nearing an end. Since the beginning of the work the building and grounds have been closed to the public. Many inquiries are made as to when they may be reopened.

Athletes For Soldiers.

The secretary of war has approved a recommendation made by General Randall, commanding the department of the Columbia, that officers and men be granted permission under proper restrictions to visit other posts for the purpose of taking part in athletic contests.

The President Talks German.

President Roosevelt enjoyed a long conversation in German the other day with Representatives Wachter and Schirm and Louis Michel, editor of the Deutsch Amerikaner of Baltimore.

After Many Years.

A conversation in the cloakroom recently between Chairman Jenkins of the Judiciary committee and ex-Speaker Grover disclosed a curious fact unknown to their associates.

Why He Submits.

In admitting that he had been defeated in his effort to amend the union station bill "Uncle Joe" Cannon said: "I always bow to the will of the majority—first, because I can't help myself and second, because I frequently have found the majority wiser than myself."

Great Events of the Year.

The Year of our Lord 1902, has not been very remarkable for exciting events; nevertheless it has been a year of distinction and achievement. Americans at least may well be proud of the part their country has played and is about to play in the march of civilization.

Our Country's Need of Home Missions.

It is not necessary, and it is injurious, to make comparisons between home and foreign missions. We are not so rich that we must make choice and sacrifice one to extend the other.

Riding Away With the Bride.

In many of the border counties of England the quaint old bridal customs of hundreds of years ago are still in vogue. The parents carefully abstain from appearing at the marriage ceremony, clinging to the idea that the bridegroom still rides away on a foaming steed with his bride behind him as in the good old days.

Kidney Disease Kills.

Kidney diseases should be attended to at once, for almost 90 per cent. of our unexpected deaths of to-day are from that cause. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the only sure cure known for diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood.

Ward's Elite Stationery.

Owing to repeated and urgent calls for Ward's Stationery I have put in a nice line of Ward's writing papers and envelopes in various sizes and tints.

The Best Indorsement.

Baxter's Mandrake Bitters is sold and guaranteed to cure the diseases for which it is designed, by every druggist in the United States, or money refunded.

Unguarded Gates.

Wide open and unguarded stand our gates. Names of the four winds, North, South, East, and West; Portals that lead to an enchanted land of riches, forests, fields of living gold.

The New York Tribune Almanac.

Of course, it is possible to worry through life without keeping a Tribune Almanac at your elbow, but is it worth while—does it pay? For 25 cents a year this publication supplies you with a really marvellous amount of information.
