LYNDON.

John Meigs Weeks, the oldest resident of Lyndon, died at his home here early yesterday morning at the age of 80 years. He had been in feeble health all winter, but was about his usual duties and officiated as town auditor only a few days before the town meeting. Mr. Weeks was born in Lyndon, November 8, 1824, and has always lived here, beginning to work in a store when only 14 years old, and going into business for himself when 20 years old, where he has continued for the past 60 years.

He was twice married, first to Miss Louise McGaffey, and to them two children were born, now Mrs. Helen Streeter of Boston, who came to Lyndon during her father's illness, and Mrs. Mary Cross of Dawson, Minn. And second to Miss Fannie E. Bartlett, and to them was born one son, Clinton B. Weeks, of St. Johnsbury. Mr. Weeks has been postmaster here at three different times, and is well known over the state as a staunch democrat, having represented the town in 1890. He has held many town offices and had been one of the auditors for many years. About a week ago he took a slight cold and failed rapidly until his death came. The second regular meeting of the Philomathian society was held Friday evening, and was on the whole, an improvement on the last one. A debate was held on the question—Resolved: That the country is better for a high school pupil than the city. The affirmative was taken by Meigs '05, and Cady '08, the negative by Miss Goodwin '05, and Miss Wilson '07. The judges decided in favor of the negative but perhaps results might have been different, if the speakers had finished their speeches. The five minute limit, however, compelled them to stop before they got in their best points.

The members of the school are interested in selling certificates of the Betsy Ross Memorial society. This society has for its object the preservation of the old house in which Betsy Ross made the first "Stars and Stripes." The certificates are very dainty lithographs, representing Mrs. Ross as she is making the flag, and are worth ten cents, the price asked. If thirty certificates are sold, a beautiful large picture is given free. Any contributions to help raise the number sold to 30 will be appreciated by the pupils.

The new wall decorations in the high school room are very neat, and make the room a much pleasanter place to stay in.

J. Lenora Wilson '07 is sick with the grip.

Visitors are always welcome at the Philomathian meetings, but will be especially so at the next meeting, which will be held in the church vestry, on the last of school, Friday, March 31. VERMONT NEWS.

Mrs. Julie Bachand, a descendant of the early French settlers in Canada, died Sunday at her home in Brandon. She was 98 years old, and leaves six children, 40 grandchildren, 105 great-grandchildren and 10 great-great-grandchildren.

Death of Rev. Lewis Grout. Rev. Lewis Grout of West Brattleboro, who had just passed his ninetieth birthday, died early Sunday morning at his home. Mr. Grout was widely known as a missionary to Africa, and his work among the Zulus was recognized as intelligent and permanent. He was familiar with African languages and to him is due the credit of preparing a Zulu grammar. His missionary work was attended by privation and great self-sacrifice. He was the author of many valuable essays on Africa and its development, one of which was delivered at the Chicago conference on Africa in August, 1893, on "The place and power of each family of African language in the development of Africa." This attracted wide attention at the time, and the aged author received many congratulations for his effort. For sixteen years, from 1846 to 1862, he lived in Africa as a missionary of the American Board. Among the historic, philological and missionary publications credited to Mr. Grout, besides the valuable grammar of the Zulu language, which was accompanied with historical facts, are the most interesting reminiscences of his life among the Zulu Kaffirs, translation of Psalm, the Acts and other portions of the Bible into the Zulu language. A reply to Bishop Colenso's remarks on the proper treatment of cases of polygamy, as found existing in converts from heathenism, and sermons preached in the Congregational and Presbyterian churches in Natal nearly fifty years ago, and several able papers on the Christian missionary, are valued works by him.
