The 33rd annual convention of the Vermont W. C. T. U. was held at Brandon, September 30, and October 1 and 2. A reception was held in the Methodist church Monday evening, followed by exercises of music and devotion. The convention was introduced by the state president, Mrs. Ida H. Read of Shelburne. The following greetings were given: Rutland county W. C. T. U., Mrs. S. K. Barbank of Pittsford; Brandon W. C. T. U., Mrs. G. A. Cooke; Brandon L. T. L., town, Hon. E. J. Ormsbee; churches, Rev. F. L. Bullard; schools, Prof. J. Harold Fuller; responses came from each of the county leaders and in the absence of Mrs. E. Mead Denney, a short address was given by Mrs. Gratia Davidson.

At Tuesday morning's session reports were given by county officers and the annual reports of the state secretary, Mrs. G. E. Davidson, state treasurer, Mrs. E. Mead Denney, and state auditor, Mrs. Ellen B. Turner, were given. Mrs. Read's annual address, and a message from "Mother National," by Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, national president, were given. Tuesday afternoon was given up to reports from the different departments, and the children's hour was conducted by Miss Clara Nichols. One of the most delightful features of the day was the children's hour, when 35 members of the L. T. L. marched into the church and under the direction of Miss Nichols entertained the convention, with temperance recitations and songs. Beautiful words of encouragement and inspiration for the children were then spoken by Miss Elsie Pease, state organizer of the L. T. L., Mrs. Kenyon, state secretary of the L. T. L., Mlle. Merle d'Aubigne, who is engaged in temperance work among the children in France, and Miss Gordon, the world's organizer of the L. T. L.

Tuesday evening an address was given by Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens which was a forceful, logical and stirring appeal to greater effort and more persistent and consolidated service in the work of temperance reform. Miss Anna Gordon spoke on "What is the W. C. T. U. Doing?" The president's annual address is full of hope and courage, as usual, but it will appear in full in the year book, she only gave a brief talk at the convention. These officers were elected: President, Mrs. Ida H. Read of Shelburne; vice-president, Mrs. E. B. Lund of Burlington; secretary, Mrs. G. E. Davidson of Newfane; recording secretary, Miss May Mudgett of North Hyde Park; treasurer, Mrs. E. Mead Denney of Montpelier; auditor, Mrs. Ellen B. Turner of St. Johnsbury. The convention closed Wednesday evening with a talk by Mrs. E. A. Kenyon, and a very interesting address on the outlook for temperance in Switzerland and France by Mlle. Merle d'Aubigne.

A unique and impressive feature of one of the sessions was the presentation of a little lad in Japanese costume purporting to represent the Royal Temperance Legion of Japan and through whom Miss Gordon presented to Mlle. d'Aubigne a white ribbon pin which she had received from a friend in Jerusalem. As the gift passed from hand to hand from Tokio, Japan, to France, Miss Gordon unfurled the stars and stripes over their heads and so exemplified the union of spirit and of endeavor between different parts of the world in the work of the W. C. T. U.

The two beautiful wreaths made from arbor vitae which grew at the birthplace of Miss Frances Willard's parents, were presented to the national officers by Mrs. Read, to be placed by them on the graves of the Willards at Rose Hill. This touching tribute is an annual event of the Vermont state W. C. T. U. convention.

Little Evelyn Cook of Brandon was called to the platform and dedicated to the W. C. T. U. of Vermont, the white ribbon being tied on her arm by Miss Gordon.

State Bar Association.
The adjourned session of the 29th annual meeting of the Vermont Bar Association was held at Montpelier, Wednesday. These officers were elected: President, Alexander Dunnet of St. Johnsbury; vice-presidents, C. G. Austin, St. Albans; Z. H. Albee, Bellows Falls; F. A. Howland, Montpelier; secretary, John H. Minnis, St. Albans; treasurer, Hiram Carleton, Montpelier; board of managers, H. C. Shurtle, Montpelier; M. L. Powell, Burlington; A. T. Schwen, Brattleboro; R. A. Lawrence, Rutland. The following members were reported as having died during the past year: J. W. Gregory of Watshlet, J. P. Lamson of Cabot, J. C. Enright of Windsor, H. A. Ward of Swanton, and Judge H. H. Wheeler of Brattleboro. Robert C. Bacon of Brattleboro and W. H. Botsford of Rutland were admitted to membership.

The report of the committee on jurisprudence and law reform was made by Judge E. C. Mower of Burlington, in which a reform in the manner of choosing petit jurors, a modification of the statute prohibiting a surviving partner from testifying in court, changes in the statute regulating practice in probate courts, and a more specific limitation of cases in chancery was recommended. At an evening session Judge F. M. Butler, the retiring president, gave an admirable address on "The Dual System of Law and Equity." A paper was read by Max L. Powell of Burlington on "Twenty-Seven Years of Litigation between the Vermont and Canada and the Vermont Central Railroads."

The annual banquet was held at the Pavilion, President Butler acting as toastmaster, and the following responded: Lieut. Gov. Prouty, Judge H. C. Ide of St. Johnsbury, Chief Judge John W. Rowell of the Vermont supreme court, John W. Redmond of Newport, Atty.-Gen. C. F. Fitts, Frank Plumley of Northfield, Interstate Commerce Commissioner Charles A. Prouty of Newport, Congressman D. J. Foster and Hugh H. Henry of Chester, a member of the class under examination. The candidates who took the examinations for admission to the bar, were J. A. Wilcox of Ludlow, H. B. Eddy of Brattleboro, W. K. Farrington of Brandon, Frank A. Stear of Bakersfield, W. A. Graham of Greensboro, H. B. Whitney of Brattleboro, Hugh H. Henry of Chester, John C. Sherburne of Bethel and W. D. Smith of Brattleboro.

Spear of Bennington, has resigned as division inspector, and Ernest L. Lambert of Bennington, has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

The Vermont representatives at the national encampment held at Dayton, O., were Allan S. Holbrook of Lyndon-ville, Past Division commander Fred W. Spear of Bennington and Fred E. Terrill, division commander.

Lambert of Bennington, Camps 9 of Bennington, 60 of Manchester, 72 of Danby.

Annual Meeting Vermont Federation.
The 12th annual meeting of the Vermont Federation of Women's Clubs was held at All Souls' Unitarian church at Windsor, Wednesday and Thursday. A pleasing address of welcome was given Tuesday morning by Mrs. Clara McI. Perkins, president of the Friends in Council of Windsor. This was happily responded to by Mrs. Minnie B. Hazen, state president, which was followed by reports of the secretaries. The state president gave her annual address, which contained many good suggestions. During the sessions reports were given from each of the standing committees of the Federation, showing good work done the past year, and an interest in prospective work. This was also true of the reports from the various clubs in the Federation, which were very interesting and helpful. Wednesday evening a brilliant reception was held at the home of Mrs. Albert Weston, whose beautiful residence was very attractively decorated with potted plants and flowers, and where a large number of delegates and visitors were very pleasantly received by Mrs. Weston, Mrs. Minnie B. Hazen, Mrs. Clara McI. Perkins, Mrs. Noel Webster, president of the New Hampshire Federation, Miss Jennie Valentine, state treasurer, and Mrs. T. A. Dunnet, state secretary. A delightful music was provided by the orchestra, and refreshments were served. Miss Minnie Barbour of Montpelier sang and responded to hearty cheers.

Thursday morning greetings were read from Federation presidents in Missouri, Oregon, South Dakota, Rhode Island, Colorado, New York, Minnesota, Michigan, and Mrs. Noel Webster, president of the New Hampshire Federation brought personal greetings. Following the report of the forestry committee Mrs. Rebecca P. Fairbanks read a paper on "Our Forests, Their Dangers and Means of Protection." The committee for revision of Article V of the constitution reported an amendment to the article making it read as follows, and the amendment was accepted:

Nominations: All officers except corresponding secretary shall be nominated by a nominating committee, consisting of the presidents of the clubs belonging to the Federation. At the semi-annual meeting this committee shall appoint a sub-committee of three from their own number, who shall obtain from each member of the whole committee nominations for the offices to be filled. From these nominations the sub-committee shall prepare a printed ballot with the name of the candidate for each office who has received the largest number of votes, and who has consented to accept the nomination. This ballot shall be posted in a prominent place at the opening session of the annual meeting. Names of other candidates, who shall be endorsed by five members of the convention may be posted near this and considered as nominees. A majority shall elect.

A visit to the state prison just previous to the opening of the afternoon session proved very interesting. The report of the treasurer showed a balance in the treasury of $77.57. At this afternoon session Mrs. Sallie Joy White of Dedham, Mass., gave a paper on "Women in the Professions and Industries." Miss Etta M. Newell, librarian at Hanover, read her interesting paper on "The Influence of Environment and Friendship on the late Poets." It was voted to accept the Federation Bulletin as the official organ of the Federation.

These delegates were elected to the Biennial in Boston in June: Mrs. M. O. Perkins of Windsor, Mrs. J. B. Needham of Rutland, Mrs. Rebecca E. Fairbanks, Miss Jennie Valentine of Bennington, Mrs. C. C. Fitts of Brattleboro. Alternates, Mrs. T. A. Davis of Rutland, Mrs. E. G. Osgood of Bellows Falls, Miss Susan Clark of Brattleboro, Mrs. Elsie P. Varney of Windsor, Mrs. A. L. Finney of Lyndonville. These officers were elected: President, Mrs. Minnie B. Hazen; vice president, Mrs. M. O. Perkins; Windsor; recording secretary, Mrs. T. A. Davis, Rutland; treasurer, Miss Jennie Valentine, Bennington; auditor, Mrs. Helena Norton, Bennington; general federated state secretary, Mrs. Josephine Arms, Bellows Falls. Miss Sarah Arnold, dean of Simmons College, Boston, gave a most interesting and instructive talk in the evening on "Children and Citizens." Her genial manner and happy vein of humor captivated her large audience, who were attentive listeners until her address closed. Following this address she gave a short talk on the work done at the college she represents.

The first arts and crafts exhibit undertaken in connection with the Federation was a decided success and the great variety of articles exhibited showed the talent to be found in the state and that the members of the clubs were interested in this work. The vestry of the church was filled with this attractive display, and much time was spent there by the delegates and visitors. There are now 27 clubs in the Federation, the La Douzaine of West Pawlet having joined the past year. Over 40 delegates are speakers and entertained by the people of Windsor, whose courtesy was greatly appreciated. The next meeting will be held at Brattleboro.

Death of A. A. Fletcher.
Col. Albert A. Fletcher, one of the most prominent citizens of Middlebury, died at his home there, Wednesday, of acute kidney trouble. He was a native of Bridport and was 72 years of age. He is survived by four children. Mrs. Fletcher died about two years ago. Col. Fletcher was elected to the state senate from Addison county in 1882, and had been president of the Middlebury National bank for 25 years. He moved to Middlebury from Bridport in 1882, having represented his native place in the legislature of 1872. He had held nearly all the town offices in Bridport and Middlebury and was a member of the staff of Gov. Julius Converse from 1872 to 1874. He was past grand commander of Mount Calvary commandery, Knights Templar, of Middlebury.

Grade Crossings Abolished.
As a result of hearings held by the board of railroad commissioners during the past summer, orders have been issued directly that several grade crossings be abolished in conformity with a law passed by the legislature of 1906. Among others are the following in this vicinity: "Hall's Crossing" on the Boston & Maine, in the town of Lyndon, is ordered abolished and a section of new highway is to be completed on or before November 15. The Boston & Maine is also directed to abolish "French's Crossing" in the town of Sutton, and to construct 1,190 feet of new highway and one underpass.

Mrs. W. H. DuBois Dead.
Mrs. DuBois, widow of the late Hon. William H. DuBois, of Randolph, was killed as the result of a fall down the cellar stairs at her home. She struck her head on the cellar pavement. She made no cry but the noise when she fell brought her step-daughter, Mrs. Homer Bell, to the scene. Mrs. Bell reached her before she died. Mrs. DuBois was entirely unconscious. The cause of the fall is thought to be a shock or dizziness for she had been subject to them previously. The deceased passed her 85th birthday Sept. 30.

Higginette Foundry Partially Destroyed.
A portion of the plant of the Higginette Foundry Co., at Higginette Falls, was destroyed by fire Oct. 3, causing a loss estimated at $8,000. The insurance is about $2,000. Forty men are thrown out of employment temporarily. It is expected that the machine shop will be rebuilt.

Bar State Men Coming.
At a quarterly meeting of the state board of pharmacy to be held today at the State House for the examination of candidates, the members of the Massachusetts board will be guests of the Vermonters and while here will incidentally discuss the desirability of a greater uniformity in the pharmacy laws of the two states.

Rev. S. W. Biddle, of East Middlebury, 98 years old, and in active service, preaching every Sunday, is said to hold the marriage record for Vermont Methodist ministers. He performed two ceremonies the past month, making 302 couples that he has united in the bonds of matrimony. There are prospects that an electric lighting plant will be established at the Vermont Soldiers' Home, Bennington, for the purpose of lighting the buildings of the institution. The institution is now lighted by the Bennington Light & Power Co., at an annual expense of about $900 which it is believed could be reduced by the installation of an individual plant.

The forestry commissions of southern Maine and New Hampshire are working on a mysterious disease which has attacked the white pine trees. This same disease has lately been discovered on the white pines in the vicinity of Brattleboro. The Vermont Society of Colonial Dames will meet with the members of the society in Brattleboro, October 23. A surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell at their home in Barre, Sept. 30, on the occasion of their 60th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hopkins of Waterbury, observed the 55th anniversary of their marriage Sunday, Sept. 29. Peritonitis, brought on by the practical jokes of his school mates, is said by the physician to have caused the death of Raymond C. Duprey of Vergennes, 11 years old. The bigger boys at school were in the habit of striking him on the stomach "to see him bow," and the fatal attack followed the administration of several of these blows. Gov. Fletcher D. Proctor has appointed the following men as Vermont delegates to the American Mining Congress, to be held at Joplin, Mo., Nov. 12-18: James W. Tyson, of Stratford; Prof. George H. Perkins, of Burlington; Thomas J. Roberts, of Poulney; H. J. M. Jones, of Montpelier; F. M. Corry, of Montpelier; John P. Rich, of Swanton; Edward A. Bart, of Middlebury; Frank E. Chamberlain, of St. Albans; O. C. Huntley, of Leicester; and Ernest H. West of Manchester.
