

Don't Be a Slave to the Scrubbing Brush

KEEP the woodwork fresh, clean and bright with paint, enamel or stains. It is easy to "do over" a room in any of the rich, hardwood colors or the woodwork can be made hard as iron with enamels.

Painted walls need only a damp cloth to renew their brightness. We will tell you how this work can be done easily and with a great deal of pleasure, too.

A Communication.

Editor of the Caledonian:— Through your paper I want to ask why the trustees of this village do not remedy the sewerage conditions on Hastings Hill. A whole summer has passed by without a single act by them to prevent the discharge of sewerage in an open field near peoples' houses. They have been showered with complaints, and finally ordered by the state board of health to stop the nuisance, but still they do nothing, and put forth excuse after excuse. Do they ever intend to do anything or is a longer must be expected to endure such a pest hole without relief? The trustees could at least have stopped the use of these pipes, which are a new thing, and then waited until a sewer could be put into the river. But no, they would do nothing. How much longer must I and other people who cannot escape this nuisance, put up with the failure of these trustees to attend to the duties for which they were elected? Respectfully yours, F. X. NOLIN.
