MCINDOE FALLS.

Deaths of Chester Hunt and Amos B. Perry—Locals.

Chester Hunt died of bronchial pneumonia at his home Thursday morning, Nov. 30th. Mr. Hunt had been in his usual health until about three weeks before when he fell in the barn and fractured his right hip and within a few days bronchial pneumonia developed.

Chester Hunt was born at Ryegate Corners, June 16, 1830, son of Worcester and Charlotte Sherburn Hunt. His parents moved to McIndoes when he was two years old which has been his home ever since with the exception of a few years spent in the west.

In 1856 he went to California where he stayed four years. Most of the time he worked in the gold mines.

In 1864 he went to Pennsylvania where he worked drilling oil wells.

In 1869 he went to California the second time staying about two years, working for the railroad and sinking artesian wells. He was engaged in the lumber business here for some time and worked in a section for the railroad company a good many years. Dec. 25, 1852 Chester Hunt was married at Nashua, N. H., to Ellen J. Blodgett of Monroe, N. H. One son was born to them, Morris D. Mr. Hunt is survived by his wife, who has been an invalid for a number of years, his son, two grandchildren, Leslie Hunt, of New York, and Mrs. Murry Little of this place and three great grandchildren. The funeral was held Monday at one o'clock, at his late home, Rev. Mr. Burns of Monroe, N. H., officiating and interment was at the McIndoes cemetery.

Ames B. Perry of Boston, who for a little more than 25 years was a prominent and respected business man in this village, died at the home of his sister, the widow of our late Gov. Charles J. Bell, on Friday evening of last week after a long illness. He was the son of the late Charles C. and Abigail W. Perry of Lyndon, where he was born, June 2, 1845. He came here in 1871 and was until about five years since actively engaged in the mercantile business, when he sold out and entered the employ of Messrs. Rockwood, McIntire and Co., of Boston, wholesale grocers, first as a member of the firm of Gilchrist and Perry, and later alone in trade. Although a member of the minority political party, he was for years a trusted, popular and efficient town official and postmaster under the Cleveland administration. Sept. 8, 1874 he married Miss E. Jennie Gilchrist, the accomplished daughter of the late Judge James Gilchrist, who with two daughters, Mrs. Drew and Miss Virginia, of Boston, and two grandchildren, mourn an irreparable loss by reason of his death. His funeral was attended at the Congregational church, in our village, on Tuesday afternoon, of which he was a regular attendant, and a liberal supporter, all the years he was a resident here. The Rev. H. T. Barnard conducted the services, assisted by the Euphonia quartet of St. Johnsbury. A large number of his old friends came to pay their last tribute of love and respect to one who had bound them to him by the ties of long years of service in our midst. He was a valuable and faithful friend, and his heart was full of the tenderest and sublimest sentiments.

Miss Mabel Winch of East Arlington spent several days last week at G. F. Winch's.

Miss Mildred Nelson and friend of Bath, N. H., were guests of Mrs. Paddlesford, Friday.
