SOCIAL EVENTS.

The eighth grade of the Portland Street school and their teacher, Miss Dillingham enjoyed a pleasant snow-shove tramp Tuesday afternoon, after school. At the meeting of the whist club at Mrs. Horace Camp's last Friday evening, March 6, two of its members, Burligh Carpenter and Theodore Carr were given a post card shower in honor of their birthdays. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The first prizes were won by Mrs. Gordon Wright and Mr. Clarence Richards and the consolation prizes by Mrs. Preston May and Gordon Wright. The M. T. O. Club met last Saturday afternoon with Mrs. G. K. Goss. Last week Tuesday evening Miss Virginia Goss invited nine of her girl friends to spend a few hours with her intimating that the affair was in honor of her sister, Mrs. Frank Taplin of Chicago, who is east for a visit. The time was happily spent in playing hearts after which refreshments were served from a table prettily decorated with pink which was the color of the evening. The centre piece of the table was a tiny Kewpie driving with pink ribbons a small white box which was awarded to the winner of the game of hearts, as her prize. Upon opening it she found the announcement of the engagement of their hostess and J. S. Inskip of Bridgeport, Ct., which she read to the company and showed them the pretty ring which Miss Goss is now wearing. There will be a social at the North church, Friday evening, at 7:30. Dr. F. G. Woodworth will give an illustrated lecture. The Comus Club were entertained by Miss Glenn Roundly last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Eastman. Madam Brock's orchestra has been engaged and another very delightful dancing party is insured. The Missionary Round Table of the North church entertained the Surchlight Club of the South church, Tuesday evening in a very delightful manner. A program was much enjoyed. This consisted of music by Miss Maude Pollensby, which is always much appreciated. Rev. S. F. Goodheart of St. Johnsbury Center, gave a most interesting talk on "Ligionism." One of the special features of the evening was several selections rendered in a most creditable manner by the St. Johnsbury Trio. This trio consists of Miss Helen Boynton, violinist, Miss Maude Brown, pianist, and Raymond Laughlin, cellist. All are artists of recognized ability and their music added much to the pleasure of the evening. After the program, very dainty and appetizing refreshments were served at little tables. This was followed by a social hour in which the members of the two societies were given an opportunity to become better acquainted. Both guests and hostesses enjoyed a very pleasant evening. Miss Mabel L. Spencer entertained the picnic club on Wednesday the picnic club on Wednesday small tables in the living room. Mrs. Fred Thomas recently gave a card party in honor of her mother, Mrs. Mary Miles. Several came from Four Corners, where Mrs. Miles lived for many years. After refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee had been served, Mrs. Miles was presented with a black messaline dress pattern. She also received many cards from friends and members of Olive Branch Lodge, D. of R. Mrs. Roy Calderwood entertained a party at her home very pleasantly Tuesday afternoon.
