Pres. Lowell of Harvard To Deliver Address At The Institute Commencement—Locals.

Next week will be commencement week at Lyndon Institute, and a program of great interest is being prepared. Several distinguished guests are expected to be present, among them, President A. Laurence Lowell of Harvard University and Major Henry L. Higginson, the well known philanthropist of Boston, both of whom will address the graduates; President Nichols of Dartmouth college, Prof. J. L. Hills of the University of Vermont, and E. S. Brigham, Commissioner of Agriculture. A brief outline of the main features of the program is as follows: Sunday, June 14, the sermon to the graduating class will be delivered in the Free Baptist church by Prof. Daniel Marshall of the department of biblical history at Dartmouth college. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be devoted to examinations, Wednesday evening will be held the Commencement ball. Thursday evening will be devoted to the Alumni and their interests. The Alumni banquet will take place Friday afternoon, followed by the annual ball game of students and alumni. The graduating exercises will be held Friday evening, this innovation being made advisable by the presence of President Lowell. There are 53 graduates this year in the various departments, including the college preparatory, commercial, English, agricultural, teachers' training and the brief course in home economics. Dr. Richard Wilder of Whitefield, N. H., is a guest of his mother, Mrs. Josephine Wilder, for a short time. The doctor is suffering with a broken shoulder, caused by his getting caught and jammed between his automobile and the door of the barn. Miss Ruth Johnson of St. Johnsbury Center has been visiting friends in town.

A. A. Barber, Daniel Paris and E. J. Blodgett, petit jurors from this town, are in attendance at county court, usually making the trip back and forth each day.

The graded school closes the term Friday, June 12, with simple closing exercises in the school hall. Mr. Jamieson's room is planning for a school picnic on Saturday at Bean pond. All the teachers in this school are re-elected for next year, with the exception of Miss Davis, the second grade teacher, who is not expected to return.

Misses Marion Dane and Lois Redmond, the French and German teachers at Lyndon Institute, will spend the summer vacation abroad. They leave here June 17, and Miss Dane will go to Germany, Miss Redmond to France, where they will have opportunities for special study, each in her line.

The Lyndon Institute base ball nine had a successful game at Barton, Saturday, in which they defeated that team by a score of 8 to 1.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Newell-Berry

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Cortis J. Berry in St. Johnsbury Center was the scene of a pretty wedding, Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, June third, when their daughter, Maud Marion, was united in marriage to George Graham Newell of this village, in the presence of a few relatives. They were married by Rev. Edward T. Fairbanks, who officiated at the wedding of the bride's parents 30 years ago. Miss Ruth N. Berry of Worcester, Mass., a cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Charles H. Newell, brother of the groom, was best man. The single ring service was used. Miss Mildred Berry, the bride's sister, was ring bearer, carrying the ring in a rose.

The rooms were prettily decorated with ferns, evergreens and flowers. Miss Graves had charge of the decorating. The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, played by the bride's cousin, Miss Editha Drew of Newport. The bridesmaid wore light blue chiffon over satin, with trimmings of pink, and carried pink carnations and a grandmother.

The bride's gown was white embroidered marquisette with shadow lace. She wore a veil with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried bride's roses. Her only ornament was a string of gold beads which belonged to her great-grandmother.

Her travelling suit was Hague blue wool poplin.

Following the ceremony ice cream and cake were served; Mrs. Palmer J. Davis of Carlisle, Mass., cut the ice cream and the Misses Helen Newell and Editha Drew assisted in the dining room.

The gifts consisted of cut glass, china, a chafing dish, linen, embroidery, an Indian woven wall piece from New Mexico, money and silverware, including family silver more than 125 years old.

The bride is a graduate of St. Johnsbury Academy, class of 1906, and the groom was a member of the same class. For several years he has been assistant ticket agent at St. Johnsbury in the Boston & Maine Railroad office, which position he now holds. Mrs. Newell is one of St. Johnsbury Center's most popular young ladies and has been connected with the Congregational church, being the primary teacher for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. Newell left immediately for a month's trip to California.

Guests not already mentioned, from away, were Mrs. Helen Chase, and Miss Clara Holmes of Peacham, C. F. Berry of Boston, Ralph E. Berry of Downey, California, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Berry, Mrs. Abbie M. McNeill and A. J. Hosmer of St. Johnsbury.

THE EXPRESS IS IN THIS TOWN AND IN TO STAY

FOR seventy-five years—three quarters of a century—the express has been the right-hand of the shippers of commercial America. The Express came to St. Johnsbury in 1851 and it came to stay. For 63 years it has been the right-hand of commercial St. Johnsbury.

It is here to stay. The other day when reports went out that the express companies might retire from business, a protest went up. From whom this protest—the express companies? No! The merchants of the country—shippers everywhere—petitioned Congress that no action be taken that might have the effect of forcing the express companies to retire. Commercial organizations all over the land have joined in this appeal to Washington.

For seventy-five years in the past and for a good many more years in the future Express Service will mean
