LOCAL GATHERINGS

The following letters are advertised for the week ending May 8: Ladies—Miss Florence Aseltine, Miss May Sunbury; Gentlemen—James Dow, E. P. Harinun, George L. Millard.
—Judge G. C. Frye was in Montpelier Tuesday attending a meeting of the municipal judges of Vermont called to formulate a set of rules for procedure in municipal courts.
—Sheriff Worthen and the police officers rounded up eight tramps yesterday morning and warned them to leave town or they would be placed under arrest.

—It is expected that Peter Nagel who has been in jail several days for beating and abusing his wife, will be given a hearing in court today.
—It is a long time since St. Johnsbury has had an entertainment entirely by children and all lovers of the little folks will want to see the Tom Thumb wedding at the Colonial Friday evening and Saturday afternoon.

—Last Friday the entire ceiling of the dining room in the Peck house on Railroad street fell. Fortunately no one was in the room at the time, or they might have been injured. Valuable china, silver and glassware were demolished. This is the third ceiling that has fallen in the past few years.
—The J. D. Club meets with Mrs. Olive Brown on Portland street this afternoon.

—Ye Old-Fashioned Singing School given by the Mystic Star Chapter, O. E. S., No. 29, at town hall, Concord, last Thursday night, was a great success.

—Harry W. Witters is in New York where he will defend J. E. Alexander on the charge of grand larceny which is being tried before the court in Plattsburg.

—J. E. Harris has sold his real estate business to S. J. Matson and S. D. Welch of Northfield, who will do business in real estate, loans, etc., under the firm name of Caledonia Real Estate Co. They will retain Mr. Harris' office with C. S. Hastings over the post office.

—The Photographic Times has awarded first prize in their winter landscape competition to W. H. Sargent, formerly of St. Johnsbury. Mr. Sargent has recently been awarded first prize for an illustrated article in a technical World competition, and also had several shorter articles accepted by Popular Mechanics, The World's Advance and St. Nicholas magazines.

CLEAN-UP WEEK OVER

Parade and Bonfire the Closing Events.

After a strenuous week of cleaning and painting, in which St. Johnsbury was made to fairly glisten, the workers relaxed last Saturday afternoon and spent the afternoon in play.

The main event was the big parade at 2 o'clock. There were over 350 in line, led by the St. Johnsbury band. About 250 school children carrying brooms and rakes, made a pretty sight and the prettily decorated floats drew forth many complimentary remarks. B. A. Palmer, on a bicycle of the 1872 vintage, furnished the fun. After traversing the principal streets the column broke ranks and the kids were entertained at the Globe Theater through the courtesy of Manager Graves.

In the evening a mammoth bonfire on the Railroad street dump attracted a large crowd and at the same time disposed of an enormous amount of refuse which had been collected during the week.

KEEP CLEANING UP

Suggestion About the Care of Dumping Grounds.

Let the good work go on! Clean up days should come oftener than once a year. Let all those who have helped on the clean-up campaign this last week establish the habit of disposing of all waste or used-up material at regular intervals each day or week, so that our homes, streets and parks may present an ideal appearance always.

Where shall the refuse be put? Surely not on the banks of the beautiful Passumpsic River to be viewed by all travelers passing through the town on the trains, and make unsanitary one of the nicest country walks and wild flower gardens. It may be used judiciously for filling in holes and making new land if properly controlled. The authorized dump heap should be covered with wholesome dry earth and sown with grass and flowers so that instead of being an offense to all observers it may be made to rejoice and blossom into new beauty each season.

"Go make thy garden fair as thou canst
Thou workest never alone,
Perchance he whose plot is next to thine
May see it and mend his own."

RECENT DEATHS.

McLaughlin.

William McLaughlin, one of best-known traveling men in this part of Vermont, passed away Saturday at his home at St. Johnsbury Center after ten days' illness. He was taken sick on April 27 at Hardwick with acute indigestion and heart trouble but was able to be brought home the next day. The doctors found that the only chance of saving life was to amputate his right limb and last Thursday this was done. He stood the operation well but his heart was too weak to endure the strain put upon it and he passed away on Saturday morning. He had been on the road for 42 years, at first as representative of the Singer Sewing Machine Co. with several men under him. His territory included nearly all of Vermont and New Hampshire and he remained with this company until June 20, 1889, when he entered the employ of A. L. Bailey with whom he remained until his death. His endeavor to use all men alike and do business in square fashion made him many friends. His appointments were always kept for he never made one unless he could keep it, an example for all to follow.

William McLaughlin was the son of Martha Preston and Anther McLaughlin and was born in Peacham, July 14, 1853. On June 20, 1873, he married Miss Alfreda Bradley who passed away on June 23, 1914. Five children were born to them, of whom three are living: Mrs. Henry J. Beck of St. Johnsbury, Miss Ella of St. Johnsbury Center. The latter cared for her mother during her last sickness and had kept house for her father since her mother's death. Mr. McLaughlin also leaves two sisters, Mrs. C. S. Burton of Milton Junction, Wis., and Mrs. Lizzie Thurber of Coventry, and two grand-daughters, Gertrude and Isabel. Mr. McLaughlin was a home lover and those of his family circle and the wider circle of residents of the Center will miss his genial presence. He was a member of the Odd Fellows, Daughters of Rebekah, the Masonic bodies, Wide Awake Grange and Shepherd of Pomona Grange. The funeral was held on Tuesday at 2 o'clock from the home, Rev. Paul Dwight Moody officiating. The U. C. T. quartet sang and the bearers were C. H. McCauley of Newport, Hiram Gardner of Littleton and Edward Peterson and George Littlefield of St. Johnsbury, all fellow salesmen for A. L. Bailey. The large number attending the funeral and the quantities of flowers sent showed the impression which the deceased had left behind him.

Those called from out of town to attend the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. William Thurber, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Thurber and son Guy of Coventry, George Thurber of Boston, Arthur Aiken, Alice Ainsworth and Orwell Ainsworth of Peacham.

McCutcheon.

John W. McCutcheon, for many years blacksmith on upper Railroad street and known to a large number of people, died Wednesday morning following a paralytic shock which he suffered the afternoon before. He had been in poor health recently but was not considered seriously ill. Mr. McCutcheon was born at Nelson, P. Q., March 8, 1847, but had lived in St. Johnsbury 48 years. On July 17, 1870, he was married to Miss Mary A. Cummings who survives him with three sons, Thomas J. of Northfield, Edward A. of Seattle and Harry T. of St. Johnsbury and an adopted daughter, Miss May M. McCutcheon, who has had a position at Lawrence, Mass., but will remain here with her mother.

Mr. McCutcheon was employed by E. & T. Fairbanks & Co., for 21 years, then went into business for himself. Two years ago he sold the business and retired from active work. One sister and two brothers survive him, Mrs. John S. Taylor of Nashua, N. H., Alexander of Toronto and Joseph of Theford, Mines, P. Q. He was a member of St. Andrew's church and of Green Mountain Lodge, N. E. O. P.

Those who came from away to attend the funeral were his son T. J. and two sons, John and Vall from Northfield, his daughter, May, from Lawrence, Mass., and his sister, Mrs. Taylor from Nashua, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Maxwell from Morgan, Edmund Maxwell and Mrs. Frank Barnes of Island Pond, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffman and daughter of Farnham, P. Q., and Mrs. Charles Gilbert of Newport.

Billedeau.

Miss Marie Billedeau, daughter of Louis Billedeau of 1 Washington avenue, died at St. Johnsbury Hospital Sunday morning after a two weeks' illness with spinal meningitis. She was stricken with this dreaded disease while at the piano April 25 and fell unconscious. She was taken to the hospital and four doctors worked tirelessly to save her but to no avail. She was born in St. Johnsbury and was 22 years old. Her mother died when she was five years of age and four brothers and sisters died at a young age. She is survived by her father and stepmother. She attended the Convent here and for two years was enrolled in the convent at Stanstead, P. Q. She was a member of Notre Dame church, where the funeral was held this morning, the solemn high mass of requiem being sung by Rev. E. C. Drouhin. The pall bearers were all cousins, Joseph Abbie Henault, J. B. Henault, Isaac Gingras, Joseph A. Boucher, Alcide Demers and Fedora Demers. The representatives of the society of the Children of Mary were Marguerite Racette, Albertine Lamontagne, Rachel Prevost, Beatrice Lecroix, Cordelia Thibodeau and Eva Corrivau. The interment was in Mount Calvary cemetery.

Wilcox.

The remains of Karl Eugene Wilcox, who died Wednesday in Brooklyn at the home of his brother at 2716 Ave. F., were brought here on Saturday and the funeral was held at the cemetery on Sunday, Rev. F. S. Tolman officiating. Interment was in the Wilcox family lot. Karl Wilcox was born in St. Johnsbury Feb. 7, 1878, the youngest son of M. H. and Cora Harriman Wilcox. After graduating from the Summer school he spent three years as messenger for the Western Union and was at White River Junction for a year before taking a course at Barbour's business college. After graduating he held positions in White River Junction, Boston and Springfield, Mass., and for the last 17 years had held a very fine position with the Wall Street Journal in New York City. He was married in New York in 1907 but his wife lived only a year. Last fall he was left with valvular heart trouble following an illness and he had been very ill for four weeks at the last. The immediate cause of his death, however, was pneumonia. The three brothers who survive him accompanied his remains here: Edwin H. of Brooklyn, Charles A. of Boston and Thaddeus F. of Newport.

Jordan.

Mrs. Frank Jordan of Lyndon, died at Brightlook Hospital Saturday, aged 21 years. She was a former resident of Lancaster, N. H., where the remains were taken by her husband for burial.

MONTPELIER 11, ST. J. A. 7.

Local Team Easily Beaten In a Game With Heavy Hitting.

Timely hitting by Montpelier Seminary, coupled with many costly errors by St. J., gave the former team the edge on Saturday's game at the campus, the score reading 11 to 7. For six innings the locals were fooled by Hay but in the seventh they got to him for three runs and three more resulted from a batting rally in the ninth. Their only run scored in the sixth, was of rather a scratchy variety. Parker of the visiting nine was the heavy stick artist, polling out three bingles, two of them being doubles. Hay, besides holding the locals safe until relieved by Baird in the ninth, also connected for a three bagger with two men on. Aside from the heavy hitting, the game was devoid of features and at times bordered on the listless. A good crowd was in attendance and from their spurt in the ninth, it seems as though the locals might serve up a little better brand of base ball with the acquisition of a little more pep. Spaulding High, on the campus this afternoon, will force all fellow salesmen to give their best and it should be a good mix. The score: Mont. S. 2 4 0 0 1 2 0 2—11 13 6 St. J. A. 0 0 0 0 1 3 0 3—7 9 7 Batteries, Hay and Haddock; Vitv and Ricker; umpire, Morrison.

Union School 12, Summerville 7.

The Union school team, rather proud of its clean slate after four starts this season, their victims to date are as follows: Summerville, 11 to 9; Blue Sox, 27 to 8; Academy Freshmen, 27 to 8. In the second game with Summerville played last Friday afternoon, the Summer street lads won out by a score of 12 to 7. The game was played at the points for Union school while Lynch and Ellis did the twirling for Summerville with Currier on the receiving end. This afternoon the team goes to Lyndonville to try conclusions with the Graded school there. Score of Summerville game: St. J. S. 4 0 0 0 1 3 0 12 Sun. 4 1 0 0 0 2 0 7

Trying to Revive Sunset League

At a meeting of members of Sunset League at East St. Johnsbury Wednesday evening, the prospects for the coming season were discussed at length. A scheme was suggested whereby a commission of three men be appointed to look after the finances of a town team, the committee to appoint a manager. The league and the league is asked to contribute $100 toward the support of the team. A petition is being circulated among the league members and is being generally signed by them. The league money is to be turned over to the new organization of condition that $400 more is raised. With $500 as a start a good board of the national pastime should be assured. Among those suggested as possible candidates for positions on the town team are Hoernle, Witt and Davison, now playing with Goddard Seminary and all of whom have been seen in action on the campus. Play ball!

COUNTY FARMERS' NOTES

Geo. J. Bacon Assisting in the Work of Spraying.

Agent Stimson is mixing chemicals, arranging for demonstration plots, together with other activities. George J. Bacon of St. Johnsbury, who has been superintendent of the Fairbanks farms, has been hired by the executive committee to assist Mr. Stimson during May and June. He is in charge of the spraying outfit. He is paid $25.00 a month by the association and $75 a month by the federal government. He is much needed because of the rush of work at this season. The executive committee held a meeting at E. H. Hallett's at St. Johnsbury Center on the evening of May 5.

The principal of the state school of agriculture at Randolph center, G. Leland Green, has sent Agent Stimson a list of members of the graduating class, with a view to their employment after graduation in June. Any farmer wishing to employ trained young man should consult Mr. Stimson, who can explain the particular adaptation of each.

Anyone wishing the services of the county agent should write him as early as possible, that he may arrange his schedule to visit as many farmers as may be each day. He will be at his office at St. Johnsbury on Saturdays. His telephone number is 570.

LUNENBURG

Rev. M. Will Russell to Become Pastor—Dr. Breitling Out With Army.

(F. F. Balch, Correspondent)
Rev. M. Will Russell of Belmont accepted the call of the Congregational church and society to become their pastor for the coming year, and preached two interesting sermons on Sunday, the morning subject being "In His Steps," and a song service and C. E. Meeting in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Russell will occupy the parsonage as soon as their household goods arrive.

Dr. J. C. Breitling went on Monday to Fort Myer, Va., where he joins a detachment of the U. S. A., composed of the 2d battalion Field Artillery and field hospital and ambulance corps No. 6, the doctor being first lieutenant of the medical reserve corps, United States army. He accompanies the troops on the march to Tobyhanna, Pa., the march taking about two weeks. He then returns home until the annual maneuvers in June, when he rejoins the company for the annual drill.

Adino N. Bell was a business visitor in Berlin, N. H., on Saturday last.

Harry McLaughlin is employed in the dining room of the Heights House.

Mr. and Mrs. Quackenbos of Cambridge, Mass., came to the Heights House on Thursday for the summer season.

Mrs. Ethel Crowley and little daughters have come from Littleton and are with relatives for the week-end after which Mr. Crowley will join them and they will go to the farm for the summer, their grandfather, Charles Downer, being with them.

Mrs. Lyman Wentworth is learning to operate at the central telephone office.

Mrs. Thomas Downer, who has been keeping house for Charles Downer for the past six months, has gone to East Concord to live.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hale of Lyndonville came over in their auto and visited Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Bowker and other relatives on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Colby and Mrs. Daisy Colby Mann of Woodville, N. H., were guests of their mother, Mrs. Laura Colby on Sunday, making the trip in their car.

Miss Pearl Canfield, who has been with the Red Cross nurses in Serbia, returned home last week and will stay with her mother, Mrs. Gerold Houston and other relatives for some time. She is very glad to be in America once more but does not regret the experience of the past six months. Her many friends, both here and in adjacent towns are pleased to welcome her.

Miss Edith Dresser of St. Johnsbury, graduate nurse, is at A. N. Bell's both Mrs. Bell and her mother, Mrs. Phillips, requiring care.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Monahan and Mrs. Maud Murtaugh were called to Twin Mountain, N. H., last week by the serious illness of an aged relative.

Miss Abernethy, who has been caring for Mrs. Ann Phelps and Mrs. Ethel Phelps for several weeks, has returned to her home in St. Johnsbury, leaving both her patients convalescent.

Miss Marion Wesson, who has been assisting her aunt, Mrs. Charles Spaulding, for two months, has returned home to Lancaster.

A telephone was placed in the residence of Eugene Hartshorn last week, the call being 4-23.

A SCHOOL EXHIBITION

Work in Manual Training, Home Economics and Drawing to Be Shown.

There is to be an exhibition of the work of the pupils of the St. Johnsbury schools in manual training, home economics and drawing, at the Summer street building on Thursday and Friday of this week.

The exhibition will be open both days from 1:30 to 5:30 in the afternoon and 7:30 to 9:30 in the evening.

Home economics will include both sewing and cooking. There will be an exhibition of sewing done in grades 5, 6 and 7 of the town schools and in grades 5 to 9 in the schools at East St. Johnsbury and St. Johnsbury Center. The girls in the eighth and ninth grades will prepare and serve tea in the domestic science kitchen from 2:30 to 5 Thursday and Friday afternoons.

Prizes have been offered for the two best loaves of bread made in the eighth and in the ninth grades. The bread will be on exhibition, both afternoons of the exhibition.

Parents and friends are cordially invited to visit the school and inspect the exhibit. No admission will be charged. Those who have not followed closely the work of these departments will be gratified at the quantity and quality of work accomplished.

Where Is the System?

What has become of "the system" of which we heard so much a few years ago? Does it still exist, or has it been expunged, or is it hibernating? Is it possible that we have escaped from its nefarious clutches? Has it been reduced from a high state of systematically organized predatoriness to a low state of chaotic disorganized impotency? Or has it been so improved and perfected and has friction been eliminated from its operations to such an extent that it now separates us from our resources without noticing it? Or has it separated us from so much that we do not consider it worth while to make a fuss about what remains? Or has it undergone a rebirth so that it now uses its manifold talents and powers in favor of the public as a whole instead of that particular part of the public known as the investing public? "Something must have happened to 'the system.'" Can anyone tell what?—Life.

GRANITE STRIKE SETTLED

Work Will Be Resumed at Once—Terms of Settlement.

After a suspension of more than two months in the Barre granite belt a settlement has been reached with all the unions and work will be resumed at once.

By the various agreements which become operative as soon as the men return to work 5,000 workers who have been idle since March 1 receive increases in wages ranging from 15 to 75 cents in addition to improved working conditions.

Fifty quarries and all granite manufacturing plants in Barre, Montpelier, Northfield, Waterbury, West Berlin, Williamstown and East Barre are affected.

The principal points in the settlement with the several unions are:

Between the manufacturers and the granite cutters a five-year agreement with an eight-hour day, five days in the week and five hours on Saturday until March 1, 1916; after that, four hours on Saturday. The wage scale is 42 cents an hour to May 15, 1915; 45 cents from May 15 to March 1, 1916, and 50 cents from March 1, 1916, to March 1, 1920. The bill also provides that dust removers are to be installed in all plants before November 1, 1915, and legal holidays are January 1, May 30, July 4, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The same hour schedule and wage scale are to be retained between the manufacturers and the tool sharpeners and by the employers and the polishers.

Manufacturers and the lumpers, boxers and derrickmen have agreed that the hour schedule of the cutters shall govern. Wages are to be increased from 29 cents to 34 cents an hour until March 1, 1916, and to 37 cents after that date.

Quarry employees are to work from 7:00 A. M. to noon and from 1:00 to 4:00 P. M. throughout the year. A wage increase of 16 cents a day is granted for the next two years, and an additional 10 cents a day after March 1, 1917.

Bird and Flower Records at the Museum.

The birds reported at the Museum the past week are as follows: Red tailed hawk, May 4; chimney swift, May 6; black-and-white warbler, Wilson's thrush and yellow warbler, May 7; warblign vireo, May 8; purple martin, eaves or cliff swallow, tree swallow, barn swallow, yellow-throated vireo, blackburnian warbler, house wren, black-throated green warbler and Baltimore oriole, May 9; winter wren, bay-breasted warbler, kingbird, bobolink and spotted sandpiper, May 10.

The flower calendar has had the following additions since the last publication: Sweet fern (from Barre), shad-bush, hop hornbeam and Jack-in-the-pulpit, May 3; black birch, white birch, yellow birch, white maple, Canada plum, periwinkle, northern blue violet, mouse-ear chickweed, May 4; Clintonia and columbine, May 5; Shepherd's purse, large-flowered bellwort, red currant, low or bog birch (Walden) May 7; red-berried elder and scouring rush, May 8; Gill-over-the-ground, early meadow parsnip, hobblebush, dwarf raspberry, marsh blue violet and wild cherry May 10.

Record of Ryegate Cows.

The report for the Blue Mountain Cow Testing Association last year with headquarters at Ryegate, is an encouraging one. The average number of cows in the association was 590 and the average test 4.32 per cent butter fat. For the entire association the average pounds milk per cow was 5,040 and the average butter fat 228 pounds, according to New England Homestead. The average price paid for butter fat was 34.7 cents a pound. The average grain cost in the association was $16.0, to which may be added $27 for the cost of roughage. This is for the average cow for the year. The average profit above feed cost per cow was $36 per annum and the average cost to produce 100 pounds of milk 85 cents.

The highest average producing herd had 5,842 pounds milk to its credit per cow, which made an average of 282 pounds butter fat per annum. The average total cost of feed in this herd was $51, giving an average profit above feed of $46. On the other hand, the lowest average producing herd had 4,654 pounds of milk to the credit with an average butter fat production for the year of 172 pounds. The feed cost was $58, giving an average profit above feed cost per animal for the year of $24. The highest producing cow gave 8,061 pounds of milk or 372 pounds butter fat. The cost of green roughage for this animal was $59, leaving a profit of $67 above feed cost to the owner. The association was fortunate in having no cow that did not return a profit above feed cost. The lowest producing animal gave only 2,337 pounds milk, or 92 pounds butter fat. However, the feed cost was but $25, so a profit above feed equaling $4.75 was indicated.

WHEELOCK

(Mrs. G. L. Gerry, Correspondent.)
R. Graves has purchased the Drew house and has moved there.

Miss Etta Gray went to St. Johnsbury last Friday to Longsack where she was operated on Saturday for appendicitis.
