CHARLES A. CALDERWOOD

St. Johnsbury Sustains a Severe Loss in Sudden Death of One of Vermont's Successful Business Men

WAS PROMINENT MASON

Held Several High Offices in That Order—Served at Different Times As Trustee of St. Johnsbury Village—Known to Be in Ill Health, Death Came as Shock.

St. Johnsbury has sustained a severe loss in the death of Charles A. Calderwood, one of her most prominent and influential citizens, whose sudden death occurred Sunday at noon at his home on Pearl street. Although in poor health for some time Mr. Calderwood's death comes as a shock to the community for very few realized he was in a serious condition.

Charles A. Calderwood was not only locally well known but through out the state and in Masonic circles, of which order he has been a distinguished official.

He was of Scotch-Irish lineage and was born in Greensboro, July 22, 1849, one of a family of seven children. His minority was spent on his father's farm in Greensboro and after finishing the public schools of that town he attended the Peoples' Academy at Morrisville. After his graduation from that institution he taught a number of terms of school in the locality.

He began his mercantile career as a drygoods clerk in his native village and later clerked two years in Wells River.

Mr. Calderwood came to St. Johnsbury in October of 1875 and bought Mr. Burnham's interest in the furniture business of Tisdale & Burnham, located in the Old Peabody block, where for nearly 30 years he was sole proprietor and under whose guidance and management the business thrived and grew, until in 1915 he built and occupied the fine block on the corner of Eastern avenue and Pearl street, at which time he celebrated the 40th anniversary of his entrance into business in St. Johnsbury.

Mr. Calderwood besides being a successful and enterprising merchant was a practical embalmer and funeral director of many years' experience and because of his sterling qualities of industry and energy and by keeping absolute faith with the public he built up an excellent business. He served at different times as trustee of St. Johnsbury village. He was one of the most eminent Masons of the state having passed all the chairs of the Pasumpsic lodge, Haswell Royal Arch chapter, and Palestine Commandery in St. Johnsbury. He was a 33rd degree Mason. He was also a member of the Caledonia lodge, I. O. O. F., and had been lately appointed by Governor Gates as a member of the board of trustees of Waterbury state asylum which appointment he held previously for two terms, resigning the term of Governor Fletcher.

C. A. Calderwood married Ida May Pinney of Greensboro November 18, 1873, who with the three sons, Charles Sherman, Clarence Ray and Olive Pinney Calderwood, are left to mourn.

Mr. Calderwood will be greatly missed by the community at large as well as by his inner circle of friends and acquaintances. He will be missed in the social activities of the place as well as the business of the town in which he had so large a share.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home on Pearl street, and will be in charge of Pasumpsic lodge, No. 27, A. F. and A. M., and a delegation sent from the Grand Lodge of Vermont.

Her 10th Birthday. Little Miss Thelma Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wright, gave a party to 10 little girls June 21. Delightful refreshments were served and each little girl found a chocolate doll at her place. Thelma received many nice presents and a good time was enjoyed by all. Thelma was ten years old.

"CLAIRVOYANT" GONE

And Several People Report Their Money Also Gone—One Widow Inherited Him With Savings, $125.

Raymond Lovell, who for a number of weeks and until very recently has been holding office hours as a clairvoyant from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., at his office in Sheldon's hotel, suddenly left town. Coincident with his departure several complaints were filed with Sheriff Worthen by various people, whose confidence the sheriff protects, to the effect that they had entrusted Lovell with sums ranging from $50 to $125 to be used merely as a deposit that would later be returned with the desired information. No statement was made as to how the deposit was to trace down the lost ones and reveal the secrets of the past, present and future, but the fact remains that there were several, and perhaps many more who won't admit it, who were credulous enough to put up the necessary amount.

The amounts figuring in the complaints that have been made to date totals upward of $300.

For a number of weeks Raymond Lovell advertised in the St. Johnsbury papers of his marvelous powers, claiming to answer "sealed messages in trance and before you can utter a word, tell names of friends, enemies or rivals. How to gain success in love, courtship, divorce, health, speculations and various other transactions." His success reported to date has been "in other transactions."

One of the instances that was reported was that of a widow who drew all her savings to the amount of $125.

PEACHAM. (Mrs. W. S. Sanborn, Correspondent.) The graduation exercises of the schools in town were held at the Town hall Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m. There was an exhibition of school work from each school. The following program was given: Vacation song, school; devotions, Rev. Mr. Green; song, Evening Bells, Corner school; sandalphon, Anna W. Lamb, Jean A. Klinefelter, Esther L. Farrington; Abou Ben Adhem, Olive R. Metcalf; The Robin song and the Clock Song by the Ewells Hollow school; The Death Bed of Benedict Arnold; Elsie V. McClellan; His Eye Was Stern and Wild, Mabel V. Watson; The Old Bachelor's Sale, Jeanette Craig; song, Little L. Farrington; Cornet school; Advice to a Young Man, Theodore S. Farrow; Bass, N. Gladys Livingston; song, Over the Summer Sea, East Peacham school; The Legend of Bregentz, Vera M. Rowe; presentation of diplomas, by Daniel Adams, chairman of school board remarks, by Superintendent Harvey Burbank. The members of the class were: Hazel Douse, Elsie V. McClellan, Mabel V. Watson, Esther L. Farrington, Anna M. Lamb, Jean A. Klinefelter, N. Gladys Livingston, Jeanette Craig, Vera M. Rowe, Marion Mackay, Olive R. Metcalf, Theodore Farrow, Burleigh Darling, A. Petrie, Vera M. Rowe and Anna M. Lamb stood the highest in the class. The stage was beautifully decorated with ferns and evergreens and daisies. The class motto, "Not Drift," in white letters on evergreen was placed over the stage. After the class was seated on the platform they made an especially pretty picture in their white dresses and each one wearing a lady's slipper for a flower with long stem and green leaves. The class color was green and white. In the Ewells Hollow school, Miss Eva G. Ward teacher, those having no tardy marks were Winnie, Robert and Dexter Welch, Carroll Brown, Eva M. Allen, Violet McClellan, Stella Parker. There were 184 varieties of flowers brought, E. McClellan bringing the most 53. There were 50 varieties of birds brought. Evan Allen brought the most, 14.

HAROLD CLARK INJURED. Harold Clark sustained a painful injury to his hand Wednesday morning when the revolver with which he was playing was accidentally discharged. He is the young son of Mr. and Mrs. William Clark of Coryville and it was while out playing this morning with a company of boy companions near the Fairbanks bridge that the accident happened.

One of the boys, it seemed, had a small revolver loaded with blank cartridges and preparatory to firing it at some mark a few small BB shot were inserted in the muzzle. While holding it in his hand it accidentally went off inflicting a bad injury to the fingers of his left hand.
