DEATH LIST IS GREAT WHEN U. S. SHIP SINKS

44 of Crew of 110 Die When German Submarine Delivers a Surprise Attack

BITTER COLD KILLS HOPE FOR RESCUE OF FURTHER SURVIVORS

Secretary Daniels States That Vessel Was Torpedoed and Went Down in Short Time—Destroyer Was Not Far From European Coast—Cold Kills Many

Washington, Dec. 9.—Further reports from Vice Admiral Simms today began to unfold the story of the torpedoing of the United States Destroyer, Jacob Jones, but does not lessen the number of lives lost with the ship. Only 44 of 110 of the officers and crew are known to have survived, including one unidentified man who was picked up and carried off by the submarine that struck the blow. Today's report added to the dead, Stanton F. Kalk, a young officer whose name did not appear on the first roster of the ships company. He died of exposure. The despatches gave no further details of the escape of the survivors but they contained the names of 17 of the rescued in addition to those reported before.

Submarine Was Not Seen. Secretary Daniels today made public the following: "Additional information from Admiral Simms reveals the fact that the Jacob Jones was torpedoed at 4.12 P. M. on December 6. She began to settle aft and finally sank at 4.29. The submarine was not seen until the ship sank.

The Destroyer was not so far from the European coast as was indicated by the first despatches.

Lieut. Ralph Hood was killed by the explosion and Ensign S. F. Kalk died later of exposure. Twenty-seven additional names of survivors have been received, bringing the total number up to 44, inclusive of the man kept prisoner by the submarine.

Little Hope of Further Survivors. Officials here entertained little hope that more survivors will be found alive. The bitter cold which caused the death of Ensign Kalk precludes the possibility of others surviving if they escaped.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Three officers and 73 men were believed last night to have gone down with the American destroyer Jacob Jones, torpedoed and sunk in the war zone by a German submarine at 8 o'clock last Thursday night.

Vice Admiral Sims up to a late hour had been able to supply only meager details in reply to urgent messages from Sec. Daniels, whose brother-in-law, Lieut. Commander David W. Bagley, commanded the lost vessel and was reported among the missing.

Three officers and 34 men were picked up by other vessels from life rafts to which they clung, but the names of only 17 of these had been transmitted to Washington.

Thirty-seven Picked Up. The Jacob Jones, one of the largest and newest American submarine chasers of her type operating in the Atlantic, was the first American warship to fall victim to a German sub-

Mr. Daniels showed plainly the strain of his personal anxiety. Commander Bagley's mother has lived for several years at the secretary's home. With her daughter, Mrs. Daniels, she was stunned by the news of the disaster.

Doubt She Was Surprised. Lacking details of the action in which the Jones was lost officers assumed that the destroyer either stumbled upon a submarine and was struck by a lucky shot, or was surprised while on patrol duty.

Must Have Sunk at Once. Apparently the Jones went down almost at once. This was taken to mean that the torpedo had scored a fair hit amidships, possibly tearing the swift craft in two when it exploded. If this is true, there can be no question that many of the crew died in the blast of the explosion or were carried down with the shattered hull without a chance to escape.

Officers here felt that such a fate was preferable to hours of exposure and final death from cold on life rafts.

Hold Memorial Service For Deceased Co. D. Boy

A memorial service to Martin Herron, the first of the members of Company D of St. Johnsbury to die "somewhere in France" was held at the Universalist church Sunday evening. Company G, Volunteer Militia, Caledonia Lodge, No. 6, I. O. O. F., the immediate relatives and friends and many townspeople were present, nearly filling the church. The service was in charge of the pastor, Rev. Clarence L. Eaton. Flitting tributes were paid to Private Herron by Capt. Henry W. Ellis, who spoke as a citizen; by Lieut. Fred J. Babcock, who spoke as a personal friend; by Lieut. Stuart Cheney, who spoke as an officer of Company D, and by Rev. Mr. Eaton.

The speaker said: Martin Herron had enlisted from a sense of duty, had conducted himself as a man and gentleman in camp, had borne with cheerfulness the hardships of the journey to France, had been devoted to a deeper loyalty by the deactivation in stricken France, and had gone home, having done his bit. Rev. Mr. Eaton referred to Chaplain Paul D. Moody, who had visited private Herron in the hospital in France, and to Capt. H. A. Wilcox, who had known him as a youth and friend as well as a soldier. The service was closed by the singing of Kipling's "Recessional" by the chorus choir and with the singing of "America" by the audience.

Martin Herron.

Martin Herron was born in Fall River, Mass., Dec. 26, 1892. Part of his early life was spent in Lowell, Mass. His parents having died, he came to live with Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wright of this place. Later he spent much of his time in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Mitchell, also of St. Johnsbury, where his brother had his home. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. May B. Davis of Littleton, and Mrs. Margaret E. Colby of Auburn, Me., and a brother, John Herron of Company E, 49th Infantry, all of whom, together with his fiancée, Miss Clara C. Cassidy, were present at the service.

LEGAL ADVISORY DRAFT BOARD MEETS

The Legal Advisory Boards and the associate members in Caledonia county met at the County court rooms Saturday afternoon for a conference on the work they will be asked to do in connection with the coming draft. Alexander Dunnett, chairman of the county advisory board, presided and Harry W. Witters was clerk. Over 20 members of the associate boards, as well as some from St. Johnsbury were present. All took a great interest in the prospective work and showed their readiness to be of whatever use possible to their country at this time.

It was voted that whenever the call for answers to the questionnaire appeared the associate members living outside of St. Johnsbury would be at their homes evenings and at other times by appointment.

The questionnaire was taken up in detail and very carefully gone over. The suggestion was made that all receiving the questionnaire should consult one of the members of this board before filling it out and as previously announced there will be no expense connected with this consultation.

O. H. Cameron Moved to Island Pond.

The following complimentary notice about a former well-known St. Johnsbury lawyer appeared in the last issue of the Island Pond Herald: "Harry B. Amey has taken into partnership Oliver H. Cameron of St. Johnsbury and up to December 1st member of the law firm of Searies, Graves & Cameron.

"Mr. Amey's law practice has become so extended as to reach far outside Essex county and much of the time he has to be away from his office. With Mr. Cameron's participation the large practice Mr. Amey has built up here will be looked after more readily and thus enable the firm to give all clients prompt service. Mr. Cameron is well known here, Norton being his home town. He is a young man, active, aggressive and progressive and the opportunity given him as partner of Mr. Amey will enable him to make steady advancement in his profession."

LOCAL DRAFT BOARD BUSY

Questionnaire Being Mailed to Caledonia County Draft Men

The government questionnaire will be sent out from the office of the local exemption board after Dec. 15 at the rate of about 100 a day, and as there are nearly 2,000 registrants in the county there will be a great deal of work to be done by those receiving the official documents. A meeting of the board and their assistants will be held at the St. Johnsbury at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon to talk the work over and make it as plain as possible. The assistants from out of town will be furnished their dinner at the St. Johnsbury House by the people of this town.

Meat Market Broken Into and Goods Taken

The store of Frank N. Brown and the meat market owned by George Gibson were entered some time Wednesday night and $5.65 taken from Mr. Brown's cash register, and 17 cents and six five-pound pairs of lard from the meat market. There is no trace of the burglars and the officers spent all day Thursday on the case.

When Frank Brown entered the store Thursday morning he found the door opening into the back room open and on further investigation this door, which is almost an inch thick, had been whittled so that the bolt had been slipped and entrance into the main store effected. Going out into the back room he discovered that a light of glass had been cut out of the window, and after that it was easy to enter the store. A thorough examination failed to indicate that anything else had been stolen in the store nor had the safe in the office been touched.

Going down into the basement the burglars wrenched the door open between the basement of Mr. Brown's store and the meat market. Here in store and the meat market they locked trying to open the safe they themselves with the 17 cents they found in the cash drawer. They also took six five-pound pairs of lard, but left the big cash register.

The only trace of the thieves was a boy's glove which was found outside the window where entrance to the store was made, but the officers do not believe that this was the work of boys.

BARNET

(C. E. Hazelton, Correspondent.) There will be a business meeting of the Barnett and East Barnett churches next Saturday, Dec. 8, at 2 p. m. The meeting is to be held in the Congregational church at Barnett. The Red Cross workroom at the school house hall will be open all day Wednesday hereafter for work until further notice is given.—James Walter Brock of Montpelier was the guest of his brother, W. S. A Memory. Harold William Brock, 12 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Brock of Springfield, Mass., passed on to the life of Heaven at the family home in Springfield, Nov. 21, 1917, after two years of delicate health. Harold was a boy of great promise, possessing a very lovable quality as well as a rare spirit for a child of his age. He bore the trial of his weakness with undaunted courage, though he keenly felt his limitations which prevented his doing as other boys. When he grew sick enough to die he would answer those who asked how he was feeling "all right" with that unutterable light shining in his face and with words which spoke forth what his eyes beheld he went home to "God" his last word. Harold's Barnett friends will miss his visits here where he had spent his 12 summers at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Brock. He was a grand favorite with all his friends and much sympathy is felt for his father and mother in their bereavement. His remains were brought to Barnett and a service was held at the home of his grandparents. He was laid to rest in the Brock family lot in the village cemetery.

"That fair sweet boy with the sunny face And a heart so tender and true, I see him now, and that loving look Which leamed from his eyes so blue, I hear his voice in winsome and low, Fond memory holds it dear. Heaven gave him to us just long enough To leave his impress here. And the influence sweet of his pure going life, Will follow us to the end. Eternal life is his today, And we have an angel friend."
