PLEASED AUDIENCE

A large audience were well entertained last Friday evening in Opera Hall, when the war drama, "The Confederate Spy," was presented under the auspices of the Baseball Association. The parts were well taken and much credit is due all those who gave so much of their time and interest to make the play a success, and especially to C. R. Withrow, who several times had to find new members to fill the cast; he proved himself an indefatigable worker.

The play was full of life, pathos and humor as well as melodramatic incidents and lent itself well to amateur production despite a little disconnected at times. The camp scene in the 2nd act was especially pretty. The uniforms of the officers and those of the soldiers, so kindly loaned by the S. of V., gave the performance a realistic martial color. Miss Mildred Foss officiated at the piano and rendered numerous excellent selections between the acts which were much appreciated. Lionel Banner and Ed. McCarthy gave vocal solos between acts which were well received.

It would never do to attempt a critical comparative analysis of the work of the several players, when all carried their roles so cleverly, although some are deserving of especial praise for their superior naturalness and happy interpretation of their parts. Mrs. Castonguay probably scored the biggest hit in her role of Norah, performing her part with professional skill and evoking much mirth. Frank Russell as an Irish cop, also made a very favorable impression with the audience.

Mrs. Albert Lougee played her difficult role with much credit throughout, and carried out the fainting scene with creditable effect. Miss Dorothy LaRoche as was expected, played the part of a northern mother in commendable style and true to type.

C. R. Withrow as a draftee Dutchman, especially characterized his acting and the natural humor of the part was brought out in a most captivating way. Lionel Banner, too, was inimitable in his role of a southern darkey, his negro mannerisms and dialect being quite perfect and his make-up appropriate.

Adelard Payeur proved himself capable in the leading role as did Ed. McCarthy as a rebel.

Everett Williams as the General, and Claude Foss as the Colonel, were especially clever in their parts, adding much to the naturalness of the play.

Others assisting in the play were: Maynard Stevens, Walter St. Pierre, Norman Sampson, James Sampson, Gerald Petrie, Arthur Seymour, Richard Sadleir, Misses Mary Turgeon, Azilda Marquis, Ethelwynn Dickson and Irene Lougee.

Crushed his Feet

Thomas Foley, a switceman in the local yards, sustained a slight injury to his feet on the night of June 10, by being caught between the crosshead and yoke of the switch-engine.

We are glad to learn that the injury is not of a serious nature and that Tom will be able to be out in a few days.

Mrs. Lance and Everett Moore were visitors of Mrs. H. H. Hobson yesterday.

FALL PROVES FATAL

James E. Chadwick, who has been a resident of Island Pond for the past 9 years, passed away at the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, Sherbrooke, Tuesday night at 7.15.

Mr. Chadwick had been in the employ of the Grand Trunk for a number of years and during that time has had several trust-worthy positions, rising to the position of engineer, but due to his illness, it was necessary for him to relinquish that post, and for the past two years he has held a position in the store-room of the motive power department.

On June the 9th., while at his work he suddenly became ill, and losing consciousness, he pitched forward and fell upon the concrete walk, near the motive power department office, and injured his skull. He was at once rushed to the Sherbrooke Hospital, where all that medical skill could do was done, but owing to the seriousness of the injury, an operation was of no avail, and "Jimmie" passed to the great beyond without ever regaining consciousness.

The remains were taken to St. Jiles, Que. his home, where funeral services were held today. He leaves a father, Thos. Chadwick, of St. Jiles, two sisters, Mary, of Boston and Anna of St. Jiles and one brother of St. Jiles.

"Jimmie" was a favorite among his associates, and endowed with a sunny disposition, he made friends wherever he went. He was much respected by his employers and much regret is expressed at the loss sustained by his parents. He was a member of the B. of L. E. & F., members of which attended the funeral.

Sarah Foley

Miss Sarah Foley died at her home on Mountain St., at 4 p.m., Wednesday afternoon from cerebral hemorrhage, superinduced by the news of an injury to her brother, Thomas. The funeral services were held from St. Paul's Catholic Church today, Rev. Father Trotter officiating.

She leaves to mourn her loss, three brothers and one sister: Thomas, of Island Pond, John, of Portland, Stephen, of Moline, N. Y., and Mrs. A. Latarte of Portland, Me.

Miss Foley will be greatly missed by her many friends for her generous heart and kind disposition.

Sheriff Bemis, accompanied by Constable Wilcox, went to Wenlock Saturday, and arrested a party named Cooke on the charge of larceny. He was brought before Judge Parsons and fined $200 and costs, in default of which, he was committed to Rutland for 282 days.

No Substitute Could Do This

No inferior substitute, but only the genuine Foleys Kidney Pills could have rid J. F. Wallich, Bartlett, Nebr., of his kidney trouble. He says: "I was bothered with backache and the pain would run up to the back of my head, and I had spells of dizziness. I took Foleys Kidney Pills and they did the work and I am now entirely rid of kidney trouble. My father-in-law, now past 93 years, has taken them and they have added years to his life." GRADUATES FROM TECH

At the graduating exercises of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, Mass., held last Tuesday, Henry Edward Randall, Jr., received the degree, B. S., Bachelor of Science.

He stood high in his studies and as this institution is one of the best of its kind in the United States, we feel honored that one of our boys should be numbered with its graduates.

The title of his graduation thesis was—"Skin Effect in Solid and Stranded Conductors," in which his fellow investigator was F. H. Achar of Boston.

Another Vermont boy receiving the same degree from Technology is Henry D. MacDonald of Ludlow.

Will Visit Europe

Mrs. D. Stern left for New York Tuesday, going by motor to Lyndonville and taking the train there. She was accompanied as far as Northampton, Mass., by Mrs. Hardy and Mrs. Dorrr, who have been visiting relatives here. Mrs. Stern will embark from New York to-morrow on the North German Llyod liner, George Washington, for Germany, where she will visit her parents and relatives in Berghaun. While in Europe she will visit Cologne, Berlin, Frankfort, Paris, Monte Carlo, Paris and Switzerland.

No Celebration the 4th.

There will be no Fourth of July celebration, much to the disappointment of scores of children. The committee who were planning the celebration say that enough money could not be collected to cover the expense of the celebration, but with two ball games and a show, the town will not be wholly without amusement.

Graduation Exercises

The graduation exercises of the Senior class of the High School will be held in town hall, next Friday evening, June 20.

Those of the class who graduate are: Esther M. Williams, Ruth E. Davis, Gertrude M. Norton, Hazel M. Farr, Eusefa P. Chappell, Malvina F. Woods, Ollie B. Applebee and Richard O. Sadleir.

BASE BALL

The third consecutive win of the season for the local baseball team was registered last Saturday when Barnston of the E. T. League fell before the prowess of the local team at Barnston.

The large score ran up by the locals was the result of good solid clouting, Danforth getting five singles and Dale Morse connecting for two doubles; the rest of the team hit at top speed also. White stole home and Riley made a clever stop at second, getting his man.

Russell pitched the first five innings and White the last four and both did well.

To-morrow the locals will cross bats with Newport and an excellent contest should result.

Fine Mess of Trout

Probably as nice a basket of brook trout as was ever brought to this village was that caught on Tuesday afternoon by Perley Brown. All the fish went more than 10 inches and several of them weighed better than a pound; the largest weighing a pound and a half. There is no use talking, as a fisherman, you will have to give the palm to Perley.
