West Charleston trimmed the local team last Saturday on the athletic grounds by the score of 10 to 8.
This came as a surprise to local fans, but poor support and inability to hit the out-of-town pitcher are the main reasons for the loss.

The many friends of Edward H.
Randall will be glad to learn that he has been promoted to First, Asst.
Superintendent of the Shaganan Electric Co., of Montreal; this is the third promotion for this promising young man since January 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burbank, the well known local musicians and vaudeville artists, who have been spending the summer with Mrs.
Burbank's mother, Mrs. Adam Danforth, left Sunday for Quebec, where

A tremendous bass was caught by "Highball" Sloan in Spec pond last week. As reported by John—and no one ever doubts his word—the fish measured 27 inches between the eyes. It was also reported to be of such heft as to make it necessary to have assistance to convey the avoird-upois to Mr. Sloan's home.

When it was known that U. S.
District Judge Harland B. Howe and wife were in town last Saturday, some of their friends were quickly assembled for an informal banquet to them at the Stewart House. There were eighteen ladies and gentlemen at the table where they had a good repast and enjoyed reviewing many incidents in which Judge Howe has taken prominent part with the people of this vicinity.

Owing much to the enthusiasm with which the public greeted "The Rosary" at the Idlehour last Tuesday evening, Manager Kane has booked another big feature, Geo.
Barr McCutcheon's thrilling drama, "Graustark," with Francis Bushman and Beverly Bayne in the leading roles. "Graustark" is sometimes called "love behind a throne." Don't miss the throne room scene with Bushman at his best. October 5th.

L. F. JONES, DRY GOODS

The selection of seats for the entertainment course to be given under the management of the Ladies' Literary club may be made at Thurston's drug store at nine a. m., Monday, September 27th. If you have bought tickets, bring them with you to be marked, if not, you can obtain tickets at that time. The course consists of five entertainments and will be opened October 11th by Grace Sage, reader, in the four act comedy,
"Daddy Longlegs."

A good time for all is insured by Harold W. Gilman, proprietor of the Stewart House, who will open the doors of the huge dining room to the public on the evening of Friday, Oct. 1st, where the Homers Orchestra will play for the first big social event of the season, a dance a la Mardi-Gras with confetti, streamers and souvenirs. There will be dancing from 8:30 until 1:00. With the small admission fee of 75c it is hoped that a large number will be present.

Messrs. E. Meldrum, Supt. Apprentices G. T. R. System of Stratford, Ont., and Geo. J. Huelin, Apprentice Instructor Eastern District of Portland, Me., were in town Tuesday arranging apprentices for general education, drawing, mathematics and shop work; owing to the increased number of apprentices on the system the hour for holding classes has been changed to the forenoon instead of evening as heretofore and the apprentices are on the company's time when attending these classes. The outlook for a good class in Island Pond is encouraging and classes will start, in the Y. M.
C. A. building, the second Friday in October, at nine a. m.

PRINCIPLE

Every opportunity needs to be looked at through the glass of principle. It may mean, apart from conscience, a chance of money, social position, power, but if it does not pass muster morally it also means loss. Conscience is a man's best protection.

Island Pond is to have a Gospel campaign and plans are nearly perfected to begin Wednesday evening, September 29th. The meetings will be under the auspices of the Methodist and Congregational churches, who are uniting heartily in this effort.

The evangelist, Lewis E. Smith, is a New England man, a native of Portland, Maine, and converted eighteen years ago when paymaster of one of the large mills in Lewiston. He possesses a splendid baritone voice which is finely developed by a thorough musical education. The calls for his services became so numerous that he gave up his position and determined to devote his life to Christian work in the evangelistic field. He has gone steadily onward, and for the past twelve years has labored under the direction of the Evangelistic Association of New England. With Evangelist S. M. Say-ford, he has participated in most of the simultaneous campaigns in the larger cities, such as Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and Brooklyn. He was associated with the noted English evangelist, Gypsy Smith, in his Boston campaign. Mr. Smith differs from the ordinary evangelist in that he is both a singer and a preacher.
He likes to sing and he can make people sing. For an accompaniment he uses a large autoharp, an instrument of beautiful tone and sweetness and of which he is a master.
There is nothing of the sensational about his preaching but his style and matter is decidedly original and his illustrations are intensely interesting and there is no difficulty in seeing the point he wishes to make. There is not a dull moment from the first song to the benediction. One pastor writes: "Mr. Smith is not a sentimental or noisy, excitable sort of a man. He is above all a man, making Christianity a live, tangible thing, and wherever he has been has pleased those outside the church as well as those in the church with his quiet but forceful words. The young people will especially like Mr.
Smith." Mr. Smith has devoted the large part of the last four seasons to work in northern and central Vermont and his labors have met with the utmost approval from every church he has assisted.

Getting the Right Number.

She had tried in vain to get her telephone number. "Hello, Central," she inquired sweetly, "can you suggest the wrong number to ask for in order to get 6330 Franklin?"—Ladies' Home Journal.

An Exception.

"Nobody notices the little things in life."
"I differ from you. Do you know anything as small as a cinder which can be so much in the public eye?"— Baltimore American.

Paint and Not

Paint was so high the last few years the market was flooded with trash.

What is trash?
It looks like paint and pretends to be paint, but isn't worth painting.
It costs a painter's day's-work to put on a gallon of paint, good or bad; and a painter's day's-work is $3 or $4.

Add that to the price of a gallon.
That is the cost of a gallon. Devoe is $5 or $6 a gallon; and trash a half-dollar less.

But Devoe is all paint and more too; you add oil to it; a gallon is 5 or 6 quarts of perfect paint for the painter's pot. But trash is three-quarters two-thirds or half paint; you pay a half-dollar less for nobody-knows-what-it-is.

10 gallons Devoe is enough for the average job; it takes 15 to 20 gallons of trash. And the wear same way.
Unfortunately, they look alike when first put-on.
