How-Cabana,

The following was taken from the Buffalo Courier:
"The marriage of Miss Emily Allen Cabana and Walter Alan How took place last evening at 6:30 o'clock in the First Unitarian church, the Rev. Richard W. Boynton officiating. The bride wore a costume of pearl gray taffeta and a corsage bouquet of Bon Silene roses. Following the ceremony there was a reception and dinner at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Cabana, No. 468 Potomac avenue. Covers were laid for ten at the bride's table which was centered with a basket of roses and lilies of the valley. The other guests were seated at small tables decorated with roses in bud vases. After July 1 Mr. and Mrs. How will be at home at No. 468 Potomac avenue."

"Clean-Up" Compositions, by Pupils of the Convent.

THE "CLEANING UP."
Since about two weeks everyone is cleaning up their yards, front and back. The town is making parks at nearly every street corner, later in the season to be filled with flowers and plants. What admirable suggestion! We already have a town site as beautiful by nature as any in the state. We shall not be ashamed of our little town and we will try to make it a joy for all our summer visitors.
The "Clean Up" Committee has been asking the people not to throw papers and other things on the streets. We are only too happy to comply with such a reasonable demand, and are ready to help all we can in sweeping old dirt away even if it requires for that the assistance of the Brighton Broom Brigade.
CAPTAIN AUGUSTINE ROONEY, 6th Grade.

We are making a composition on "Cleaning-Up," what the town is doing just now. Island Pond is improving and the health officer, Dr. Sargent, is interested in the improvement of health as well as to the good appearance of our little town. Some time ago the town had all the stones, tin cans, old papers and everything unsightly removed as these hinder the good appearance of the place already so pretty with its beautiful nature. I hope all the children buying oranges and bananas will not throw the peels on the streets or on the sidewalks, and it is to be hoped this good work will last. Then we shall not deplore the repeated cases of infectious disease we often meet. If we pay more attention to our streets and properties, health will suffer less from it. Disease germs will multiply in dirty places, you know.
Accidents may also occur through neglect on the part of careless children eating fruit on the streets and through refuse which is rather slippery. RAYMOND TRACY, 6th grade.

CHURCH NEWS

The subject of our composition this week is about the cleaning up of the streets that the people of Island Pond have undertaken to do lately. I am sure the pupils of the convent will be very glad to do all in their power to help, in some measure, in this interesting work.
We have been notified not to throw on the streets papers, sticks or anything unsightly or that which may appear disorderly. To suggest us to do things we would not like to do, would really be disagreeable, but to oblige us to keep our yards clean and not to throw cans or such things as would gather flies and infectious germs, is only a pleasure and a duty for every patriotic child of Island Pond.
How often we have been told in school, that cleanliness and order will supply the place of elegance and make a place appear more pleasant and attractive than one would suppose.
