Whooping-cough Epidemic

To the Editor of the Essex County Herald:

As a result of the recent investigation of the Whooping Cough situation in Island Pond it was found that quite a large number of cases were both unquarantined and unreported.

Through negligence on part of some parents a great many children have been needlessly exposed to one of the most dangerous of the contagious diseases. Many parents do not look upon Whooping-Cough as a serious disease and seem to feel that their children should have it while they are young. As a matter of fact there are more deaths every year resulting from Whooping-Cough than from Scarlet Fever and Diphtheria combined. This disease is rarely contracted by an adult hence it may be seen that if it is avoided during childhood, in all probability it will never be contracted.

The investigation also show that this failure to comply with the law was due in most cases to ignorance on the part of the parents of the seriousness of the disease and the Laws governing quarantine of all contagious diseases. Altho this ignorance does not excuse the offenders in the eyes of the Law and each offender has laid himself liable to prosecution, it is thought that if this matter is overlooked at this time and the Law thoroughly brought before the public, another situation like this may be entirely avoided.

Any thinking Public cannot fail to realize that from an economic standpoint alone, contagious disease should be checked inasmuch as sickness is the most expensive thing with which we have to deal, but the immediate danger to the child's life and the far reaching after-effects which come from many of the contagious diseases often leaving the child incapacitated in one way or another, is of much greater importance than economic conditions. Strict quarantine is the only method of checking contagious disease and public cooperation is necessary.

A brief summary of the Regulations governing quarantine and release are:

1. A physician called to attend a case or a suspected case of communicable disease is required by law to give quarantine notice to Head of Family to placard the house and to report the case to the Health Officer at once.
2. When no physician is in attendance in a case or suspected case of communicable disease, the Head of the Family is required by law to institute quarantine, to put up a placard and to report the case to the Health Officer at once.
3. No family will be released from quarantine except by the Health Officer.
4. No family will be released except on receipt of this card, properly filled out and certified to by the Head of the family.
5. In families where more than one person has been sick with a communicable disease, individual releases may be obtained by applying to the Health Officer.
6. No child will be allowed to return to school unless he presents to the teacher a certificate of release signed by the Health Officer.

Failure of the physician or the Head of the Family to report cases or suspected cases of communicable disease or failure of the Head of the Family to comply with quarantine regulations renders the offender liable to prosecution.

Orison John Webster

Orison John Webster was born March 27th, 1846, in Stanstead, Que., the son of John and Nancy Smith Webster, and one of a family of eight children, coming to Island Pond when a child. He was married to Lucinda Picken of L'Auenir, Que., and resided in Morgan, after that in Berlin, N. H., building there a substantial home. Later he returned to Island Pond where he lived with his family until the sad accident which closed his earthly life, September 11th, when he fell from a neighbors barn which he was engaged in repairing, being a carpenter by trade and the owner of a fine residence in this town.

A sober, industrious man, respected by all, he will be greatly missed by friends and neighbors as well as by his own immediate family. He leaves to mourn his loss a widow, one daughter, Bertha and two sons Ernest and Harold.

The funeral was from the Methodist church, Rev. A. A. Mandigo, officiating, Monday afternoon, September 13th. Knights of Pythias services at the grave. A profusion of floral tributes testified to the deep sympathy, and respect of friends, for the departed one and his family.

Currier—Moodie

Again the sound of wedding bells rang out on the still air of a beautiful autumn morning, Tuesday, September 21, 1920.

Mary Ruth Currier and David D. Moodie were united in marriage by the Rev. Father Therrien, at St. James the Greater church, Miss Ruth Finnegan acting as bridesmaid and Mr. Harold Farrel as best man. The bride wore a traveling suit of blue tricotine with hat to match of blue beaver. The bridesmaid was dressed in dark blue serge.

A wedding breakfast was served on their return from the church at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Currier on Mountain street, and the happy couple soon after took their departure amid showers of rice and confetti, with their auto well covered with cards, setting forth the circumstances to enlighten the minds of the curious.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Currier, a graduate of St. Mary's Academy '19, and a very popular young lady.

The bridegroom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Moodie of Craftsbury, Vt., and is well and favorably known by the younger set in this town and vicinity.

After their return from their wedding tour thru different points in Canada, they will be at home for a time at Mr. and Mrs. Charles Curriers'.

Out of town people to attend the wedding were: Mrs. Timothy Hurley of Gorham, N. H., grandmother of the bride, Mrs. M. J. Carboneau of Grand Rapids, Mich. and Bernard C. Gray of Orleans, Vt.

Chaisson—Ruessell

A marriage of interest to many in Island Pond, we are recording this week:

Miss Barbara Estella Chaisson of Melrose, Mass. and Mr. Edgar Knapp Russell of Island Pond, were united in marriage at the St. Mary's Catholic church in Melrose, Mass., at nine thirty o'clock A. M., September seventh, nineteen hundred and twenty, the double ring service being used.

The bridesmaid was Miss Sadaa Chaisson, sister of the bride, and Joseph Concannon best man. The bride was attired in a blue tricotine traveling suit with hat to match. After the ceremony a buffet lunch was served at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. John V. Chaisson. The wedding cake, beautifully decorated with clasped hands of wax, was distributed among the thirty-five guests by the bride and her attendants. The wedding gifts were numerous, expensive and beautiful.

They left the city on the noon express amid showers of rice and confetti, spending their honeymoon in Portland, Me., on their way to Island Pond, where their future home was awaiting them.

Through the public press I desire to acknowledge, with gratitude the endorsement given me by the voters of Essex County at the recent primary.

This expression of confidence in me and the courteous manner in which my opponent has accepted the result and the good wishes publicly expressed by him are among the strongest incentives to the utmost effort on my part to meet the requirements of all the people of the county.
