

Home Journal For 1864!

New Series—New Features—New Type.

On the second of January, this Journal of Conversation Topics will commence another volume. A continued success, which has been exceedingly flattering to us during the trying times of war, enable us now to make a still further display of enterprise and to promise new attractions.

The paper for the coming year will appear in an entire "new dress," several fonts of type having been ordered for the purpose. It will continue to be printed on the best of white paper, its mechanical execution is still to be unimpaired, and its presentation of clearness and legibility (no valuable to the sight and so needed for a family paper) is to be yet more marked.

With the January number will be commenced the publication of an intensely interesting story translated from the French for our columns, entitled—

DE VALDREDE. This work is carried to the full proportion of a modern novel, and will occupy about four months in the publication. It will be succeeded by several other Original and Thrilling Stories by our own narrative writers; while some of the ablest and contemporary authors are chosen for us in translating from the French and German.

N. P. WILLIS will continue to devote his exclusive industry to the Journal—editorial and literary—as far as the illness of his partner will permit these SKETCHES OF RURAL LIFE which have proved so acceptable. Residing within a week of the city, he will continue to prepare his own more elaborate descriptions of memorabilia events; to give extracts from his interesting personal correspondence; and to contribute those portraits of the people of mark, and of the immediate occurrences of the time, which have become, in a manner, characteristic of his pen.

The Editors will still be assisted by able contributors, foremost among whom will be the scholarly and dainty essayist known to our readers by the signature of "F. C.," We take great pleasure in assuring to the HOME JOURNAL readers the continued assistance of a writer always so felicitous!

A particular feature of the coming volume will be the FOREIGN NEWS AND CORRESPONDENCE, by which our readers will be kept informed more especially of the gayer "goings on" of society and fashion in the capitals of Europe. Those popular departments of our paper known as "First Look at New Books," "Reviews," and the criticisms of Literature and Art, are still to be retained. In the first of these departments are included the news and sparkling gossip of English and French newspaper literature. In the second, we make extracts from the new books, daily as they appear; while under the third head, Literature and Art, are discussed the interesting topics of the literary and art world. In short, the HOME JOURNAL for 1864 will contain the Foreign Correspondence of a large number of contributors—the selections from the most interesting periodicals of the day—the ray novels—the stories of real life—the sparkling wit and amusing anecdotes of the period—the "first look at new books"—the stirring scenes of the world we live in—the prompt record of news for ladies—the fashions—the outlines of news—the wit, humor, and pathos of the times—the essays on life, literature, society, and morals, and the usual variety of careful choicings from the wilderness of foreign periodicals and magazine literature, criticism, poetry, &c.

TERMS:—For one copy, $2.50; for three copies $6.00, or one copy for three years, $6.00; for a club of six copies, $12, and at that rate, for a larger club—ALWAYS IN ADVANCE.

Those who wish to begin with the no volume, will please send their subscriptions at once. Address, MORRIS & WILLIS, and Proprietors, 107 Fulton St., New York.

BENJAMIN S. BUNKER'S ESTATE. STATE OF VERMONT, in Probate Court, LAMOILLE DISTRICT, ss. () holden at the Probate Office in Johnson, within and for the District of Lamoille, on the 23rd day of Dec., A. D. 1863, William R. Clement, administrator on the estate of Benjamin S. Bunker, late of Hyde Park in said district, deceased, represents to this court that the personal estate of the said deceased is insufficient to pay the debts and charges of the said estate, and asks said court to grant him license to sell all of the real estate of the said Benjamin S. Bunker, deceased, in Hyde Park aforesaid, to enable him to pay said debts and charges.

It is therefore ordered that said application be referred for hearing to the 18th day of January, A. D. 1864, at the Probate Office in Johnson, and that notice thereof be given by publication in the Lamoille Newdealer, printed at Hyde Park, three weeks successively, prior to the day set for said hearing.

MORE MEN!

FOR THE SEVENTEENTH REG'T.

Recruiting Office Still Open!

At Morrisville.

Men wishing to enlist and secure the heavy bounty now given to new recruits will find it more pleasant to join a new regiment, not yet organized. They can thus enter the service where they can have a chance to be promoted. They also have a voice in the organization of the company and regiment, and choose their own officers. They all go out together, and leave the service together, and in many other ways find it more pleasant than to enter an old regiment.

FRANK KENFIELD, Recruiting Officer.

Morrisville, Dec. 21, 1863.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1864.

THE WORLD: An Independent Democratic Daily, Semi-Weekly and Weekly Newspaper.

UNION OF THE WORLD AND ARGENT.

THE WORLD, to which the New York WEEKLY ARGENT has been united, has to-day five times the aggregate circulation of any Democratic or conservative newspaper. It addresses weekly alone more than 100,000 subscribers and constant purchasers, and reaches at least half a million readers. With the steady increase in circulation which it now enjoys, these numbers will be doubled by the 1st of January, 1864. Nothing less than this should satisfy those who believe that the only hope of restoring the Union and the authority of the Constitution over a now distracted and divided country, lies in wresting power from the hands of those whose fanaticism has helped to provoke, invite, and prolong the war; and that to accomplish this end, no means so effective as the diffusion, through able and enterprising newspapers, of sound political knowledge among the working men, the thinking men, and the voting men of the North.

Enterprising, independent, and liberal will be liberal to extend to make the World the best newspaper in America. Its news from every part of the world will be early and authentic. Wherever the telegraph extends, or railroads run, or steamboats ply, it will gather the latest intelligence. It has a staff of accomplished correspondents with all the facilities of public telegraph and writing machines, and the latest news from the various seats of war. It has correspondents and reporters in every political and commercial centre in America and Europe, whose letters and dispatches will leave nothing worthy of note unknown to its readers.

Special exertions will be used to make its reports of the Crops, of the Cattle, Produce, and Money Markets, comprehensive and accurate. Realizing that the bone and sinew of the country are to be found upon its farms and workshops, THE WORLD will gather from every quarter information and news concerning Agriculture and Manufactures, and will endeavor to make it as usefully and regularly valuable to the Farmers and Mechanics of the country.

The war in which the nation is engaged against armed and infuriated Rebels, and the radical policy of the administration which prolongs it, have conspired to bring together upon one platform all the energies of our friends and enemies, and of all classes of whatever former name and creed. Many of those who, within the limits of the Constitution, fought the battles of the ballot box under the leadership of those patriotic statesmen of other and better days, Henry Clay and Daniel Webster, together with the masses whose principles were those of such patriots as Andrew Jackson and William L. Marcy, Silas Wright and S. A. Douglas, now stand shoulder to shoulder upon the same platform and under the same banner. The platform is a plain one. It is to restore the Union, maintain the Constitution, and enforce the Laws. Whatever makes for this end, the exercise of force or the policy of conciliation, will be supported; whatever makes against it, THE WORLD will oppose.

It will oppose every enemy to the UNION, whether armed in rebellion at the South or insidiously planting the seeds of disunion and essential disloyalty at the North.

It will oppose every violation of the CONSTITUTION, which is the only bond and bond of Union, and our only authority for exhorting or compelling the allegiance of the South.

It will oppose every intraction of the LAW in high places or in low, by reckless mis-guided partisans, or by the administration which has been their example.

It will earnestly exercise the Freedom of the Press; it will constantly uphold and defend Freedom of Speech and Freedom of the Ballot.

To the lawless acts of the administration, its arbitrary and unjust arrests and expatriations, its denial of the writ of habeas corpus, its illegal proceedings, its usurpation of State and Federal laws, and its subversion of the safeguards of civil and personal liberty, it will constantly oppose the letter and the spirit of our supreme law and the advocacy of sound doctrine, until American freemen shall be roused to the recovery of their rights, their liberties, their laws, and their limited and well-earned government, by the restoration of the Union.

Profoundly impressed with the value to contribute all that it may to the great work of this generation—namely, to restore our national unity, and to place the United States again foremost among the nations of the earth, and first in the peace, prosperity, and happiness of its people, THE WORLD seeks from those who desire such things their sympathy and support, above all, the favor of Him who crowns every good work.

The New York Tribune,

FIRST issued April 10th, 1841, has to-day a large and aggressive circulation than any other newspaper published in America, or (we believe) in the world. Compelled a year since to increase the price of its several issues, or submit to the pecuniary ruin of its proprietors from the very magnitude of its circulation, it has probably since parted with some patrons to whom its remarkable cheapness was a controlling recommendation; but others have taken their places, and it has now more than Two Hundred Thousand subscribers and regular purchasers—an excess of at least Fifty Thousand over those of any rival. And this unprecedented currency has been achieved by very liberal expenditures in procuring early and authentic intelligence, by the fearless expression of convictions, by the free employment of ability and enterprise, and by unshrinking fidelity to the dictates of Justice, Humanity, and Freedom.

By very large outlays for early and authentic advices by telegraph and otherwise from its correspondents with the various armies of the Union, and by special efforts to furnish such information respecting Markets, Crops, new discoveries, or improvements in Agriculture, &c., as must especially interest farmers, we have assiduously labored to make a journal calculated to meet the wants and subserve the interests of the Proving Classes. That end we have at least measurably attained; for no other paper exists in America or Europe which is habitually read by nearly so many farmers and their families as THE TRIBUNE to-day. We shall labor to increase both the number and the satisfaction of this, by far the most numerous class of its patrons.

During the existence of the Whig party, this paper supported that party, though sympathizing with the more liberal and constitutional elements of it; and when the Whig party dissolved or transformed old organizations through the spontaneous uprising of the people of the Free States against the repudiation of the Missouri Restriction, THE TRIBUNE heartily participated in that movement, and was known as the Republican. When the long smoldering conspiracy to divide and destroy our country or reduce it entire to complete abasement to the slave power culminated in overt treason and rebellion, it naturally, necessarily regarded resistance to this conspiracy as paramount to all other considerations, and devoted all its energies and efforts to the maintenance of our Union. In every great controversy which has divided our country, it has been found on that side which naturally commands the sympathy and support of the large majority of school-houses and the decided minority of grog-shops, and so doubtless will be to the last.

Advently desiring and striving for the early and enduring adjustment of our National distractions, THE TRIBUNE leaves the time the nature and the conditions of that adjustment implicitly to those lawfully in authority, confiding in their wisdom and patriotism, anxious to aid them to the utmost in their arduous responsibilities. When to embarras their even by possibility. Firmly believing in the Apostolic rule—"First pure, then peaceable"—holding that the final and final extinction of Slavery is the true and only absolute cure for our National ills—that any expedient that stops short of this can have but a transient and illusory success—we yet do not propose to embarrass their even by possibility. Firmly believing in the Apostolic rule—"First pure, then peaceable"—holding that the final and final extinction of Slavery is the true and only absolute cure for our National ills—that any expedient that stops short of this can have but a transient and illusory success—we yet do not propose to embarrass their even by possibility.

Respectfully solicit the subscriptions and the active exertions of our friends, and of all whose views and convictions accord substantially with ours. NEW YORK, Sept. 10, 1863.
