A Timely Suggestion For Merchants.

The Moral is Advertise.

Patron of Mail Order Paper Says He Would Buy at Home if Merchants Would Tell Him What They Have.

The following letter was received by the editor of the Alexandria Citizen, published at Alexandria, Minn., the writer being a farmer reader of that paper: "If the mail order house get $1,000 out of this county each month that belongs to the home merchants, as you say they do, the fault is with the merchants themselves. The mail order house advertises, and gives us prices on everything they offer for sale. They tell us what they have and what they want for it. Of course we get soaked one in awhile, and if we do we can try some other house. Most of the home merchants who advertise at all don't quote price. They neglect to tell us what we want to know, the price, and the goods they have. Of course we can go to the store and ask the price of this article and that, but you know how it is one doesn't know so well exactly what he wants to buy when he gets in a store. And here is where the mail order houses make the hit. They send us their advertising matter into our homes, and we read it when we haven't anything else to do, and every member of the family who reads their stuff usually finds something that he or some other member of the family wants, and many orders are made up and sent out at just such times.

"Right here is where the home merchant falls down. If he talked up his business to us in our homes the same as the mail order houses do, the people would be in to see him the next time they came to town, and in many cases extra trips would be made to get the things at once that we didn't know we wanted, until they were brought to our attention.

The home merchant can save the expense of getting out a catalogue. We people read the home papers move carefully than we do the catalogue, and read them every week, and if the merchants want to talk in the papers he must put his ad. in so we know what he means. The home merchants likely, nine times out of ten, sell his goods as the mail order house, and I believe on many things they are much cheaper, but how are we to know it if he doesn't tell us about it. A merchant must not think that even his best customers know his goods so well that they can tell what he has without being told.

It is none of my business how the home merchant runs his business, but I don't like to see these roasts in the papers all the time about us fellows who get a little stuff shipped once in awhile and never anything said on the other side. There are always two sides to a question, and I have given you mine. If it is worth anything to you, you can take it.

Life is so short that it were much better that we give bread instead of a stone. "Down over the isthmus into the sea" is a brief journey and the voyage is long on the ocean of eternity. What will it matter, friend, that you did not resent when a scorpion was when you desired an egg in that long voyage will you and I be regretting our failure to return evil for evil? Will we be lamenting our failures to take an eye for an eye or a tooth for a tooth? I grow not. But in that voyage if we can stand on the bow of the vessel and have the wings of a child's love fan our cheeks or the prayer of an oppressed one gently waft us on our way, it will be sweeter than all the mighty shafts ever forged in the furnace of revenge and malice, more powerful than all the hurricanes of wrath and envy since time began.—Ex.

A Dangerous Mistake.

Jasper Mothers Should Not Neglect Kidney Weakness in Children.

Most children have weak kidneys. The earliest warning is bed-wetting. Later comes headache, backache, jaundice.

"It is a mistake to neglect this trouble. To blame the child for its own distress. Seek to cure the kidneys—Doan's Kidney pills cure sick kidneys. Jasper parents recommend them."

Mrs. William Tabor, living in Jasper, Ind., says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills in our family and can recommend them for strengthening the kidneys and for removing urinary difficulty. For children afflicted with non-retention of the kidney secretions at night, they cannot be surpassed. I had a child that caused me no end of worry on this account. I hoped he would grow out of it but he did not, and I feared it would result in some organic trouble, but nothing I could get did the least good. I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and I got them at Flick & Pfau's drug store. They quickly checked the trouble and I think the child is permanently cured."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
