Benzine is being extracted from coal by a new electrical process invented by a Swede.

Two French scientists claim that a raw food diet increases the white blood corpuscles, which play an important part in the fight against disease bacteria.

Photographs of the planet Mars taken through color screens by an eminent Russian astronomer showed that its "canals" were filled with some substance sea green in color.

Train and Track.

The French railway in Indo-China uses metal sleepers entirely.

For handling freight cars at Cleveland a large railroad has installed electric locomotives which run on separate tracks and push the cars with side arms.

An English railroad has built a machine operated by compressed air that loads two cars at once with steel rails or unloads them and places the rails ready for laying at a rate of four a minute.

The Royal Box.

King Louis of Bavaria claims lineal descent from the Stuarts.
Prince Henry, inspector general of the German fleet, is the only brother of Emperor William.

The king of the Belgians, though comparatively a young man—he is only thirty-nine years of age—is one of the most versatile monarchs in Europe. He has taken his degree as an electrical engineer and railroad engineer, and himself drew up the plans for a new railway between Antwerp and Brussels, superintending the work himself.

According to one of the war aviators, they have to fly high in order to be safe. Yes, and then they are not disgustingly safe.

For an implement definitely relegated to the military scrap heap by the experts the bayonet is doing an amazing amount of work during these days of blood and horror.

In reckoning the cost of the war the figure "million" has been found pitifully inadequate. It's necessary to talk in billions.

Next to the sweetness of having a friend whom you can trust is the convenience of having a friend who will trust you occasionally.

Mark Hambourg, the famous Russian pianist, has sued the London Mail for libel for calling him a German. War makes strange lawsuits.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Mrs. Helen Speer of New York makes a business of installing children's playrooms in large hotels.

Miss Margaret J. Tukey, principal of the Bedford College For Women in London, is an M. A. of Dublin university.

Mrs. John D. Rockefeller is averse to publicity and is the least known of all the wives of world famous men. She was Laura Celestia Spellman, and she is now seventy-five years of age.

Miss Annette Adams of San Francisco, who has been appointed assistant United States attorney in that city, was before her appointment a practicing attorney. She is a graduate of the State Normal school of California, of the State university and other institutions.

Dr. Katharine B. Davis, commissioner of corrections of New York city, began her career of usefulness as a club-woman and was a delegate from the Literary club of Dunkirk, N. Y., to the first biennial of the General Federation of Women's Clubs when it met in New York city twenty-two years ago.

Forest Notes.

Six thousand bushels of lodgepole pine seed are being collected this fall on the Arapahoe national forest, Colorado, for use in reforestation work next spring.

Officers of the Okanogan national forest, in the state of Washington, are installing powerful signal lanterns for night use in reporting forest fires from lookout peaks.

The Philippine bureau of forestry has recently invited bids for the cutting of nearly 300,000 acres of choice timberland on the public forests on the island of Luzon.

Flippant Flings.

In order to escape being accused of lack of neutrality nowadays one must confine one's remarks to the mean annual rainfall.—Chicago News.

Judging from the effect, those blue and white papers issued by the foreign chancelleries must have contained a sedition powder.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Housewives are blamed for the high cost of sugar, says an eastern paper. It's gradually getting around to the old man, where the blame for everything eventually lands.—Detroit Free Press.

SHORT AND SHARP.

Europe's race war puts all others to shame.

The world is a cage in which humanity is tamed.

There are not many waves of success on a sea of trouble.

No man is so illiterate that he cannot teach others something.

A truthful statement never needs to be backed up by a lot of lies.

Some of the fellows who believe only half of what they hear always believe the wrong half.

The "buy a bale of cotton" campaign has extended to Europe, but the demand is for gun cotton.

With a few more years of war in Mexico the parceling out of the land won't find enough peons left to go round.

Spain's offer to care for the wounded of other nations indicates she, at least, has no intention of departing from neutrality.

It will be a long time before the rulers of some nations of Europe return to the custom of greeting their neighbor kings with kisses on each cheek.

Thrifty Don'ts.

Don't let false pride cost you money. There is no happiness in it.

Don't forget that peace of mind is better than things you can't afford.

Don't feel too sure you are getting the most possible out of your expenditures. Learn what "hard pan" really is.

Don't forget spendthrifts need to be capitalists. One can be a spendthrift with a dollar as well as with large sums.—Pittsburgh Press.

Town Topics.

Baltimore has the celebration habit and is constantly improving with practice.—Baltimore American.

If Chicago's Union station had stood where Rheims cathedral stood not so many persons would lament the consequences.—Chicago News.

Boston's new $4,500,000 tunnel is only a little one, a mile and a half long, but it none the less adds to the Hub's prestige as subway constructor.—New York World.

Four Wars.

The Crimean war lasted 734 days and cost 485,000 lives and $1,525,000,000.

The Boer war of 1899-1900 lasted 362 days and cost 90,898 lives and $1,000,000,000.

The Franco-German war, 1870-1, lasted 405 days and cost 290,000 lives and $1,590,000,000.

The Russo-Japanese war, 1904-5, lasted 576 days and cost 225,000 lives and $2,250,000,000.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Miss Nellie P. Carter of Boston pays $42,596 as her tax on personal property worth $2,433,500.

Dr. Lillian Herald South, head of the Kentucky state bacteriological laboratory at Bowling Green, is said to be the only woman to hold the important position of state bacteriologist.

Mrs. Amy D. Winship, who, at the age of eighty-three, completed a four years' course at the University of Wisconsin last June, says that she finds in study the best means of keeping young, and she has accordingly planned a three years' course in graduates work at various universities.

Mlle. De Saligny, member of one of the foremost families in France, found two wounded soldiers in the ruins during the bombardment of Senlis. She got a donkey and cart, hoisted the wounded men into it unaided and, despite bursting shells, marched thirty miles beside the donkey to the nearest ambulance.

State Lines.

During the past fiscal year, July 1, 1913, to June 30, 1914, 57,762 acres of land in the national forests in California were listed to 510 applicants under the forest homestead laws.

Texas, the largest of all the states in area and fifth in the number of inhabitants, ranks nineteenth in the value of its mineral production, according to the United States geological survey. In 1911 it ranked twenty-third.

Illinois was third among the states of the Union in 1913 in the value of its mineral production. The state owes its prominence as a mining state chiefly to its importance as a producer of coal and petroleum and to the development of its clay working industries.

PITH AND POINT.

Nothing succeeds like being prepared for success.

Diplomacy is the art of concealing our dialikes.

Confession of weakness is the beginning of strength.

To a large part of the populace it is a long time between baseball seasons.

The impregnable fort, like the largest ocean steamer, now has to be started all over again.

Unless you are nervous you can't realize how much noise there is in the so called busy world.

Do not sit forever waiting for your ship to come in. Better dig a few clams along the shore.

Reports from Europe to the effect that business is going on as usual must refer to the junk business.

There are not going to be any rivers of doubt on the map of Europe after the great powers get through with it.

What business needs to go just now is to make more things in the United States to bear the label "Made in the U. S. A."

Europe is gradually acquiring a brand new stock of battlefields for display purposes.

Many a man is so public spirited that he tries to mind everybody's business but his own.

The foundries in the European monarchies are busy making decorations as well as big guns.

Victory is sure to perch on the banner of the chap who never lets doubt creep into his heart.

Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise on former geographical boundaries of European countries.

BRIGHT BRIEFS.

War is civilization's severest tax on mothers.

Submarine stock is not going down at present.

At the shortest the war will have been too long.

Maybe that brotherhood of man idea is nearer than we think.

Yesterday was a fact, today a reality, but tomorrow is visionary.

Among the noises that one does not hear these days is the stock ticker.
