

Col. Connell's Brigade. The Brigade commanded by Col. Connell at the battle of Chickamauga has in it three Ohio Regiments, the 17th, 31st, and 38th, neither of which cast a single vote for Vallandigham. Lot it be recorded.

Vote of the Fairfield Boys. The gallant soldiers from Fairfield give Vallandigham little comfort. We have returns from three Regiments containing Fairfield companies in the Army of the Cumberland, viz: the 1st, 17th, and 30th. The following is the vote:

Table with 2 columns: Regiment Name and Vote. Includes 1st Regiment, 17th Regiment, and 30th Regiment.

By a Proclamation from Gov. Tod published elsewhere, it will be seen that Ohio has furnished her quota of troops under the first call of 1863, and that therefore, the first draft ordered will not take place.

A draft however, will commence on the 5th of January, 1864, unless Ohio's quota, about thirty-two thousand, of the 300,000 lately called for by the President, should be raised by voluntary enlistments.

It is thought that with proper effort the number may be raised without a draft. The government offers to each new recruit a bounty of $302, $27 of which, and one month's pay, will be paid at the time of mustering in; $40 two months after muster, and the remainder in installments of $40 at the end of every six months.

The $300 exemption clause will probably be repealed when Congress meets, and the sum required be fixed at $600 or perhaps $1,500. It is to the interest of those who cannot go and are unable to pay a large exemption sum, to assist in raising the quota by volunteering.

With such liberal pecuniary inducements, the number required should be raised without a draft.

THE BATTLE OF THE WORLD--THE CALL FOR MORE MEN.

An English statesman said that the Americans in this struggle were fighting the battle of the world. This will be found true when we consider the principles and institutions involved. Whatever may be the issue of the contest, it will affect the people of the world, either for good or evil, for centuries to come.

These Democrats, who are honest, say they do not wish to oppose the will of the people, so fairly and decidedly expressed. We hear of other Democrats who since the election compliment Brough, and acknowledge that he is an honest man, and was one of the best State Auditors and financiers in Ohio.

They Support their Friends. Through the kindness of D. B. Tiffany, Esq., Prison Postmaster at Camp Chase, we are enabled to place before our readers the following official document, showing the vote for Governor at the election held in Prison No. 3 on last Tuesday.

Table with 2 columns: Name and Vote. Lists names like Butler, Chase, Lincoln, Jno. Brown, Burns, Rosecrans, Jno. Brough, Gilmore, Giddings.

ly and the largest liberty--these blessings, which it confers upon the humblest citizen in the State, it is the mission of the American Government to preserve and extend to the human race, to the people of the world.

These things have been often said before, and perhaps need not be said again. The people need no other nor higher reasons for sustaining the Government than patriotism and self protection. Those who love their country and do not wish to see it divided, humbled, and finally destroyed; those who do not wish to see Ohio a border State exposed to raids and the first desolation of war; those who do not wish to see the State overrun with rebels and their property destroyed, will see the duty and the necessity of responding to the late call of the President for volunteers.

CHANGES.

We hear of Democrats who before the election were opposed to the war and who voted for Vallandigham, but who now declare themselves in favor of prosecuting the war until the rebellion is suppressed.

They Support their Friends. Through the kindness of D. B. Tiffany, Esq., Prison Postmaster at Camp Chase, we are enabled to place before our readers the following official document, showing the vote for Governor at the election held in Prison No. 3 on last Tuesday.

Table with 2 columns: Name and Vote. Lists names like Butler, Chase, Lincoln, Jno. Brown, Burns, Rosecrans, Jno. Brough, Gilmore, Giddings.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The news which we publish this morning in our special dispatches from Chattanooga is of great importance, the event reported being the first decided step toward uniting our armies in that quarter and compelling the rebels to retire from their position in the immediate front of our position.

These things have been often said before, and perhaps need not be said again. The people need no other nor higher reasons for sustaining the Government than patriotism and self protection. Those who love their country and do not wish to see it divided, humbled, and finally destroyed; those who do not wish to see Ohio a border State exposed to raids and the first desolation of war; those who do not wish to see the State overrun with rebels and their property destroyed, will see the duty and the necessity of responding to the late call of the President for volunteers.

NEWS FROM CHATTAHOOGA.

Brilliant Exploit of Colonel Stanley--A bridge built in the face of the enemy's fire--The Rebels Flanked--Their Evacuation of Lookout Mountain made Necessary.

NEWS FROM CHATTAHOOGA.

Another account of the exploit. Yesterday, Gen. Mazon, with 2,000 men of General Palmer's Division, attacked the enemy upon Lookout Mountain, and after a sharp contest, drove them from their position. It seems probable that communication between Bridgeport and Chattanooga will be opened along the Tennessee.

Foreign Obituary.

Foreign dispatches announce the death of Richard Whately, D.D., LL.D., Archbishop of Dublin, probably the most eminent and able of the modern prelates of the English Church. He was born in London 1787, and was educated at Oxford. In 1831 he was consecrated Archbishop of Dublin and Bishop of Galadagh, and since 1846 he has held the bishopric of Kildare.

"PEACE" ON THE CONFEDERATE BASIS.

The Richmond Enquirer of the 16th inst., contains the following editorial, entitled "Peace," which must profoundly interest alike the friends and enemies of our country:

Save on our own terms we can accept no peace whatever, and must fight until doomsday rather than yield an iota of them, and our terms are: Recognition by the enemy of the independence of the Confederate States.

These provisions, we apprehend, comprise the minimum of what we must require before we lay down our arms. That is to say, the North must yield all--we, nothing. The whole pretension of that country to prevent, by force, the separation of the States, must be abandoned, which will be equivalent to an avowal that our enemies were wrong from the first, and of course, as they waged a causeless and wicked war against us, they ought in strict justice, to be required, according to the usage in such cases, to reimburse to us the whole of our expenses and losses in the course of the war.

THE DEAD ON THE GETTYSBURG BATTLEFIELD.

The arrangements are nearly completed for the removal of the remains of the Union soldiers scattered over the Gettysburg battlefield to the burial ground, which is being prepared by the several States interested, for their reception and proper burial.

THE DEAD ON THE GETTYSBURG BATTLEFIELD.

The arrangements are nearly completed for the removal of the remains of the Union soldiers scattered over the Gettysburg battlefield to the burial ground, which is being prepared by the several States interested, for their reception and proper burial.

THE DEAD ON THE GETTYSBURG BATTLEFIELD.

The arrangements are nearly completed for the removal of the remains of the Union soldiers scattered over the Gettysburg battlefield to the burial ground, which is being prepared by the several States interested, for their reception and proper burial.

Vote in the Army of the Cumberland.

The following vote of Ohio Regiments and Batteries in the Army of the Cumberland, is from the correspondence of the Cincinnati Commercial:

Table with 2 columns: Regiment Name and Vote. Lists regiments from 1st to 125th.

BATTERIES.

Table with 2 columns: Battery Name and Vote. Lists batteries from 20th to 2d.

I have been more fortunate, than I anticipated, and am now enabled to subjoin the vote of ten Ohio regiments, which, if I have not been misinformed, may be regarded as official.

REGIMENTS.

Table with 2 columns: Regiment Name and Vote. Lists regiments from 27th to 51st.

THE DEAD ON THE GETTYSBURG BATTLEFIELD.

The arrangements are nearly completed for the removal of the remains of the Union soldiers scattered over the Gettysburg battlefield to the burial ground, which is being prepared by the several States interested, for their reception and proper burial.

THE DEAD ON THE GETTYSBURG BATTLEFIELD.

The arrangements are nearly completed for the removal of the remains of the Union soldiers scattered over the Gettysburg battlefield to the burial ground, which is being prepared by the several States interested, for their reception and proper burial.

A Gallant Little Fight by General Sherman.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial gives the following account of the Collierville fight, in which our distinguished General Sherman, again displayed his splendid-fighting qualities:

General Sherman had rather a narrow escape in going to Corinth the other day. He started upon a special train, with his own regiment, the 13th Regulars, as scouts, on Sunday last. Arriving at Collierville, some twenty miles from here, he found the road cut and a force of at least 2,000 men, (some say 4,000,) with several pieces of artillery investing the place. Just before his arrival, an unconditional surrender had been demanded and refused. General Sherman immediately threw himself and his escort into a little earth-work, where Colonel Anthony, with the 66th Indiana, was. The entire force was about 600 men, and without artillery. General Sherman assumed command and fought with the same energy and intrepidity that has marked his conduct on great battlefields, for nearly five hours, repeatedly repulsing four times the number of his own men.

MOVEMENTS OF GENERAL ROSECRANS.

General Rosecrans, accompanied by his staff, arrived here last night at ten, and took up his quarters in the Galt House. Shortly after his arrival he was surrounded by the citizens of Louisville, and in response, made a brief speech, thanking them for their attention and welcome.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF OHIO.

In cheerful compliance with the request of the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the State of Ohio, manifested by Resolution of the 14th of April, A. D. 1863, and in harmony with the PROCLAMATION of the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, I, DAVID TOD, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF OHIO, do hereby appoint the LAST THURSDAY (26th) of NOVEMBER as a day of THANKSGIVING and PRAISE to our HEAVENLY FATHER for his continued mercies and manifold blessings.

MAJORITIES.

Table with 2 columns: District Name and Majority. Lists districts from 1st to 19th.

THE DEAD ON THE GETTYSBURG BATTLEFIELD.

The arrangements are nearly completed for the removal of the remains of the Union soldiers scattered over the Gettysburg battlefield to the burial ground, which is being prepared by the several States interested, for their reception and proper burial.

MOVEMENTS OF GENERAL ROSECRANS.

General Rosecrans, accompanied by his staff, arrived here last night at ten, and took up his quarters in the Galt House. Shortly after his arrival he was surrounded by the citizens of Louisville, and in response, made a brief speech, thanking them for their attention and welcome.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF OHIO.

In cheerful compliance with the request of the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the State of Ohio, manifested by Resolution of the 14th of April, A. D. 1863, and in harmony with the PROCLAMATION of the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, I, DAVID TOD, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF OHIO, do hereby appoint the LAST THURSDAY (26th) of NOVEMBER as a day of THANKSGIVING and PRAISE to our HEAVENLY FATHER for his continued mercies and manifold blessings.

MAJORITIES.

Table with 2 columns: District Name and Majority. Lists districts from 1st to 19th.

THE DEAD ON THE GETTYSBURG BATTLEFIELD.

The arrangements are nearly completed for the removal of the remains of the Union soldiers scattered over the Gettysburg battlefield to the burial ground, which is being prepared by the several States interested, for their reception and proper burial.

THE DEAD ON THE GETTYSBURG BATTLEFIELD.

The arrangements are nearly completed for the removal of the remains of the Union soldiers scattered over the Gettysburg battlefield to the burial ground, which is being prepared by the several States interested, for their reception and proper burial.