JOHN McDONALD AND HIS BOOK.

A Remarkable Literary Production.

The demand for Gen. John McDonald's History of the Great Whiskey Ring was so enormous, and so far exceeded the expectations of both author and publishers, that a new, enlarged and illustrated edition has been prepared, containing fifty pages of new matter, giving a history of McDonald's remarkable experiences while serving his term in the Missouri Penitentiary. His revelations in regard to the treatment of convicts are fully as startling as those about the Whiskey Ring, and are creating a profound sensation. The publisher, W. S. Bryan, of St. Louis, informs us that the demand for the book is unprecedented in the history of American book-selling; and we advise agents who desire an opportunity to make money readily to lose no time in securing agencies for this work, as it will be sold by subscription. The metropolitan newspapers have of late contained copious extracts from the book, and there is a feverish desire on the part of the public to see and read the complete work. See advertisement elsewhere.

Beautiful Christmas Gifts for All.

The St. Louis Illustrated Hornet is the first Western publication to secure a substantial popular reception. It is beautifully printed in six or seven colors and is a perfect model of artistic perfection. It has sixteen pages, and is bristling with literary and humorous reading matter suited to the refined family circle and the business house. Within the last two months its circulation has increased 2000, and the publisher now makes a powerful bid for 2,000 more. The St. Louis edition contains the announcement that all persons who subscribe for the Hornet between this date and Dec. 24, 1880, will not only get the paper, but a beautiful present, to be selected from the following articles:

- Elegant Perfumes, French Plate Hand Mirrors, cases of Fancy Toilet Soap; Elegant Chromes, such as King William's Castle, Eve on the Lake Shore, Moonlight on the Nile, Valley of Lake Sheeman, Passau on the Danube, Autumn in the Alleghenies, Beatrice, Near the Lighthouse, Vestal Virgo; Musical Instruments, such as German Accordeons, Volins, Bell Harmonicas, Concert Harmonicas, Flutes, Piccolos, Tambourines, Banjos, Triangles, Ebony Bones, Dums Jarre Toy Trumpets, a fine large Toy Flute; Toy Parrot; Toy Boat; Miscellaneous Articles, such as Photograph Albums, Music Binders, Russia Leather Pocket Books, Clear Cases, genuine Mercurium Pipes, Hickory Cane with Ivory Knots, a fine Siciliano on a justifiable Stand, Fancy Chairs, Work Boxes, Russ' Clocks, Card Receivers, Wax Dolls, Doll Buggies, Wagons for Boys, Parlor Lamps, Poetical Works, Jurymen Books, Baby Ulsters, Worst-of-Caps and Hoods, Bird Cages, and various other articles.

All these are to be bought from the following well-known St. Louis Jewels and Fine Goods firms: E. Jaccard & Co., E. C. Simmons & Co., St. Bernard Store, Mermod, Jaccard & Co., and Balmer & Weber—a guarantee of their value, and the fact that the gift will be done up in a neat package immediately on receipt of the yearly subscription price, $4, and sent by mail or express at the sender's expense. Send your order, with registered letter, or post-office order, at the Hornet's risk. Address: THE HORNET, 706 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo.

In review the prospectus for 1881, the Globe-Democrat can make no promise for the future that is not reasonably sure of fulfillment, judging from its history of the past. In the Presidential contest just closed it was recognized as the leading champion of the Republican cause in the West, advocating the men and the principles of the great party of freedom and nationality, and always the exponent of its advanced thought. We shall continue this course unflinchingly in the future, so long as the Republican party remains true to the mission on which it set forth twenty years ago.

The election of James A. Garfield and Chester A. Arthur as President and Vice-President of the United States, by an unquestioned majority of the electoral votes, secures peace and prosperity to the country for four years. We believe the new Administration will soon gain and steadily hold the confidence, not only of the Republican party, but of the nation, by its wisdom and integrity as well as its loyalty to the power. The Globe-Democrat firmly hopes to be able to give to President Garfield a cordial and earnest support. It believes that he will do the right as he sees it and that he will bring to the discharge of his official duties a clear head, an honest heart and a determination to serve his country to the best of his ability. Certain it is that no man ever entered the White House better fitted than he by nature, education and experience to furnish all we expect from a good President.

The Republican party is now more thoroughly united and harmonious than it has been in many years. There are no rival wings to it and no opposing factions in it. The campaign that has just closed welded it together in a solid mass against the common foe, and there are now no signs of possible division. We believe this unity and harmony will continue throughout Gen. Garfield's Administration, and will result in a long-continued reign of power to it. The Democratic party is broken and demoralized—defeated under the best candidate it has had in twenty years—and not likely again to present the unbroken front which the Republican party had to meet on the 23 of November, 1880.

While national rather than local in its conduct and purpose, the Globe-Democrat will devote special attention to the subject of immigration, doing its best to invite the thrifty farmers and mechanics of the East and of Europe to settle on the fertile lands of the Southwest and especially of the State of Missouri. This subject has engaged our attention in the past and now that there are four years ahead of us free from the turmoil and excitement of a national political contest, we shall be enabled to give it the additional thought and energy. There is room in the territory tributary to the great City of St. Louis for millions of new inhabitants, and there is land enough now unutilized to furnish food and cultivated to its capacity. To invite those in pursuit of homes in the West to the far beyond of being shown on this subject will be one of the special and distinctive features of the Globe-Democrat.

No newspaper East or West is better equipped than the Globe-Democrat for the collection and publication of news from all parts of the world. Our list of special correspondents covers all the news centres in this country and in Europe, and they are all instructed to spare no pains in procuring the latest and most reliable information by transmitting it promptly by telegraph. Our special telegraph service has been greatly increased and improved in the West, and it is our intention to continue in this direction, availing ourselves of every opportunity to improve this journal as an impartial record of current events the world over. Our Weekly reader will get the full benefit of this service, as selections from the most important of our dispatches sent to the Daily Globe-Democrat have always been reprinted in our weekly issue. No journal in the West has so much attention to fullness and accuracy in giving a faithful reflex of the market day to day and from time to time, and our department we shall also keep up with the growing demands of St. Louis and the West in all that is to be expected from a newspaper publisher in the commercial metropolis of the Mississippi Valley.

We shall aim, in addition to a weekly issue of current events, to present our readers a newspaper for the Farm, the Family and the Fireside. Special attention will be given to these several departments, which have been conspicuous features of the Globe-Democrat in the past.

FINE FARM FOR SALE!—Our old and respected friend, Dr. M. Thomas, offers for sale his farm, containing 453 acres of choice land situated in Bellevue Valley, Iron county, Mo., one-half mile south of the town of Bellevue, five miles west of Pilot Knob, and six miles south of Caledonia. 250 acres in cultivation—large portion for years. Good house, barn, and stables; also, three good tenement houses on other portions of the farm, for employees; fine yard and stables; several nice orchards of fine fruit; and several fine springs of never-falling, pure water. He will also sell all his stock, consisting of horses, mules, cat and dogs. Also, farming implements, if desired. The farm is in good repair, and a large portion in fine grass. Terms reasonable. Apply to the editor of this paper.
