

IRONTON, MO., THURSDAY, FEB. 10, 1881.

Massachusetts thinks of substituting morphine for the gallows. We can't be too tender with a brute who chops up a family to rob the house of 25 cents.

The Maiden Clipper is the late Kenet Advance, removed, and improved very much. Robt. H. Jones is editor, and Stokes proprietor and publisher. The paper is neat, newsworthy and bright, and we wish it success.

A bill has been introduced into the Legislature providing that every person shall list his debts as well as his property, that the total former shall be subtracted from the value of the latter, and tax be paid only on the remainder. We would suggest, to even the matter to its proper level, that a pension be allowed all those whose debts exceed the value of their property, in proportion to the excess. There's no use making two bites of a cherry.

We observe that at least one of our Southeast contemporaries indulges in mut-slings at one of our Representatives in Congress. Well, we wouldn't give a cuss for a man without enemies. Puppies have barked at the heels of the best and greatest men that ever lived, and no doubt even G. W. himself was in his time annoyed by hungry mosquitoes. And there are so few great men and so many puppies and mosquitoes in the world!

We have heretofore neglected to make mention that Bro. Fisher had purchased the Farmington Times outfit and good-will, and taken to himself the sole management and ownership of the concern. We now beg leave to congratulate him and the people of our sister county upon the accomplishment of an event fraught with great good to all the parties concerned. Bro. Fisher makes an excellent paper of the Times, and there is a community of interest between him and its readers which could never exist where one of the parties was non-resident. May his paper ever increase in circulation and influence.

Samuel J. Tilden, always a capital expounder of Democratic doctrine, in a recent letter to an Eastern club named in honor of Thomas Jefferson, thus formulates the chief political issue of the day:

At a time when powerful tendencies are at work to subvert the original character of our Government—to break down the limitations of power established by the Constitution, to centralize the action and influence of official authorities, to create a governing class, using the machinery of government as a corrupt balance of power in elections, and then shaping legislation and administration interests of the few against the many—the precepts and example of such men as Mr. Jefferson cannot be too often invoked.

Whatever may be said of Mr. Tilden physically his mental health is certainly all that could be expected.

The Globe-Democrat says the Legislature of Minnesota is halting between two opinions on the question of encouragement to immigration: Shall it make an appropriation to an immigration committee and let its starving constituents shift for themselves, or vice versa? "It does not like to make both appropriations, as it seems rather inconsistent to appropriate money to a state of starvation, and yet if it can make only one appropriation, a proper sense of pride calls on it to make the customary appeal for immigrants. If one may judge by the stories of distress and actual starvation, and by the appeals to the Legislature, it would look as if Minnesota might properly allow immigrants to come in of their own volition." Here in Missouri no appropriations for starving communities are needed, and we are glad to note that a liberal amount will be given to induce outsiders to come here, buy our fertile lands, make homes for themselves, and grow rich.

Butler, of South Carolina, and Conkling, of New York, passed some "high words" last Monday, during a debate upon the late census. From all that we have seen, Butler gave the New York rooster as good as he sent, and doesn't propose to apologize for it, either. We are not surprised to learn that no duel will result. Mr. Conkling never fights although he acts as though he would where he can do so protected by the rules of the Senate. Everybody who was present agrees that Mr. Butler did not criticize Conkling's New York Academy of Music speech on the South Carolina census any too seriously. It would indeed be difficult to imagine a criticism so absurd a speech that could be so severe. Conkling's rejoinder therefore in which he spoke of Butler's speech as idle vaporing was entirely uncalled for. On the other hand everybody is delighted with Butler's allusion to Conkling's "swaggering insolence," for it is so perfectly descriptive of the New York Senator's whole demeanor.

PILOT KNOB, MO., Feb. 6th, 1881. MARRIED.—Mr. William Hyde and Miss Kate Joyce were married on the 1st inst. by the Rev. Father Wernert, of Arcadia. But having been around this wooden country so long the boys concluded to give him a send-off by getting up a nice party at Mr. St. Louis hotel. Mr. Ed. Turner gave your reporter the wink and informed him that there was fun ahead. Bidding my better-half good evening after informing her that my business was very urgent up town, I soon arrived at the hotel, and was soon persuaded to trot out my No. 13. I didn't get off very well the first set—on account of the size of my feet—as I frequently had to stop to apologize for being so awkward. I was not fortunate enough to get the names of all the ladies present, and can only furnish you a few of them: Mrs. Penard, Mrs. Wm. Hyde, Misses Weiner and sister, Kelly, Davis, Immer and sister, Rubadoux, Heleb, Brienstein, Breslin, Kenan and sister, Backoff, Mocy, Casto, Schmittner, Callaway, Scheibert, and others. All enjoyed the party well, and went home about two o'clock in the morning. It would have been a good thing for me if I had stayed out all night; for instead of receiving smiles for getting home so early, my first introduction was to a stick of stove-wood; and, after being thumped all over the house and yelling "nud!" until I was nearly gone up, we made a compromise—that was, I would not say anything about it in the Register.

Judge Dinger was in town yesterday looking after some insurance business. The Judge says it is all a mistake about his falling down and cracking the ice for fifty feet around.

Mr. Fritz Katho, of the Ironton mills, had the misfortune to lose his horse a few days ago.

Mr. Wm. St. Louis has just returned from St. Louis, bringing with him a new pool table and cloggins enough to keep the boys from getting dry.

Mr. Fred. Ebrecht has erected a large wood-shop in connection with his blacksmith shop. Our new job, of making a dead stand, and the lumber piles do not appear to increase in size since work was suspended last fall. We hope the company will soon resume work on the depot again.

The wheat crop of Bellevue is looking very badly, and will not turn out as large as last year.

I notice that Mr. John M. Moore and Messrs. Wiltworth, Clark & Co., of your city, have large stocks of good oil on hand and appear to be doing good business.

Are you suffering from indigestion? If so ask your druggist for a bottle of Sherman's Peppery Ash Bitters. Taken as directed it will cure you. These Bitters have now been before the public for a number of years, have been thoroughly tried and give entire satisfaction.

NOTICE!

We have added to our Store a Warehouse for Stoves, Tinware and Furniture; and we will at all times keep a full line of the most popular Stoves and a large stock of Tinware and Furniture which we will sell at lowest prices. MRS. LOPEZ.
